The Francis Travesty company, which played at the opera house Saturday and Sunday nights, was greeted with a crowded house on Saturday night, but those who attended were considerably disappointed, as the play was not up to the standard that was looked for, consequently there was not so large an attendance Sunday night. There were some parts of the show that were fairly good, but as whole it was a disappointment to the audience. The company gave as their excuse that they were tired out and had been seasick coming up from Frisco on the Elizabeth and were not able to do their best.

Big Oil Deal.

Report from Los Angeles says: Twenty million dollars is the figure the Standard Oil Co. is reported to have offered for the holdings of the California Oil fields limited, a British corporation which operates entirely in the Coalinga field. If the report be correct the prospective deal is greater by far than any of the kind ever made hitherto in the United States.

The rumor is persistent, but neither confirmation nor denial is obtainable from officials of the two great companies. None of the Standard's officials will talk of the reported deal and the Britishers have no representatives at Los Angeles.
