

"Boost" Bandon

The following letter, written by C. A. Warren, president of The Warren Publicity Co. of Portland was recently received at this office:

Dear Editor:—
After a pleasant journey and a lack in Portland, hard at work. We shall commence work on the Bandon booklet in a day or two. I feel that the appropriation that was made by your energetic business and citizens, while I was in Bandon, will be a great start toward bringing Bandon and her resources before all the homeseekers and investors in the United States and Canada.

Your city is blessed with thousands of countless resources a delightful climate, and an ideal and sanitary sight for the greatest and best resort town all the year around, of any place on the Coast. You have already the nucleus of a great manufacturing industry; You have the most scenic beach on the Coast. Your harbor is now ample to accommodate the shipping and can easily without much expense be made much greater.

Your loyal merchants and business men, and others who foresee the future destiny of your city, deserve much credit for the heroic way in which they assisted in the raising of the "Boost" fund. Let these same men with every confidence in your city and its future, be just as conscientious in the care and assistance given out to all newcomers, and I assure you your town will grow to be one of the foremost cities of the Pacific Coast. Encourage the farmer who comes to your city; hang on to his confidence and make him see what actually exists for him if he will stay and put his shoulder to the wheel. Assist the manufacturer all in your power to get the factory started and surely you will build a city. It is my judgement that you have perfect soil for the raising of all kinds of vegetables and fruit, without irrigation. You should do something to encourage settlers to clear the land and plant fruit farms. One good way to do this is to sell the outlying districts in small acreage, from two to ten acres. You must follow up the logger and saw-mill with the farms or your town will suffer.

You can raise the valuation of your city property by teaching the residents to beautify the home surroundings. Plant roses and flowers and plenty of them. You can have a beautiful city as well as a large one. Every resident should become aroused and do all his part. People build cities together with natural surroundings. All must work in harmony. Let every one be a booster, and at the same time prove all assertions by showing what they can do.

I am deeply grateful for the splendid assistance rendered me, by the committee representing your business interests; I am also appreciative of the personal help afforded me by those indirectly interested in and around Bandon. No mistake will be made by advertising your city in every way possible. Let everybody "Boost" for Bandon-by-the-sea. Help build the greater Bandon.

Yours Very Truly,
C. A. WARREN.

Fuel Plant Resumes Work

Washington, July 28th—The Fuel-Testing plant of the United States Geological Survey, at Denver, Colo., one of the factors in the conservation of the coal supply of the country, will resume operations the latter part of July. At this plant the government is endeavoring to obtain greater efficiency from the coals of the Rocky Mountain Fields by washing and cooking them. Many of the coals of the west contain such quantities of impurities—ash and sulphur—that they are not of much value for commercial use. It has been the Government's purpose to wash the impurities out of these coals so that they can be utilized. The success already obtained warrants a continuation of this work. During the last fiscal year, ninety tests of coal were made at the Denver plant, resulting in many of them being decidedly improved.

Of thirty-seven Western coals tested, at the Denver plant, all but three produced good coke though a number of them were considered as non-coking. The importance of this is seen when the immensity of the smelting business of the West is realized and the therefore enormous demand for good coke. Several of these coals without washing have failed to make coal fit for metallurgical purposes owing to the large amount of sulphur in them. Other coals would not even make steam without the washing process.

It is likely that the final results of these tests will add millions of dollars to the fuel values of the West. It has already been shown that a number of coals that in the past have not been mined because of their impurities, can now be profitably utilized. This will extend the life of the fuel supply and make possible vast industrial enterprises in the West that would not locate there had the government not taken this step.

The lack of knowledge of the nature of the coals of the west has been its chief handicap to commercial development. With the finest supply of bituminous and anthracite coal in the world located in the Eastern part of the country, it has been felt that the West, in some instances could not compete in manufacturing. The results shown by the Government have done much to dispel this idea and the West has been going forward at a rapid rate. Still further developments are expected upon the completion of the tests this year. The Denver plant is in charge of O. W. Belden, assisted by G. R. Delmator. A bulletin will soon be issued by the Geological Survey on the work already accomplished at this plant.

A Faithful Friend

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Nature has provided the stomach with certain natural fluids known as the digestive juices, and it is through these juices that the food we eat is acted upon in such a way as to produce the rich, red blood that flows through the veins of our body and thereby makes us strong, healthy and robust and it is the weakening of these digestive juices that destroys health. It is our own fault if we destroy our own health, and yet it is so easy for someone to put the stomach out of order. When you need to take something you know is reliable something like Kodol for dyspepsia and indigestion. Kodol is pleasant to take, its reliable and it is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by Bandon Drug Co.
