

What is Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peru-na when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peru-na is in reality what a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensary says of the principal ingredients of Peru-na.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensary says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes lining various organs of the human body.

Another ingredient of Peru-na, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensary as a tonic.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peru-na. The United States Dispensary says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peru-na as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

Up Against a Hard One.

The great deliver into the secrets of nature, who had accumulated a fortune and retired from active business in order to be able to give his whole time to study and experiment, was observed to be cogitating profoundly.

"What are you giving your mind to now?" inquired one of his laboratory assistants.

"I was merely wondering," he answered, "what becomes of all the corks."

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC.

The skin is an index to the quality of the blood. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, pimples, rashes, eruptions, etc., show that some unhealthy humor or acid impurity is discharging and corrupting the circulation, so that instead of supplying nourishment and strength to the fine, delicate tissues of the skin, it is continually pouring out its acid and unhealthy accumulations. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may relieve some of the itching and other discomfort caused by skin troubles, and for this reason should be used, but such treatment cannot reach the humor-laden blood, and therefore cannot cure. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only cure for skin diseases. S. S. S., a purely vegetable preparation, is the best and quickest remedy. It goes down into the circulation and neutralizes and removes the acids, impurities and humors, thoroughly purifies the circulation and permanently cures skin diseases of every kind. When S. S. S. has driven the humors and impurities from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood and the trouble cured, as the cause has been removed. ENGLAND CHILLY FOR "BEATS."

Plan for Jailing Those Who Refuse to Pay Debts Still in Vogue.

"England is not a healthy place for men who will not pay their bills," said W. F. Mahon, a lawyer of Chicago, who has just returned from a two months' trip abroad, says the Washington Post. "Imprisonment for debt was nominally abolished in England many years ago, but, nevertheless, the actual number of cases of imprisonment has since annually increased, proportionally faster than the population. Technically, the imprisonment is for contempt of court. The judge orders the debtor to pay before a given day, failing which he may be jailed for contempt, not exceeding forty days, and in case he pays the debt he is released at once.

"The power of committal resides in the judge of the court. Some judges exercise it more freely than others. In Nottingham county imprisonment for debt is rare, I am told. In other popular court districts with much more court business the cases of imprisonment do not exceed fifty a year, while in some less populous districts with less court business the number reaches 500 a year. It seems, however, that the indulgence shown to delinquent debtors is steadily decreasing, for the cases of imprisonment in the country have increased from about 5,000, in 1876, to more than 12,000 last year.

"Credit is not abused in England as it is in the United States, however. Many men have credit, of course, but the word means more in England than it does in America. A man whose credit is good must have earned a reputation for upright business honesty before he is trusted. Shopkeepers will not credit a man who is not known personally to them as a man of good business standing, and if recommended by another, they will by some subterfuge put off the intending purchaser until they can find out whether the recommendation is genuine. When credit is once given, the person to whom it is extended is not continually annoyed by the receipt of bills."

Legal Information

The right of a physician called into a case as an expert to additional compensation is often insisted upon, and sometimes questioned. In Burnett v. Freeman, 103 Southwestern Reporter, 121, the Kansas City Court of Appeals collates numerous authorities on this proposition, and comes to the conclusion that such an expert is not entitled to additional compensation for his services in a case.

The decision of Judge Dill of the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals in Vanderbilt v. Mitchell, 87 Atlantic Reporter, 97, serves admirably to illustrate that the powers of a court of equity are adequate to meet the demands made thereon by constantly changing social conditions. In this case it appears that a birth certificate was made by the physician present at the birth of a child. This certificate set forth, among other things, the time, the date and place of the birth of the child, the name of each of the parents, the maiden name of the mother, and the name of the child. It appears that in making the certificate the physician was imposed upon by false statements of the mother as to the paternity of the child, and certified, contrary to the fact, that complainant in this suit was the father of the child. Judge Dill holds that the court has power to correct the record.

The extensive development of inter-urban railroads is gradually narrowing the distinction between the rights of commercial railroads, or so-called steam railroads, and street railroads proper, as interurban roads in many instances partake of the nature of both. In Kinsey v. Union Traction Company, 81 Northeastern Reporter, 922, decided by the Indiana Supreme Court, one of the main contentions was whether or not interurban cars, operated on the streets of a city with its permission, for the carriage of passengers, express, and light freight, by a corporation unorganized under the street railway laws, constituted an additional servitude on the streets so as to entitle abutting owners to additional compensation for the use of the streets. Three of the judges, Chief Justice Hadley, Justices Gillett and Monks, were of the opinion that the operation of the cars did not constitute an additional servitude, while two judges, Justices Jordan and Montgomery, held the contrary.

To Help Her Memory.

"I shall be away a whole year, so I must give you a keepsake, my pet," said Charles, drawing a rather insignificant ring off his little finger.

"It's not much, Charlie, is it?" she remarked.

"No, darling. But it isn't the intrinsic value of the thing that—" "Of course not, dearest!" she interposed hurriedly. "But, my own, if you could manage to give me a diamond ring, I should always be looking at it, and that would make me think of you when you're away!"

Different.

"Why is he angry?" "In our write-up of the visit he had from the noted suffragette the reporter said, 'At the conclusion of the interview he showed her down the steps.'"

"Well?" "Well, we printed it 'showed' her down the steps."—Houston Post.

A young woman was in company with a university graduate, and naturally the talk ran upon books. By and by there was a lull in the conversation, broken presently by the young woman, who said: "What do you think of Fielding, Mr. Smith?" "Oh," was the answer, "fielding is important, of course; but it isn't worth much unless you have a good batting average."

"Here, you!" said the aristocratic owner of the corner building. "What are you putting up this measly clapboard shack alongside of my house for?"

"Shack nothin'!" answered the business-like youth who was superintending its erection, with equal arrogance. "This is a shoe shinin' parlor."

We Explained.

"How many horse power is she?" he mirthfully inquired. The stranded automobilist was working over his car. Up came a sarcastic follower of the plow.

"Sixty," replied the automobilist.

"Then, by heck, why don't she go?"

"Because, my friend, thirty are pulling each way." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Tallest Tree in the World.

The tallest tree in the world so far as has been ascertained is an Australian gum tree of the species eucalyptus regnans, which stands in the Cape Otway range. It is no less than 415-feet high. Gum trees grow very fast. There is one in Florida which shot up forty feet in four years and another in Guatemala which grew 120 feet in twelve years. This corresponds to a rise of ten feet in a year, or nearly one foot per month.

What is Castoria.

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustavo A. Eisenbacher, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."
