CHORUS.

Oh, my darling Nellie Gray, up in heaven
 there they say
 That they'll never take you from me any more.

I'm coming, coming, coming, as the angels
 clear the way.
 Farewell to the old Kentucky shore.
 —Anon.

THE LOST CHORD.

SATED one day at the organ,
 I was weary and ill at ease;
 And my fingers wandered idly
 Over the noisy keys.

I know not what I was playing
 Or what I was dreaming then,
 But I struck one chord of music
 Like the sound of a grand amen.

I flooded the crimson twilight,
 Like the close of angel's psalm,
 And it lay on my fevered spirit
 Like a touch of infinite calm.

I quieted pain and sorrow
 Like love o'ercoming strife;
 It seemed a harmonious echo
 From our discordant life.

It linked all perplexing meanings
 Into one perfect peace,
 And it trembled away into silence
 As if it were loath to cease.

I sought, but I seek it vainly,
 That one lost chord divine
 Which came from the soul of the organ
 And entered into mine.

It may be that death's bright angel
 Will speak in that chord again;
 It may be that only in heaven
 I shall hear that grand amen.
 —Adelalde Anne Procter.

MY SHADOW.

I HAVE a little shadow that goes in and
 out with me,
 And what can be the use of him in every way more than I can see.

He is very, very like me from the
 heels up to the head,
 And I see him jump before me when I
 jump into my bed.

The funniest thing about him is the way
 he seems to grow—
 Not at all like proper children, which is always very slow—
 For he sometimes shoots up taller, like
 an india rubber ball,
 And he sometimes cuts so little that
 there's none of him at all.

He hasn't got a notion of how children
 ought to play,
 And can only make a fool of me in every
 sort of way.

He stays so close beside me, he's a coward, you can see—
 I'd think shame to stick to nurse as
 that shadow sticks to me.

One morning, very early, before the sun
 was up,
 I rose and found the shining dew on every buttercup,
 But my lazy little shadow, like an arrant
 sleepy-head,
 Had stayed at home behind me and was
 fast asleep in bed.
 —Robert Louis Stevenson.

WEEDS AND FLOWERS.

THE flowers are loved, the weeds are
 spurned,
 But for them both the suns are burned,
 And when, at last, they fall the day,
 The long night folds them all away.
 —John Vance Cheney.

THE LAND OF LOST CONTENT.

INTO my heart an air that kills
 From you far country blows;
 What are those blue remembered hills,
 What spires, what farms are those?

WHAT is the land of lost content—
 I see it shining plain—
 The happy highways where I went
 And cannot come again.
 —A. E. HOUSMAN.

WOMAN AND FASHION

Simple and Smart.

For the woman who is looking for something in shirt waist styles we are showing a model that is simple and smart and decidedly worth copying. It is not only good style for cottons, but is equally fashionable for silk, mohair or any material that one would use in a shirt waist suit. The model takes on all the little ideas shown in the new models. First of all, the shaping of the sleeve is new and the narrow tucks that are stitched flat add not a little to the design. Then, too, the front is slightly double breasted, which at once stamps the design with "newness," as these double breasted blouses are just beginning to be worn. Still another point in its favor is the unique yoke, which may or may not be used, as one prefers, as the front is tucked and affords a pretty blouse without the addition of the yoke. The design is extremely modish and may be as satisfactorily developed in twelve and a half cent percale as in silk.

SHIRT WAIST DESIGN.

Fruit For Storage.

Fruit for storage should be picked while yet firm, as fruit that has advanced to a stage of ripeness to be best for eating will almost invariably "break down" and even if it looks well when taken out will be decayed at the core, says Farm Journal. Some growers of high quality fruit pick their orchards more than once, gathering the fruit as soon as it is well colored, leaving the poorly colored and immature fruits until they have become well colored.

Make Your Paint Money Buy Satisfaction

PAINT satisfaction means the working— spreading—covering—lasting qualities of the paint. There's neither satisfaction nor economy in cheap paints—they crack and peel and blister—won't cover. And hand mixed lead-and-oil paint is little better. But your money buys unflinching satisfaction when you get "High Standard"—it's made of best materials—and "Write for our free booklet," "Attractive Homes and How to Make Them."
