Mrs. R. A. Moran has entered suit against Coos county to recover damages for her husband Robert A. Moran, who fell do his death from the bridge on the county road, by the Oriental hall last October. Mrs. Moran will ask for the full amount allowed by the state in such cases. Her attorney, A. J. Sherwood has taken the matter up, and the case will probably come up for hearing at the next term of court.

Bandon real estate is moving to the great satisfaction of the real estate dealers, and some of them are reporting some good sales. One of the best features of the real estate business is the number of people who are buying lots with the intention of building on them, thus Bandon is assured a continual growth, to even greater extent than it has enjoyed during the last two years, which has been nothing short of phenomenal.

The Bijou Theatre which started up in Bandon recently is growing more popular every day and the crowds are increasing each evening. On last Sunday evening they were compelled to turn away a number, owing to lack of room. The Seaside Orchestra furnished music last Sunday evening and will be on the program every Sunday evening from this time on. This in itself will be a big drawing card and the concert will easily be worth the price of the play. The Bijou company have a complete change of program every evening, and are giving the latest and best moving pictures on the market. They are worthy the patronage of the public.

Presbyterian Church

Preaching at the Presbyterian Church the first and third Sundays of each month, both morning and evening. Sunday School and young people's meeting every Sunday.
