Oregon Agricultural College

An agitation has been started with the avowed purpose of calling the referendum on the Oregon Agricultural college appropriation bill. The friends of the college feel that such action would be extremely injurious to the college and therefore injurious to the important interests of the state which are so closely allied with it. To avoid such a result it is important that the people of the state should be informed as to the real conditionof affairs.

In the first place it is not the verdict of the people that is feared, but the effects of the delay which the use of the referendum imposes. If, by the use of the referendum, the people of the state could vote on this bill before the first of July of the present year, there would be no opposition on the part of the friends of the college to its exercise.

If the referendum is invoked the bill cannot be voted on until November, 1910, which will mean that the buildings provided for by the appropriation would not be ready for occupancy for at least three years. The present college buildings and equipment are entirely inadequate to meet the present needs. The presnt attendance is over 1400 while the college library will accomodate 108; the work in agriculture has increased nine times in two years while the room allowed for the work has only been doubled. in the past year the work in chemistry, which requires the use of laboratories, has doubled and there is no extra room available, the present armory will accomodate less than one-fifth of the students required to take the military drill, and such illustrations might be continued almost indefinitely if space permitted. Add to this the fact that last year the attendance increased 38 per cent and that in the past four months the number of letters of inquiry received from farmers and citizens of the state generally has doubled, and it will give some conception of the extent to which the this vital work will be crippled by the delay.

Moreover, the delay would make it impossible for the college to fulfill the conditions which the Federal Government imposes as prerequisites to the enjoyment of its bounty. The state would be forced to break faith with the Federal Government which has offered many thousands of dollars to aid in the educational and experimental work which is to be done in this state during the next two years. It is for these reasons, the significance of which cannot be fully realized until the conditions at the college are personally investigated, that the friends of the Oregon Agriculture urge that the people of the State consider well before calling the referendum.

Newspaper Advertising

"Brains," a weekly journal for merchants, published in New York, gives the following:

If a member of your family died, would you print the resolutions on a billboard?

If your wife entertained, would you send an account of it to the theatre program man?

If you were going to enlarge your business would you advertise it in a hotel register?

If you were going to have a wedding in your family would you get out a handbill?

You would send such items to a newspaper, wouldn't you?

Every man who uses the billboard is adding to nature faking.

Every dollar spent in a theatre program, in a register, in a directory, or in a handbill, is a legitimate dollar taken away from the newspapers of your town.

The newspapers build your town; why not help build up the newspapers. There is no better advertisement in the world for a town than a good newspaper. A newspaper is the barometer of the town's industry. Show us a good newspaper, full of advertising and we will show you a good town, full of live merchants.

Billboards are an eyesore; handbills are a nuisance; theatre programmes are worthless; hotel registers are ridiculous, from an advert sing standpoint.

Newspapers are town builders, town advertisers, fortune makers, news disseminations sermon deliverers, prosperity forecasters—they are a necessity, not a luxury; they must be maintained. Without them we would retrograde to the mediaval days.

Don't patronize them from a charitable standpoint—patronize them because they deliver the goods—that is, if they are the right kind.

Cut out the foolishness and work for the upbuilding of your town and state by upbuilding your newspapers.
