Bend had a Fourth of July celebration that was probably the most unique in the country because of one great feature, a trout barbecue. There are numerous places in the state that could duplicate it, probably, but where throughout the East could such an affair be held? Col. Frank Touvelle, a rancher living near Medford, Oregon is said to have produced a deep-rooted vine which brings forth three crops of berries in a season, which result has been obtained by grafting alfalfa roots on the roots of a strawberry vine. Alfalfa roots deeply and produces three to five crops a year without irrigation. It occurred to him that strawberries might do the same if the vine could be made to extend down far enough, so as to receive moisture from the soil throughout the season.—Scientific American.

THE HISTORY OF JIM JONES
Jim Jones—he was an editor—that is he tried to be;
He bought himself a hand-press, an' he started in to see
Jes' what there was in editin', but when he'd canvassed round,
Some fifteen hundred editors in that same town he found.
They all knew more about it than Jones could hope to know;
They told him; you must run her Jones, jes' so an' so an' so!
Be sure and boom the Baptists—they're bound to help you out—
An' give the good old Methodists a big salvation shout!
"Give every man a notice: be sure an' put it down
Whenever Major Jinks is seen perambulating round;
Put in a few free locals for all the stores, an' give
Each man a free subscription—if you want your sheet to live."
Well, Jones, he done jes' as they said, for fea they'd make a row;
But the more he tried to please 'em all, the more they told him how;
Until at last he took the book an' laid it on the shelf;
Then ran the paper in the ground an' tollored it himself!
