

Oregon State Fair 1909

The next Oregon State Fair will be the forty-eighth annual one in the history of the organization, and it will be conducted at Salem during the week of September 13-18, under the direction of the Oregon State Board of Agriculture, the secretary of which is F. A. Welsh, and the president, W. F. Matlock. Several improvements are being made in the plan of the fair grounds, among which might be mentioned the construction of a massive concrete main entrance, flanked on either side by a commodious reinforced concrete administration building, in which will be located the offices of the board and which will be a very busy place during the week that the fair is in operation. This structure is located a few rods to the left of the former main or "railroad" gate and with its spacious vestibule and electric turnstiles will afford easier access to the grounds for the great crowds of people during the entire week.

A most desirable change has been made in the locations of the principal restaurants and the poultry pavillion, all of which will be appreciated by the visitors in attendance at the fairs of the future to be held on this ground.

A livestock judging arena, 106 feet wide by 212 feet in length, has been made in close proximity to the stock barns, so that during the time that the several judges are passing upon the classes of stock entered for the premiums those spectators interested in the work can witness it without being held back by a few people in front who are always present to obstruct a general view of such things.

The secretary reports that there are many entries of agricultural products, and livestock in their several classes will be more plentiful than ever.

The machinery pavillion has been enlarged so that there is fully 17,500 square feet of floor space for displaying farm implements, machinery, carriages, wagons and other vehicles, etc.

The poultry pavillion is enlarged to the extent of an annex 42 x 75 feet, and the entire structure is equipped with new coops for the feathered beauties that will be entered for the ribbons and premiums. The superintendent of this department is Prof. James Dryden of the poultry husbandry department of the Oregon Agricultural College. He is putting forth special efforts to make this exhibition of poultry the largest and most attractive in the history of the state fair. A section of the poultry building annex will be used for the Scotch Collie dog department.

The dairy department will be looked after by Paul V. Maris, one of the deputies to the state dairy commissioner. He will have a display of dairy and creamery products the like of which has never been seen on the fair grounds and there will be a large display of dairy utensils by various dairy supply houses in the Pacific Northwest.

The racing at the fair will be of the best sort, as many horses of extraordinary speed have been entered for the rich purses that will be hung up. The race course is in splendid condition for record breaking events.

There will be special amusement features during the day and evening hours, all of which are sure to attract many farmers and agriculturists who may desire to take a short vacation at this time of the year.

How to Appropriate Water

The state engineer has sent out the following instructions and suggestions to follow in filing on water rights:

"Any person, association or corporation hereafter intending to acquire the right to the beneficial use of any waters shall, before commencing the construction, enlargement or extension of any ditch, canal or other distributing or controlling works, or performing any work in connection with said construction, or proposed appropriation, make an application to the state engineer for a permit to make such appropriation. Any person who shall willfully divert or use water to the detriment of others without compliance with law shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. The possession of use of water, except when a right of use is acquired in accordance with law, shall be prima facie evidence of the guilt of the person using it." Sec. 45, Laws of 1909.

"It shall be a misdemeanor to use, store or divert any water until after the issuance of permit to appropriate such waters." Sec. 66, Laws of 1909.

APPLICATIONS

Applications should be made upon forms prescribed by the State Engineer (not in duplicate)

An application is not a permit to appropriate water until after its approval by the State Engineer.

Three different application forms are provided, one for original or new diversions, another for the enlargements or extensions of existing works, and a third for the construction of reservoir and storage of unappropriated waters. These can be secured without charge by addressing the State Engineer, Salem, Oregon.

A permit to construct a reservoir and store surplus water does not grant the right to divert and use such stored water. Separate applications should, therefore, be made for each of these purposes.

Application for a permit to divert and use a secondary permit. It need not be made at the time of application for a reservoir permit. Such applications when made should refer to such reservoir for a supply of water and be accompanied by documentary evidence that an agreement has been entered into with the owner of the reservoir for a permanent and sufficient interest in said reservoir to impound enough water for the purposes set forth in said application.

Each application should be forwarded to the State Engineer, accompanied by the necessary maps and fees. Strict compliance with the rules governing the submission of maps is important. Defective applications will be returned for correction without loss of priority.

CHOLERA INFANTUM CURED

"Something like two years ago my baby which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely," writes J. F. Dempsey of Dempsey, Ala. "I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

"For some years I suffered from intense colicky pains which would come on at times and from which I could find no relief," says I. S. Mason, of Beaver Dam, Ky. "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me by a friend. After taking a few doses of the remedy I was entirely relieved. That was four years ago and there has been no return of the symptoms since that time." This remedy is for sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Veteran of Indian Wars Dead

Daniel W. Hayward, a resident of this section since 1853, and a veteran of the Indian wars in the Rogue river and Coquille country died at his home near Empire, Sunday morning. He had been very ill for the past six months, having suffered from a complication of ills due to heart failure. He was 82 years old and received $6 a month pension.

Despite his battles with the Indians in early days, Mr. Hayward later took up with them and for years he lived practically as a member of the remnants of the tribe, hunting and fishing. He was buried this afternoon from the Wilson Undertaking parlors.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for thirty years, and never start out on a trip without this my faithful friend," says H. S. Nienholts of Oakland, Ind. Ter. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Notice to Mariners

Capt. Quatrevaux of the Fr. Sp. "Thiers" reports that on July 24, 1909 about 60 miles west of San Francisco, Cal. he passed three large trees covered with marine growth and barnacles and having the appearance of having been in the water a long time.

Capt. Beetham of the Dr. S. S. "Empress of India" reports that on August 7, 1909 in Lat 46° 25' N. Long. 166° 22' E. he passed a spar, no wreckage attached, and did not appear to have been in the water any length of time. CHAS. MURZ, Messenger temporary in charge U. S. Branch Hydrographic office.

GRANULATED SORE EYES CURED

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Hearslett, Ky. "In Feb. 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Fruit Exhibit at State Fair

The sum of $300 was set aside by the Oregon State Board of Agriculture towards improving and encouraging a horticultural exhibit at the next Oregon State Fair, Salem, September 13-18. This is an addition to the usual premium classification of fruits. This action by the board will be received with much favor by the fruitgrowers, who should aid the fair management as much as possible to make a worthy display of our orchard products.

G. A. R. Encampment

At the meeting of the National G. A. R. Encampment held in Salt Lake City last week, ex-Governor Van Sant, of Minnesota, was elected commander in chief. Governor Van Sant was born in Illinois, but moved to Iowa in early boyhood where he lived for some time, but has been a citizen of Minnesota for a number of years.

Mrs Ames in Shackles

The Portland Telegram says: "Shackled and a raving maniac, Mrs. Emma Ames of North Bend, accompanied by women attendants from the state insane asylum, arrived on the steamship Alliance, Captain Parsons, from Coos Bay. The unfortunate woman was hurried to the Union depot and taken to Salem.

Dairy Test Oregon State Fair, Salem

The milk cow test at the next Oregon State Fair, Salem, September

13-18 will have numerous entries it is understood as several breeders of choice dairy cattle believe it is one of the best means of giving them publicity regarding the quality of the stock they have. There were seven cows in the test at the 1908 fair, a Holstein from Spokane, Washington, taking the first premium with a Jersey from near Portland a very close second. These mild cow tests are very beneficial to the dairy industry of the state and the Pacific Northwest.

The Oregon State Fair will be held at Salem on Sept 13-18, and every person who can should attend it at least for one or two days. It is the leading agricultural exposition of the Pacific Northwest and is growing greater each year. It will be a very close second to the A-Y-P exposition now being held at Seattle, Washington—not so large, of course, but the quality of many of the exhibits will be even better than at the Seattle show.

THE CITY MEAT MARKET.

There is now no doubt that Hill is behind Porter Bros in the Deschutes canon episode and the prospects are that he will beat Harriman to it and get the first line of road into central Oregon, all of which will be welcome news to Oregonians who have waited long and patiently for Mr. Harriman to build the road which he never intended to build until forced to do so. It seems now, however, that he has been outwitted for once and he may let it all together because of his delay.
