Thos. A. Lewis, pioneer of this section and a veteran of the civil war, who has been at the soldier's home at Santa Monica, has been visiting at the Fahy home near this city for some time. Mr. Lewis had the misfortune to get his arm broken one day last week, by a board swinging around and hitting him at the Aberdeen mill. He was brought to Bandon and Dr. Houston dressed the fractured member and he is getting along as well as could be expected at present.

Nineteen hundred and ten is to be the banner year for new settlers in the Northwest, according to railway men. Of the third of a million applicants in Uncle Sam's land lottery, it is believed that one half will come next year to locate. This means the unsuccessful ones, who saw the land to be had here and were impressed by the opportunities. The big travel to the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition is expected in September, when the farmers in the middle west have handled their crops. Those who have been here and gone back home are boosting harder than ever. In fact the outlook for 1910 is so promising that operating departments of all Northwestern lines are planning more equipment.

A decision involving the timber lands on the upper South Fork has been received from the land office at Washington. The National Forest Service affirms the decision handed down by the department in Oregon; thus the land goes back to the reserve. The claims disputed were filed on as coal lands by S. D. Puffer, James H. Flanagan, Cecil C. Carter, Herbert Lockhart, Louise C. Lockhart, Alta E. Carter, Augusta E. Anderson, and G. W. Anderson. The government claims the lands had nearly twenty million feet of fine timber to the quarter section and were chiefly valuable for their timber. A number of nearby claims are also being disputed by the forest service and will come up for decision soon. This establishes a precedent and it is expected that a like decision will be rendered from the office in the other cases.—Enterprise.

Mr. Carroll, the government engineer who has charge of surveying the Coquille river for a new project is now making a drawing and will have his report ready to send in to the government soon. Mr. Carroll states that the river can be greatly benefited for navigation at a comparatively small cost.

Says McKay Did Good Work

The following communication was received after the fire:

Dear Editor:—In writing up your article about the Cody mill fire I don't think you ought to miss about the work Mr. McKay has done of course we all know others worked heroic but he certainly deserves credit for what he has done.

I was at the fire and heard him say he was going after the tug, and I noticed the tug came up very shortly after he left it was through him that so much was saved, and I think if the town would pay so much to keep up steam on the tug we would be able to save much property and Bandon would not be wiped off the map if they don't this town will certainly go some day.

I noticed there was no head for the fire boys to work under but Mr. McKay urged them on and through that the shipyard is standing today. I am only writing this to better our city, and I believe it will be benefited thereby.

A BANDON BOOSTER.

Harriman Said to be Doomed By Cancer

E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, has cancer of the stomach and is given only three months longer to live, according to a story in the Omaha World Herald today. This information, the newspapers says, comes from those closest to Mr. Harriman, and its authenticity is unquestioned. When Mr. Harriman started for Europe he had already been informed that he was a victim of the disease, and his trip was for the purpose of consulting eminent European physicians. Those physicians agreed with the American doctors, and Mr. Harriman is now given but three months to live.

Everything possible to keep his real ailment secret has been done and Mr. Harriman has been engaged in setting his house in order for the approaching end.

Smith Family Festivities

Seattle, August 24—Is your name Smith? If it is, you are wanted at the Alaska Yukon Pacific Exposition, September 2, to take part in the Smith Family Day festivities.

From high and low, from near and far, the Smiths are coming. Seattle boasts of several thousand, and the other cities of the Northwest are apparently as strong in Smiths in proportion.

Unique Smiths of all descriptions are at a premium and if you happen to be a Smith with some particularity all of your own, you may be able to get special inducements. Prizes will be given the oldest Smith, the youngest Smith, the prettiest young lady Smith, the homeliest man Smith, and so on through the whole list of unusual members of the family.

A warning has been issued to all visitors at the Exposition to be explicit in speaking to members of the Smith family on that day. For Example:—If you have a friend, Fred W. Smith, it will be useless for you to attempt to attract his attention by yelling "Smith" at him. That might cause some three or four hundred other Smiths to look around to see if they were wanted; but your chances on getting the right man would be small. Instead, call out "Fred W. Smith" or better yet, collar the man you want to speak to.

Six Hundred Dons Killed

Lisbon, Aug. 20—Six hundred Spaniards were killed in a campaign started by General Marina against the Rif tribesmen, according to dispatches today. Messages from Melilla, which were not confirmed, stated that several Spanish battalions also mutinied, either by joining the Moors or by fleeing toward the French possessions in Morocco. After being decisively defeated Marina retired to Melilla to await reinforcements.—Portland Journal, by Hearst News Service.

New Priest for Bandon

Report has been received here that the Rev. Father Keaney of Ogdensburg, N. Y., has been assigned to the new parish at Bandon by Archbishop Christie. He will arrive here on the Breakwater and take charge of his new pastorate at once. He was ordained last June, since which he has been at the cathedral in Portland.
