Commissioner of Labor O. P. Hoff dropped into the city today and landed on a bellboy at the Chandler. Arthur Craig, the boy Hoff ordered Proprietor McKeown to discharge because he was under the age required in elevator boys, is not eighteen, and so is not eligible for the work. Hoff will likely find other things to correct before he leaves the bay, for he looks pretty closely when he lands in a county unexpectedly.—Coast Mail.

Captain C. E. Edwards of the steamer Alert had his license suspended for ten days as a penalty for violating the pilot rules by United States Inspectors Edwards and Fuller who investigated the Alert-Breakwater accident here. The penalty is very light considering the fact that the inspectors held him responsible for the accident. Inspectors Edwards and Fuller accompanied by their clerk, Mr. Merrill, left this morning via Drain for Portland.—Times.

M. Smith, former steward on the S. S. Elizabeth has purchased the Vienna Bakery and Cafe of L. A. York, and started in to running the same Monday. Mr. Smith is well known to Bandon people, having been coming in here on the Elizabeth for about two years. He has many friends here all of whom will be glad to patronize him as a regular resident of Bandon. Mr. and Mrs. York will remain in Bandon for a time at least.

At a joint meeting of the committee of five appointed to consult with the Port Commission respecting the harbor improvements aid from congress, it was recommended that a proposal be made at the general meeting of Wednesday night that a committee of three men be selected to confer with the engineers at Portland and the congressional delegation with a view of having the plan for a dredge changed and putting the jetty proposition first.—Coast Mail.

F. S. Perry mailed us a copy of the Hood River News, a paper published at the famous Hood River town, where they grow apples as fine as any place in the world, and where they are so perfectly organized that they are able to control the market on these apples. Coos county is just as good a fruit country as Hood River and if the same manner of cultivation of orchards and conducting of sales, were used here, our farmers would make just as much clear money to the square inch as they do in Hood River.

O. L. Hopson has been a business visitor at Coos Bay for a few days. Archdeacon Horsfall will hold services in the Episcopal church Sunday Nov. 1st. There will be no evening service.

The Bandon high school football team has games scheduled with Marshfield as follows: November 12th at Bandon and November 19th at Marshfield. This is the first year for football in the Bandon school but the boys are rapidly rounding into condition and they will put up a good game when the time comes.

Last Friday evening at the Methodist parsonage a reception was tendered to Dr. M. C. Wire, the district superintendent of the Eugene District, and Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Allen. After a social hour Mr. F. A. Bates as chairman made an address of welcome to which Dr. Wire and Rev. Allen responded. Addresses were made by different representatives of the Church societies promising their hearty support to their church and pastor for the coming year. Reverend Allen favored the guests with a solo. Delicious refreshments were served after which a hymn was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Wire. The guests before departing left a generous supply of provisions for their pastor and wife.

Owen Callahan of Philomath, Benton county, visited several days with his old friend J. J. Stanley, departing for his home by way of Marshfield and the Alliance Tuesday. Mr. Callahan is very much pleased with the general aspect of this section since he left here many years ago, and stated in an interview Tuesday that there was not another county in the state with the natural resources of this county or with the fine prospects for immediate future advancement that Coos county has. He was very enthusiastic over the prospects for a railroad into the county and stated that he could see no reason for a failure in the present project if the people of the county did even halt as much as residents of other sections of the country had done for rail communication.—Sentinel
