He has a very comfortable school building on his farm, and is a very good instructor in special work.

Mr. and Mrs. Radabaugh made the RECORDER office a very pleasant call Wednesday evening. They are very enthusiastic over Coos county and only regret that they are unable to remain longer.

Those who attended the temperance lecture by Michiel J. Fanning at Bandon opera house Wednesday night were greatly delighted with the excellent address delivered. Mr. Fanning is known as the "Irish Orator" and has wit commensurate with his people. The house was kept in constant uproar from the many witty sayings of the speaker and yet every one of these remarks contained a telling point.

W. C. Sellmer was a passenger on the Fifield to San Francisco, and will be away about ten days.

A very pleasant time was had by those who were present at the Whist Social given by the Rebekahs at the I. O. O. F. hall last Tuesday evening. Another one will be given in a few weeks.

The new schooner Randolph was inspected Wednesday and will go on her coast run as soon as her papers are returned. She will do a general freight business along the coast. A load is now ready at this place to be taken to Rogue river.

C. H. Manassa and wife arrived on the Breakwater from Portland. Mr. Manassa will be associated with his son A. S. Manassa in the grocery business recently purchased from A. E. White. This adds two good families to Bandon's citizenship and they will be welcomed by our people.

The river steamer Liberty, which was running for a while on the Rapid Transit line, has been attached for wages by Capt. Pendergrass and others, and is advertised to be sold by Sheriff Gage on the 10th, to satisfy the claims, says the Coos Bay News. This is probably the same steamer Liberty that was formerly on the Coquille river, but was sold by the Coquille River Transportation Co. and taken around to Coos Bay. At that time the News said the boat was said to be only five years old, but moved like it was over seventy.

The Southern Pacific has commenced the development of a new mine at Beaver Hill which will be the largest mine development ever attempted in Coos county, according to report. It is to be known as Beaver Hill Mine, No. 3. A slope has been started which will extend down 3000 feet; the deepest mine there now is 1600 feet, hence the new mine will be nearly twice the depth of the old one. It will put the operators in touch with about one million tons or more.

A bear which was caught in a trap near Empire lately, gnawed and twisted off a portion of its foot, which it left in the trap, probably to show that it had been there, and is now supposed to be "stumping" the county for the assembly ticket.—If a small trap is used, such as trappers used to call the California black bear trap, it will not hold, on an average, two bears out of five—at least that was the experience of trappers on the Coquille in early days. We saw several instances of it myself, and heard Sam Hunter, Noah Tripp, John Geiger, Sam Brannan, California Jack, and numbers of others relate similar experiences. They soon got rid of the so-called black bear traps and secured what was known as the California grizzly trap, the jaws of which had a spread of nearly two feet, with interlocking teeth, and we never heard of a bear escaping from one of those traps.—Coos Bay News.

A Judge for Coos and Curry

Of the many important matters that will come before the voters at the coming November election is that of the selection of two Circuit Judges for the Second Judicial District comprising Lane, Lincoln, Benton, Douglas, Coos and Curry Counties. The law requires that one of these Judges shall reside south of the Umpqua river and west of the Coast range of mountains, which territory is practically Coos and Curry counties.

Under the law three Judges are now on the Bench in the Second District—the law having added an additional, or third Judge in 1909, and Judge John S. Coke of Marshfield having been appointed as such additional Judge for Coos and Curry counties. It was clearly the intention of the Legislature to make provision for the Judge of these two counties to be named within either Coos or Curry county, as the other two Judges reside outside of the boundaries above described.

In view of the fact that Judge Coke is a candidate for election to the Judgeship, it becomes very important to the voters to see that he is given a full vote at the approaching election. From the returns of the primary election held on the 24th of September, it is shown that Judge Coke received not only a heavy republican vote, but a large democratic vote as well, throughout the entire district, which goes to show that Judge Coke is as well and as favorably known in the outside counties as he is within Coos and Curry counties, and which means that at the coming election, he will receive practically the unanimous vote of both parties.

Before coming to the Bench Judge Coke was recognized throughout the State as one of the strongest lawyers at the Bar, as well as a lawyer of unquestioned honesty and integrity. As a man and a citizen he bears an untarnished name and character, and in all matters of public interest he has been one of the foremost in advancing the welfare and interest of the public.

Since coming to the Bench, Judge Coke has shown himself to be a capable, conscientious, careful, painstaking and capable Judge, and while he has occupied the Bench, only since February, 1909, he has been called upon to decide some of the most important cases that have come before the Oregon Courts in many years. During the past six months he has been called upon to hear a number of important cases in Roseburg, Eugene and in Portland, and while holding Court in Portland, the press of that City paid him marked consideration for the manner in which he presided as Judge.

Judge Coke needs no introduction to the people of Coos and Curry counties for he has lived among them from childhood, but it is highly important that the voters should know the importance of giving their full support to Judge Coke at the coming election, otherwise an outside Judge would be sent into this part of the District.

L. J. Radley fell off his wood wagon this morning and was quite badly bruised up although no bones were broken. Mr. Radley was driving over a rough road and the jar of the wagon threw him from the seat. He was brought to his home just before noon and medical assistance was called and he is now resting as well as could be expected. Mr. Radley's many friends will hope for his speedy recovery.

A call was received from Coos Bay this morning to have the tug Kiliyam come over to the bay to tow in some schooners, and from the report it appears that the Coos Bay tug is out of commission.

Sam Hines who is erecting a building near the post office says he does not intend to run a regular restaurant, but rather a lunch counter and delicatessen.

A new river boat for the Panter's is being built at Randolph and is now nearly ready for launching.

THE FALL TAILOR MADE.

Styles That Will Lead
Later in the Season.

A SMART TAILORED SUIT.

Women are much interested in the tailored suit for fall and early winter wear. How is the new tailored suit to be made? This is the problem. We have been "hobbed" and tied in until the limit of discomfort and ugliness has been reached, so that it is refreshing to hear that lines are to be relaxed and hobble bands discarded when fashion settles down for the autumn season.

That coats will be short is an established fact. Skirts will be straight, but comfortably built. Of course many women will follow the extreme styles and wear the narrow tied in skirt, but as a rule the new skirt will show a wider knee girth. The best tailors say the popular six piece skirt is the one to be desired and the simplest to make. This skirt should have heavily welded seams and be worn short, well above the ankle.

The new tailored suit, according to accepted lines, is a typical model of what a mannish suit should be—more so than any that has been worn for several seasons. Less material is required for this suit than for the plaited model. The salesman will tell you to buy seven yards of double width material, but this is nearly a yard more than is needed if the material is well cut. The suit illustrated is a smart example of the new tailor made.

A Public-Private Stenographer.
"I am a married woman living in a small town," said a woman recently, "and my husband's work is of such a nature that it has its dull and its busy season. During the former the family purse sometimes gets very low, and I am glad to say that I have been able to help replenish it by making use of the business experience I had before marriage."

"I am a stenographer, and being the only one in the town, I have many opportunities to make money by taking depositions, reporting conventions and doing amanuensis work."
"I also teach shorthand and typewriting and am seldom without one or two scholars. I often do work for the guests of the hotels here too. This work pays very well, and in our town, being a small one, a public stenographer (which I might say I am, although my office is my home) is often very much in demand."

Girls' Camps.
Summer camps in the mountains and woods are the things now for young girls and boys whose parents are off on trips to Europe, or obliged to be separated from them. The camps are conducted by experienced chaperons, who watch over the young people, planning interesting days for them, with a division of time for study, sport and social life. Thus the children fortunate enough to go to these can lead a wholesome life, and their parents, conscious that they are being well taken care of, can attend to their affairs elsewhere.

For Eyelet Workers.
When making large round or oblong eyelets or those that are petal shaped, all difficulty may be obviated by working first and cutting away the central material afterward with tiny manicure scissors. If carefully done by this method the laundering will have only a beneficial effect upon the eyelet instead of wanting it out.
