SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 22, 1870.

Democratic State Convention.

By virtue of the action of the Democratic State Convention, which was held at Portland, on Thursday, March 19th, 1868, and of the Democratic State Central Committee, which was held at the same place, on Jan. 8th, 1870, the Democratic State Convention will be held at

Albany, on Wednesday, the 23d day of March, 1870, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, for the purpose of nominating Governor, Member of Congress, Secretary of State, Treasurer, State Printer, Judge of Second District, Judge of Third District, and Judge of Fifth District, to be supported at the next June election.

By order of said Committee, representation to said Convention was based on the vote cast for Democratic Congressman at the last election, giving to each county one delegate for every seventy-five Democratic votes cast, and one delegate for every fraction of thirty-eight and over, but allowing each county at least one delegate therein; which rule of apportionment will give to the several counties the following number of delegates, to wit:

Table listing counties and their number of delegates: Benton 7, Baker 8, Clackamas 8, Clatsop 1, Coos 3, Curry 1, Columbia 2, Douglas 2, Grant 11, Jackson 11, Josephine 2, Lane 11, Linn 17, Marion 14, Multnomah 16, Polk 9, Tillamook 1, Umatilla 7, Wasco 4, Washington 4, Wheeler 6, Yamhill 8, Total 158.

The time for holding the County Conventions to elect delegates to the State Democratic Convention, was left by the Committee to the several County Committees, whose duty it will be to provide thereof.

The Committee would respectfully urge prompt action on the part of the Democracy of the several counties.

L. F. GROVER, Chairman. V. TREVITT, Secretary.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Gen. Cole, who killed Hisebeck for seducing his wife, has been appointed Clerk in the General Post Office at Washington. Salary, $2,500. Gen. Dan E. Sickles, who killed Phillip Barton Key for the same offence, has been appointed Minister to Spain. Salary, $12,000. While Daniel McFarland, who recently killed Richardson for precisely the same cause, has been removed by Grant from his position as Assessor of Internal Revenue.

THE Oregon Medical and Surgical Reporter for December, 1869, and January, 1870, has been laid upon our table. This periodical, it appears to us, will be of inestimable value to medical practitioners in this State. It is filled with matter valuable and instructive to the professional and non-professional reader, and should be liberally patronized. E. R. Fiske, A. M. M. D., Salem, Editor. Terms $4.00 per annum in advance.

We regret to learn the death of Hon. Nathaniel Ford, of Polk county. Col. Ford was one of the early pioneers of Oregon—served in the Provisional and Territorial Legislatures, and until very recently, took an active and influential part in the politics of the State. He was at the time of his death, we believe, Assessor of Polk. His loss will long be seriously felt in Polk county.

We are in receipt of Vick's Illustrated Catalogue and Floral Guide, which, as its name implies, is a catalogue of flowers, bulbs, plants, hints on gardening, transplanting, etc., embracing 84 pages, and is adorned with wood cuts and colored plates; price ten cents. Address James Vick, Rochester, N. Y. To the ladies, this catalogue possesses rare attractions, and a copy should be obtained early.

We are in receipt of No. 1 Vol. 1 of the Daily Evening Call, a new Portland daily, published by Morrison & Miller. The salutatory announces that the paper will be independent, ignoring all political parties, and untrammelled by rings and cliques, and devoted to the welfare of the public. Success to it.

Strategic.

In Jackson county the Rads have been whipped so often, and so badly, that, discouraged and dismayed, the party scarcely retains the semblance of an organization. What is lacking in strength, however, is to a degree supplied by a certain amount of cunning among some few of the leaders, like Tolman, Culver, and others. We hear of a recent movement among the Fifteenth Amendment men, looking to a division in the Democratic party, which it may be as well to ventilate, and thus warn Democrats of the plans laid for dissensions in the ranks. It is proposed by the Fifteenth Amendmenters to agitate the old town and county controversy; to get up a feeling in the country against the town, and vice versa, and to industriously fan the flame until discord and dissension culminates in a division and a bolt. Then a mongrel ticket is to be placed in the field, with Rads for the Legislature and County Judge, and recalcitrant democrats for the rest of the offices, including Sheriff, &c.

It is to be regretted that some men, who claim to be democrats, and are now aspiring for lucrative offices at the hands of the Democratic party, so far forget themselves and their duty, as to lend their willing aid to the nefarious designs of our political enemies, in the hopes of winning promotion by the sacrifice of the integrity of the party. We are pained to learn that democrats (God save the mark) are even now visiting the several precincts, talking about the "town monopolizing all the offices; that the Sheriff has always been taken from the town; and that the county is entitled to the nomination of Sheriff, &c.," and an infinite amount more of such balderdash. Even if it were true, that Jacksonville had always nominated the Sheriff, we can see no harm in it. The Sheriff, of necessity, will have to reside at the county seat, and if he is nominated from the country, he will after his election reside in town, and become identified with its interests. But it is not true. For the last six years the Democratic candidates for Sheriff cannot be said to be town men. W. A. Owen was a resident of Eden precinct when he was elected for his first term in 1864. It is true that he was a resident of Jacksonville at the time of his reelection in 1866; but this was owing to the necessity of his residence here as Sheriff for the previous term. The present incumbent, Mr. Reams, was also a resident of Eden precinct, previous to his appointment as Deputy to Owen, and his residence here has, until quite recently, when he purchased the Livery Stable, been altogether owing to the requirements of his office.

But what earthly necessity exists for stirring up ill-feeling between the town and country. Could the country get along very well without the town, or could the town without the country? They are imperatively necessary,—the one to the other. While it might be regarded as excusable in a political opponent, especially an unscrupulous radical, to attempt the generation of strife and ill-feeling of the character above referred to, for political effect; in a democrat who, for his own paltry ends, attempts to sow discord between his brethren in the town and country, it is inexcusable. We have no language at our command, adequate, to denounce in fitting terms, the ignoble wretch, who panders to an unfounded prejudice, in the hope of winning promotion at the expense of his party unity, and attempts to generate and intensify a causeless bitterness between democrats in order to attain his own selfish and sordid ends. Let democrats watch these missionaries of hate and malice, in their peregrinations through the county, and spot them. Let them be placed under the ban.

DR. HOLLADAY—THE RAILROADS MAN'S LAST SURGICAL OPERATION.—Ben. Holladay recently performed a surgical operation on the pockets of the Albany people in the following style: Albany wanted the railroad close by; Ben. wouldn't put it there, unless Albany would submit to be bled $50,000—one half in cash and one half in real estate. So the enterprising little town submitted to the operation, and the plethoric purses of its people were depleted accordingly. Pleased with his success, Dr. Holladay has gone on to Washington to perform a similar operation on a larger scale on Congress.

WELL SOLD.—Mr. W. O. Myers, who left this county last May, with a drove of near 300 horses, for Missouri, writes to friends here that he has disposed of the entire lot, realizing an average of $75 (greenbacks) per head. A paying trip for Mr. Myers.

THE Daily Democratic Press, published at Salem by Beriah Brown, made its appearance on our table this week. We extend to the Daily Press a hearty welcome.

The genius who straddles the editorial tripod of the Roseburg Ensign, makes an ass of himself in this wise:

The Democratic News accuses us of "predicting" the death of the Democratic party. We do no such absurd thing. It is one of the presumptions in law, that "a person not heard from in seven years, is dead." It has been ten years since the Democratic party has been "heard from," as a national organization, therefore it is reasonably supposed to be dead. A "prediction" of its demise would be simply ridiculous.

It appears that the Ensign man don't read election returns to much advantage. "The Democratic party as a national organization dead for ten years!" Good joke! Mr. Ensign, "now—aw—wally you know," don't you think, that it was quite an active corpse in Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and California; not to say New Jersey and Maryland last year? And Mr. Ensign, don't you think, for a corpse, that it was rather too lively for your political brethren to bury two years ago, in Oregon? [And further, Mr. Ensign,—"no! to put too fine a point upon it,"—don't you apprehend that it will be a disagreeably lively corpse this year in Oregon? Ask George Hill, surnamed "Coolie Williams," if he don't wish it was a trifle "deader," than it is? Ah! Mr. Ensign, your party will never play the undertaker for ours; and although you may live to a green old age, and be a much wiser man than you are now, your pen will never be employed in writing its epitaph.

[Daily Press, Jan. 12.] The monied men of Albany have made up $50,000 dollars to be paid to Ben Holliday as an inducement to him to turn the Oregon Central Railroad from a direct line and run it through that town.

Mr. B. F. Drake foundryman and machinist is this winter building a number of new labor saving machines, and among the number may be mentioned a large surface planer for dressing lumber. The patterns are now being made at Boothby & Stapleton's shop. This machine when completed will be superior in many respects to those of eastern manufacture. The price it is thought, can be placed at a less figure than it will cost to import from abroad.

[Daily Press, Jan. 13.] From a gentleman from French Prairie we learn that the field of grain sown early in the fall, are extremely fine and to all appearances promise an abundant harvest. We think farmers will find by experience that early sown grain will be far more profitable than if the same field were sowed in the winter or spring. Our informant also stated that notwithstanding the low prices now ruling, a large number of acres will be sown this spring so that the usual yield of grain on the prairie will not fall below that of former years.

The Commercial department of the Willamette University is a success from the commencement. The class in book keeping already numbers forty pupils, and the class in penmanship contains ninety.

Yesterday evening the river was raising slowly but steadily. The water at dark was five feet above low water mark.

The small boys of the East Salem district school have organized themselves in a juvenile military company and have daily drills. They thus have order at play.

Bids and proposals are invited for the construction of 18 miles of the Coos Bay Wagon Road.

A boy was born on the Santiam, a few days ago, who has webs between his toes clear to the ends.

The remains of a man were found recently five miles East of Salem.

Mr. Smith, of Buena Vista Pottery, informs us that their works are so arranged that the supply of ware is governed entirely by the demand. They are fixed to manufacture four times the amount they now do by simply increasing the number of hands.

Mr. S. thinks there are many resources of Oregon lying undeveloped that would amply repay any one of sufficient enterprise to bring them out. For instance, he knows of a bed of regular porcelain clay, which would make China ware of the very best variety. The wealth of Oregon is not half told yet.

FRANG'S CHROMO—a journal of popular art, has made its appearance on our table. It is devoted to an illustration and explanation of Prang's Celebrated Chromo's, and contains wood cuts of the more famous; and a priced catalogue. Address L. Prang & Co., Boston.
