Newspaper Laws.

The following is taken from one of our exchanges. We commend it to the attention of those interested:

Many persons seem to suppose themselves released from all obligation to publishers if they have ceased to take papers from the post office or other place to which they have been sent, others entertaining the opinion that if they never authorized the paper sent they may take it out of the office one, two or three years, and be relieved from paying for it upon the assumption that they never subscribed. Such is not the case; the law expressly states otherwise. Any person taking a paper from the post office, or other means of delivery, becomes responsible and cannot release himself except by paying for it and ordering it discontinued. Neither can a party who is in arrearages order his paper stopped until they are paid. The law says that publishers may continue to send such paper till all charges are paid. Persons removing from a place and leaving their papers uncalled for, and without giving notice of their removal, are deemed guilty of fraud, so decided by the courts. No person is excused from his obligation to a newspaper unless he pays up the full amount of his indebtedness and properly orders it stopped, unless he be irresponsible. The law goes this far to protect publishers because it is not possible for them to know whether their papers are taken from the office, or that persons have removed and left them uncalled for. To an individual subscriber this may seem a trifling matter, but to the publishers is a very grave one. Suppose that fifty or a hundred cases should occur in one year, it would be serious to the publisher.

BEAUTIFUL.—The following is one of Mr. Prentice's little waifs, so many of which appeared in the Louisville Journal in its palmiest days:

Sometime—it is a sweet, sweet song, warbled to and from among the topmost boughs of the heart, and filling the whole air with such joy and gladness as the songs of birds do when the summer morning comes out of darkness, and day is born on the mountains. We have all of our possessions in the future, which we call "sometime." Beautiful flowers and singing birds are there, only our hands seldom grasp the one, or our ears hear the other. But, oh reader, be of good cheer, for all the good is a golden "sometime," when the hills and valleys of time are all passed; when the wear and fever, the disappointment and the sorrow of life are over, then there is the place and the rest appointed of God. Oh, homestead, over whose roof falls no shadows or even clouds, and over whose threshold the voice of sorrow is never heard, built upon the eternal hills and standing with thy spires and pinnacles of celestial beauty among the palm trees of the city on high, those who love God shall rest under thy shadows, where there is no more sorrow nor pain, nor the sound of weeping "sometime."

That greatly decried institution, the mother-in-law, has at last found an apologist—Judge Payton, of Pennsylvania. In a recent divorce he said: "As to much abused mothers in-law I have a word to say. I hold them in high respect, and yet, from observation, I have arrived at the conclusion that young married people had better live alone. There are good mothers-in-law—very good ones—and yet, with the best of them there might be trouble."

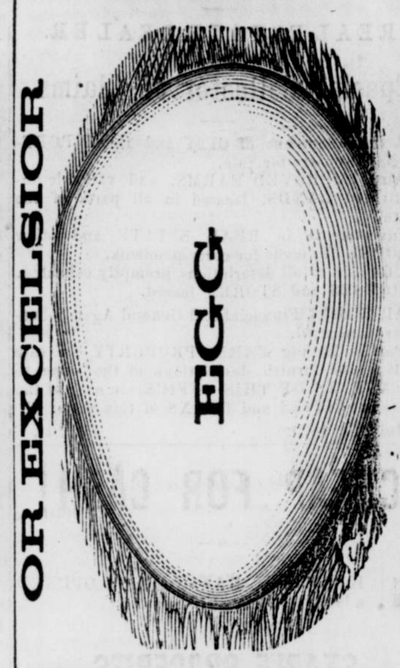
EAKINS'



SUBSTITUTE,

This Powder is invaluable to the Housekeeper, Hotel and Restaurant Proprietors, Miners and owners of Steamships and sea going vessels, it does away with the necessity of providing Eggs for Puddings, Cakes, Fancy Breads, etc., as the contents of each tin is equal in every respect (for the above purpose) to four dozen of Eggs.

It dispenses ENTIRELY with the use of Soda, Saleratus and Cream of Tartar, (three ingredients that are very apt to disagree with delicate stomachs), and is a friend to the dyspeptic, as it makes the food into which it is introduced, light and wholesome. It is entirely free from all mineral ALKALIES, and is recommended by the Faculty to those suffering from sour stomachs and impaired digestion, or irregularity of the biliary secretions.

The above article is put up in sealed cans, and warranted to keep in all climates.

Directions on each box.

EAKINS'

Celebrated California

Buckeye Salve.

Patented March, 1868.

A certain cure for Rheumatism, Paralysis, Piles and Old Sores.

The therapeutic value of this salutary preparation is exhibited in its application as a medicament in cases where, owing to disease, a partial suspension of the vital powers has taken place, as in

RHEUMATISM OR PARALYSIS, and where the animal functions have become inert or inoperative, as in

PILES, FISTULA AND CHRONIC SORES.

It permeates the system, into which it becomes thoroughly absorbed, and thus it strikes at the root of evil in both Rheumatism and Paralysis. As a lenitive, it mitigates pain and soothes the irritation of the parts affected. It is both emollient and depuratory in its action on sores, which it mollifies and softens, and it effectually cleanses them from impurities and foreign matter, causing them to cicatrise rapidly.

DISCOVERY OF THE BUCKEYE.

The curative properties of the Buckeye, Nut, from which this ointment is principally expressed, were first brought to notice by Mr. Conroy, who, while residing in Anderson's Valley, suffered so severely from Rheumatism, that he could move neither hand nor foot. He had known the natives to use the nut as a specific, and tried it with great success on himself. The potency of its effects as a drug is exemplified in its singular operations on cattle, by which, when taken, it causes abortion in those animals that are with young when the nut is eaten. Squirrels, as if aware of its medicinal properties, eat but half of it, leaving the other half untasted.

So wonderful is the efficacy of this production of nature, in cases of Rheumatism, that many of the old settlers and early Californians subject to the disease, carry the nut about their persons, not only as an antidote, but as a preventive.

In no cases where THIS PREPARATION has been applied to the human subject, has it failed in establishing a COMPLETE CURE in the diseases above mentioned.

ADDRESS
TO THE
NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED
WHOSE SUFFERINGS HAVE BEEN
PROTRACTED FROM HIDDEN CAUSES, AND WHOSE CASES REQUIRE
PROMPT TREATMENT,

To Render Existence Desirable.

If you are suffering or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia, or liver complaint?

NOW, READER,

self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health.

MAKE THE MAN.

DID YOU EVER THINK

that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering successful business men, are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health?

You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, or palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only

RUIN THEIR CONSTITUTIONS,

but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excessess, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease.

IDIOCY, LUNACY, PARALYSIS, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.
