

SICK PAUPERS.—The Sentinel man is terribly afflicted, of late, with the "Hospital" mania. If the disease continues much longer we fear he will become a better candidate for State than County charity.

It is not good policy, as a general rule, to borrow trouble, especially in matters that appertain to the affairs of other individuals, but we are not a little bothered to understand what our radical contemporaries will do for editorial themes after the finale to Williams' senatorial aspirations is recorded next Tuesday.

ANOTHER.—Cupid has invaded the serried ranks of the newspaper fraternity, and now that the line is broken, many a poor fellow is taken prisoner for life.

We see by our exchanges that Beriah Brown has taken charge of the Olympia Standard. Mr. Brown is a steadfast and fearless advocate of what he believes to be Democratic principles, and is not to be turned aside by the malignant abuse of either the foes or friends of those principles.

Our fellow-citizens of the Republican persuasion, having failed at the polls, now resort to the expedient of petitioning Democrats to forego the fruits of their victory and vote for Williams.

NORTHERN papers have gotten up a directory of the members of the Legislature, in which the Jackson county delegation stands as follows: J. Rader, Jas. Watts, A. J. Bennett.

THE Journal man has a pair of scales suspended at the head of his leading column, but that's no indication that he weighs anything. They seem symbolical of the scriptural quotation: "Weighed in a balance and found wanting."

"We are honestly trying, Mr. NEWS, to correct the evils of our own organization.—Republican.

"Mine got," man, what a big undertaking! "Can the leopard change his spots, or the Ethiopian his skin?"

BROTHER GALE cherishes the pleasing idea that he is carrying irreparable consternation into the ranks of the Democracy. So long as no body else is influenced by the same illusion, we guess there'll be no great damage done.

MR. ABBOTT, of the Bedrock Democrat, seems to be a little querulous on the subject of local preachers. We are the resignedest folks out this way you never saw.

THE Editor of the Bulletin is very much disgusted with the drinking water of Portland. That gives him a good excuse for putting less of it in his coffee.

THE Webfooters are merry over the fact of having had a railroad accident, on their embryo line, already. One man escaped being killed by coming up on the next train.

MR. UPTON has moved his paper to Salem. We always thought those fellows down there needed Mercurial treatment.

That Petition.

A petition was in circulation throughout the county the present week instructing J. Rader, Jos. Wells, and A. J. Burnett, Representatives, and Senator Fay to vote for no man for U. S. Senator not pledged in favor of the Williams' amendment to the Humboldt Railroad Bill, and to vote for such a man as will have sufficient influence to cause the railroad to be built through Rogue River Valley.

Try Again.

In showing us how extremely anomalous the position into which a man may sometimes place himself, and yet try to palm off his devious meanderings as the result of consistency, the publisher and proprietor (?) of a certain Williams' organ at the other end of the State must forever be conceded as taking the lead.

To the Point.

Those who take stock in the vaunted progress of this Black Republican age are referred to the latest edition as embodied in the Iowa Resolutions, to be found on the first page of to-day's paper.

We desire to call the attention of the Oregonian, Bulletin, Senator Williams and the few radicals of the Union Republican party in Oregon, to the fact that the Republicans of Iowa, in convention assembled, have solemnly declared in favor of striking the word "white" out of the naturalization laws, wherever it occurs, and this sentiment is endorsed by the Toledo Blade.

WAR NEWS.—The telegraph, after an interruption of a couple of days, is in working order again. The march upon Paris is once more resumed. A heroic defense may be expected. The French claim some minor successes of late. The question of negotiations is somewhat mixed. The Prussians threaten to take Paris before making any treaty.

Full of Advice.

The New York World, after getting through with its advice to the South, may not be stepping beyond its boundary in offering suggestions to the party throughout the entire United States; but its manner, and the kind of advice it seems most exuberant of, have a tendency to cause many of its smooth sayings to be little heeded.

Another argument adduced by the World that we fear must fall stillborn upon Democrats throughout the country, is the one, couched in ingenious phrase, recommending the pursuance of tactics such as were displayed by our political foemen in their struggle for the ascendancy.

We were predisposed to believe that the main thing that tended to strengthen the Democratic party and increase its numerical forces, was the fact of its differing so essentially in principle with the one in power, both as regards measures and party discipline.

And what are the deductions to be made from the fact of the Democratic party "pitching the key" so extremely low as to accept of Negro suffrage and many other monstrosities of the fanatical party we oppose?

UNFAIR.—It would look a little more honorable in the Editor of the Eugene Journal, if he must resort to garbled extracts to show that another writer meant something right the reverse of what he did say, not to endeavor to make up for a deficiency in the evidence through deliberate misconstructions of his own.

RED MEN.—A number of "poor Lo's" visited our town from Klamath Lake this week. We expect they have heard of the establishment of two different lodges of Red Men in Jacksonville and want to verstehen what it signifies.

Telegraphic.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 5th.—[Special Cable to the Herald.]—Prussian scouts are reported at Valenciennes.

McMahon was terribly wounded, but is not dead.

De Failly was not shot by his own soldiers, but was killed by a shell.

Trochu's headquarters are at the Tuileries.

PARIS, Sept. 6th.—[Special to the World.]—Everything goes on quietly in the organization of the Government and the army. No disturbance to day except one deplorable one in the vicinity of Clegvaux-court, where the Paris correspondent of the London Telegraph, on his way to make a tour of the fortifications, was mistaken for a Prussian spy and set upon by the populace and nearly killed before he could be rescued by the gendarmes.

A body of ladies from the Faubourg St. Germain to day waited on Trochu at the Tuileries, and offered their services in the preparation of hospitals. They were repeatedly cheered on their departure by a vast crowd.

LONDON, Sept. 6th.—It is announced to-day that Bismarck has declared that Germany does not want Alsace or Lorraine, only the destruction of the fortifications of Strasbourg and the French Rhine frontier, a small war indemnity, and the reduction of the French army.

It is reported Favre has proposed an offer of reduction of all standing armies on both sides of the Rhine, except for garrison purposes.

A correspondent of the London Times, Colonel Pemberton, was killed by a stray shot at Sedan.

The Prince Imperial arrived at Dover this afternoon, and was received by the Mayor, and left at once with suite on special train for Hastings, where he will for the present remain.

The English Government has offered no terms of settlement, but through Lord Lyons and Lord Loftus it has assured both Governments of its anxiety at any moment to act as a common friend.

Official documents from the German authorities at Sedan, state that the Emperor was under fire of the Prussian guns several hours.

The siege of Metz goes on without a decided visible effect upon the besieged; it is conducted by General Von Moresnet.

PARIS, Sept. 9th.—The official journal of the Republic publishes the reply of Jules Favre to Minister Washburne. He says: "He considered it a happy augury for the French Republic to have obtained her first recognition from the United States, who moulded their wise and comfortable institutions on independence and civil virtue, and, in spite of the terrible ordeals which they pass through, conserved with unshaken firmness their faith in the great principle of liberty, whence issue dignity and prosperity."

"Nations desiring to become masters of their own destiny, must follow the course pursued by yours—must take as symbols love of industry and respect of the rights of all; this is the programme of the Government just established here, from an unfortunate crisis, the result of follies; but at this moment we can have only one care—to deliver the nation from its enemy. Then, again, we have the benefit of your example and your persevering courage. In the accomplishment of this task we count upon the support of all men of heart and all Governments interested in the triumph of peace. Strong in the justice of our cause, we have a firm hope of success, and the recognition of the Government of Washington gives us confidence."

"The members of our Government request me to make known to you their gratitude, and beg you to transmit it to your Government."
