O Tempora! O Mores!

'Tis hard I just to witness the changes!
How soon can a country run down!
Decay, without hindrance, now ranges
O'er county, and township, and town.
And sad is the tale that the faces
Of people now tell as they pass;
While even their slow-driving paces
Are signs of ennui en masse.

Adieu, then, to all that existed
When times were unusually good,
With those who were amply assisted
To stem fortune's tide at its flood.
To strikes which were once very common,
We say, with reluctance, farewell;
Good-bye to the old mode of tomin',
For sluices will now seldom tell.

No wonder we hear loud complaining
From settlers, alike, old and new,
To find that the prospects for gaining,
Are growing provokingly few.
Ravines which were once quite prolific,
(Paid a fortune a day, near about,)
Like much of the o'er-praised Pacific,
Have "petered" entirely out.

Alas, for the "poor, honest miner!"
Alas, for all others as well!
And where is the trusty diviner
Who ought of our future can tell?
What hope for the gay birds of fashion?
What chance for the "bummer" 'bout town?
Alas, too, for those who've a passion
For pouring "Hell's beverages" down!

And what will become of our gallants,
With those who are fond of the dance?
I fear that their amiable talents
Will wither 'neath Poverty's glance.
And oh! is it not very cruel?
And have we no other redress
But to brave all the world's ridicule
By running in debt to excess?

It more than surprises a native
To witness the triumphs of "cheek"—
A quality more operative
As lucre grows harder to seek.
With heads very high on their shoulders
Some folks will contrive to look grand,
And act as if they were the holders
Of all of the wealth in the land.

Like comets, they shine for a season
More observed than fixed orbs of the sky;
So little has poor honest reason
To do with our vox populi.
But may we not judge, from dissensions
Pertaining to times that we share,
Henceforth, Fate's a foe to pretensions
Unless they are "all on the square."

A TERRIBLE CALAMITY.—The Point Pleasant (W. Va.) Journal, learns from a reliable source the following horrible affair, which occurred in Roane county, a few days ago: A lady, whose name our informant had forgotten, residing upon the above named creek, had gone down to it in the morning for the purpose of doing "the week's washing," taking with her the youngest child, an infant about a year old, leaving her other three at the house. While engaged at her work, she heard suppressed screams at the house. Taking up her little child from the soiled clothes upon which it was sitting she placed it in an empty wash-tub to keep it from crawling into the creek during her absence, and hastened to the house, where she met her eldest child with its head frightfully disfigured and swollen. She hastily glanced from this one that the three children had crawled under the house in search of eggs; that while under, something had hurt them, and that the two other children were still under the house. The mother, upon looking under the house, found them nearly dead, with several moccasin snakes (a very poisonous and deadly species) crawling around their bodies. The neighbors were alarmed, and by their assistance the snakes were killed, and the unfortunate children taken out, their bodies presenting a frightful and sickening appearance. By this time the elder one was a corpse. The mother, in her despair and agony, had forgotten until now her little one at the creek, and upon going down to the creek for it, was only to find it a corpse in the water. It is supposed the little child climbed up in the tub, and was holding to the lower edge of it, when the tub upset, rolling the child into the water below, and drowning it. It is said the mother's grief was so great that at last accounts she was a raving maniac.

A Connecticut boy, who had the western fever and went to Omaha, writes that five hundred men are out of work; that wages run from $1 80 to $2 75 per day, with board from $5 to $8. As to the "garden of the West," he says that wild lands in Nebraska are like certain sand plains in Connecticut, where the winters are severe and drought and grasshoppers use up what grows in the summer.

A woman's life has two eventful periods. One, when she wonders who she will have; the other when she wonders who will have her.

EAKINS'

EGG

OR EXCELSIOR

YEAST POWDER.

SUBSTITUTE,

This Powder is invaluable to the Housekeeper, Hotel and Restaurant Proprietors, Miners and owners of Steamships and sea-going vessels, as it does away with the necessity of providing Eggs for Puddings, Cakes, Fancy Breads, etc., as the contents of each tin is equal in every respect (for the above purpose) to four dozen of Eggs.

It dispenses ENTIRELY with the use of Soda, Saleratus and Cream of Tartar, (three ingredients that are very apt to disagree with delicate stomachs), and is a friend to the dyspeptic, as it makes the food into which it is introduced, light and wholesome. It is entirely free from all mineral ALKALIES, and is recommended by the Faculty to those suffering from sour stomachs and impaired digestion, or irregularity of the biliary secretions.

The above article is put up in sealed cans, and warranted to keep in all climates.

Directions on each box.

EAKINS'

Celebrated California

Buckeye Salve.

Patented March, 1868.

A certain cure for Rheumatism, Paralysis, Piles and Old Sores.

The therapeutic value of this salutary preparation is exhibited in its application as a medicinal agent in cases where, owing to disease, a partial suspension of the vital powers has taken place, as in

RHEUMATISM OR PARALYSIS, and where the animal functions have become inert or inoperative, as in

PILES, FISTULA AND CHRONIC SORES.

It permeates the system, into which it becomes thoroughly absorbed, and thus it strikes at the root of evil in both Rheumatism and Paralysis. As a lenitive, it mitigates pain and soothes the irritation of the parts affected. It is both emollient and depuratory in its action on sores, which it mollifies and softens, and it effectually cleanses them from impurities and foreign matter, causing them to cicatrize rapidly.

DISCOVERY OF THE BUCKEYE.

The curative properties of the Buckeye, Nut, from which this ointment is principally expressed, were first brought to notice by Mr. Conroy, who, while residing in Anderson's Valley, suffered so severely from Rheumatism, that he could move neither hand nor foot. He had known the natives to use the nut as a specific, and tried it with great success on himself. The potency of its effects as a drug is exemplified in its singular operations on cattle, by which, when taken, it causes abortion in those animals that are with young when the nut is eaten. Squirrels, as if aware of its medicinal properties, eat but half of it, leaving the other half unattended.

So wonderful is the efficacy of this production of nature, in cases of Rheumatism, that many of the old settlers and early Californians subject to the disease, carry the nut about their persons, not only as an antidote, but as a preventive.

In no cases where THIS PREPARATION has been applied to the human subject, has it failed in establishing a COMPLETE CURE in the diseases above mentioned.

Beware of Counterfeits.—Ask for Eakins' Buckeye Salve, and take no other.

ADDRESS

TO THE

NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED

WHOSE SUFFERINGS

HAVE BEEN

PROTRACTED FROM HIDDEN CAUSES,

AND WHOSE CASES REQUIRE

PROMPT TREATMENT,

To Render Existence Desirable.

If you are suffering or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or frothy or is itropy on setting? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspnea? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia, or liver complaint?

NOW, READER,

self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health.

MAKE THE MAN.

DID YOU EVER THINK

that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering successful business men, are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, or palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only

RUIN THEIR CONSTITUTIONS,

but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease.

IDIOCY, LUNACY,

PARALYSIS,

spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT

is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.
