A number of songs were given, some by the children and others by the parents, Mrs Wilson presiding at the organ.

A special feature of the exercises was a number of marches, some being by the Florence school and others by Glenda. In several of the marches the participants carried wreaths, grass and flowers which they arranged to illustrate the words of each part.

At the conclusion Rev. H H Buckner dismissed the audience with the benediction.

OBITUARY AND BIOGRAPHICAL.

Died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs W A Cox, at Capelanis near Florence, Oregon, at 6 o'clock a m. June 14, 1899, William Frederick Phipps, aged 65 years, 1 month and 25 days.

To the student, or even to the casual reader, of American history and literature of the Colonial period the name of Sir William Phipps is very familiar.

Hawthorne in one of his early papers has given graphic pictures of many occurrences of this time. The name is associated chronologically with those of Wolfe, Montcalm, Sir William Pepperell, William Penn, Josiah Winslow, Captain Church who captured King Philip and a host of others.

The subject of this brief sketch was a direct descendant of Sir William Phipps, (Phipps in the historical orthography.) His father, then a lad of 15 years and 8 months served in the Revolutionary war as a commissary clerk.

He had many narrow escapes and thrilling experiences, which in after years he loved to relate to his family and friends. After the close of the war he, true to the hereditary instincts of the family, from Sir William down, followed the sea.

He sailed up the Pacific coast and into Queen's Charlotte's sound, passing perhaps in sight of the future home of one of his children and grandchildren, long before Oregon was known to civilization or had passed into the possession of the United States.

Finally he met and married a daughter of Dr Azor Betts who was a surgeon in the English army during the Revolutionary war. Dr Betts, after the war was over settled in the Province of Nova Scotia while the son-in-law instead of returning to Boston with his brothers and sisters, settled in the Province of New Brunswick.

William Frederick Phipps was the youngest and last surviving child of this family, he being the seventh. His father, like himself, lived to be an octogenarian, and was until the close of his life a Revolutionary pensioner.

He was born April 20th, 1814, in Westfield, Kings county, New Brunswick. In 1835 he married Hannah Sanders. To them were born seven children all of whom except Mrs W A Cox, have passed on before.

His faithful wife with whom he passed 65 wedding anniversaries, and who was but two days younger than he, died Feb. 14th, 1898. Mr and Mrs Phipps were members of the Episcopal church having been confirmed by the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia at the church of St John in Cornwallis, 1838.

In 1860 they came to Eugene, Oregon with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs W A Cox, starting for the Siuslaw Oct. 17th, one of their wedding anniversaries.

Mr Phipps was quite a writer in prose and poetry. Mrs Cox has much of his literary work and expects to put this in book form as a souvenir for other members of the family and friends.

Go to thy Heavenly father's rest! The flowers of Eden around thee bloom, And on thine ear the marmurs blest Of Sion's waters softly flowing!

Beneath that Tree of Life which gives To all the earth its healing leaves In the white robe of angels clad, And wandering by that sacred river, Whose streams of holiness make glad The city of our God forever!

By request—S M., Ada, Ore., 6, 10, 1899.

NOTICE. All the members of Heceta Lodge, No. 111, I O O F are hereby respectfully requested to be present at the meeting held on Wednesday evening, July 5th, 1899, and bring well-filled lunch baskets.

Visiting brethren are also cordially invited. The occasion will be the installation of officers and the conferring of several degrees. Let us have a good turn-out and enjoy a sociable evening.

HERMANN ITEMS. BY C.

June 27th, 1899. The growth of grass is so heavy that some of it is falling down.

T Neely of Seaton was scorching our roads with his bike Thursday.

Wm Ferris has done more slashing on his ranch this year than anyone else on the creek.

In my trip to Florence and back last week the finest piece of corn seen was that of W W Neely's at Seaton.

There is some quiet prospecting going on here, and you may hear of some valuable leads being discovered soon.

We have had several weeks of dry warm weather, but for the last few days there has been an abundance of rain.

Chittens peeling is at a stand still during this damp weather, the yield will not be near a much as anticipated.

Albert Bristow, another of the first settlers, who is now living near Irving has been shaking hands with his old friends and neighbors for a day or two.

So you are going to have the Declaration of Independence read on the Fourth of July. What's the use of parading the state old things when the friends of the administration tell us we have outgrown it and the constitution.

H J Dickey and his sons Elbert and Harvey, from near Junction, have been in Hermann for a few days. Mr Dickey was one of the first settlers on Indian creek, and still owns the ranch in the forks of the creek.

Robert Gibson of Fern Ridge is visiting with his brother Squire Gibson. He made the trip, about sixty miles, in one day on his bike. Not very bad traveling when you consider that most of the distance was through the mountains.
