You feel the blood rushing along.
But what kind of blood? That is the question.
Is it pure blood or impure blood? If the blood is impure then you are weak and languid; your appeare is poor and your digestion is weak. You can-not cleep well and the morning finds you unprepared for the work of the day. Your cheeks are pale and your com-plexion is sellow. You

"How do you figure that out?"

"I had appendicitis the other day," up a point about which I was curious. It was a work on diagnosis, and among other things it gave a minute description of the symptoms of appendicitis. I have always been much afraid of the malady, and that chapter had a hideous fascination for me. I read it and reread it, and as I did so it seemed to me that Guaranteed Fast Black some of the premonitory signs coincided exactly with certain aches and pains I had felt for several days. I got alarmed at once, and that night was panic stricken by a severe cramp a little northeast of the fatal spot, and, needless to say, I didn't sleep a wink.

"By morning I had all the symptoms of a typical case and could scarcely got around to see the doctor. I began to tell him my story when he stopped me. 'How do you come to know so much about the disease?' he asked. "I replied proudly that I had been Pretty Patterns rending up on it. " 'The dickens you have!' he replied. 'Well, you get right out of this office, confound you, and don't waste any more of my time!' "Then he explained that every medical student always has all the diseases on record, in regular order, just as he 30 yds. calico for $1.00 studies 'eni, and I began to feel better. I went home, returned the blasted book, and am now entirely out of danger, thank you. It was the quickest re-covery on record." - New Orleans Times Democrat.

A Queer Examination. Difficulties of the civil service examinations are multiplied tenfold in the requirements set down by law of applicants for positions in the mail service

In the first place an applicant must have strength and courage. To acquire these he goes through a very queer method of training. He wanders through mountains and valleys, forests and caves. The exact time to be occupied in a trip is fixed by law, and a heavy fine imposed for unnecessary delay. must repeat these trips at night, and if he listens to the bad spirits and thereby fails to appear at the required time at a certain place he is sure to lose his rights to a position.

This is not all. He is obliged to carry an enormous weight for many miles and return with it within a given time. No allowance is made for his inability to defend himself against thieves and highwaymen, his road usually leading through a district thick with bandits.

In training the candidate eats very little-though he is used to this-and he tries every straining exercise. Then comes his real examination under the direction of government officials. He is taken into a long room, where, sus-pended from a high beam with strong ropes, are very heavy sacks filled with

The candidate must give a swinging motion to all these secks and then run to and fro between them, carefully guarding against a blow by one of the Curiosities of Journalism. A paper in India recently published the following explanation: "This is only the beginning of our paper. We were not sure how much matter was required to fill it up, and, thinking we had sufficient, we did not exert ourselves much to get any more. We therefore beg that our readers will excuse us this time for the space left blank, and we promise to do better and get more in the future. Still more curious was the announcement of a paper which came out for the first time with two columns blank, the editor making the bold announcement that "a large quantity of exceedingly interesting matter has been left out for want of space. When the native editor wants a holiday, he suspends publication until it is convenient to resume, and, taking his magnificent broad shoulders and splenreaders into his confidence, informs did face drove, and he was a murderer. them plainly why the paper was not issued on the expected dates: "With the consent of our readers, we now propose to take our annual holiday. The Americans In Egypt. Astronomers generally now admit Americans occupy an important posi-tion in extending the prosperity and civilization of modern Egypt. that the more recent studies of the planets Mercury and Venus tend to confirm Schiaparelli's opinion, advanced some years ago, that both of them turn Not only do they form at least one third of the tourists visiting Egypt, and on their axes once while revolving about the sun. the same be a correct opinion, then the climatic conditions of the two planets must be most remarkable. Furthermore, Mr. Boffin Snubbed by Dicke "Dodd the Dustman," who found the barge race, meant to be the founder ed the money to Benjamin Webster and Charles Dickens and was not altogether well treated in the matter. He was certainly not an aristocratic donor, and the source of the money might have been materials for ridicule, but he certainly merited more civility than he got. Webster shelved him rather shabbily, and Dickens caricatured him as "Boffin, the must be on a planet which has one side Golden Dustman."-London Mail.

His Pointed Query. Hamilton palace was one of the first great houses in Scotland to use dessertspoons. A rough country squire, dining there for the first time, had been served between the second course with a sweet dish containing cream or jelly, and with it the servant handed him a dessertearly in the morning, and she was a murderess. I went to the little tent outspoon. The laird turned it round and side to have breakfast, and a man came round in his great fist and said to the up behind me and reached over my DEAR MADAM—The exigencies of my profession led me just now into possession of your purse, where I find 63 shillings, which I appropriate to my own needs, and these papers, which I return to you. I do this because I feel especially desirous to restere this little white envelope, which I have not been indiscreet enough to open. I know very well that when s young woman goes out with a little white, envelope so carefully carried in her pocketbook that this envelope contains a love lotter which she is seeking a chance to address secretly to her beloved. I will not wrong your lover by taking the sweet words and kisses which you meant for him, and I am very serry that. I have even for a short time delayed his receiving his letter. May you be happy, dear girl, with him whom you have chosen, and believe always in the good wishes of your obedient servant. strength.

It is just these people that Dr. Pierce's Goiden Medical Discovery is designed to aid. It is the strong, helping hand for those who are in the extreme of bodily weakness and nervous exhaustion. It promptly tones, nourishes and builds up the entire system. It gives keen appetite, good digestion, pure blood, muscular strength, nerve-force and renewed activity.
