A RUNAWAY ICE YACHT.

An Exciting Chase and a Narrow Escape From Death.

Some years ago there was a runaway down at Shelter Island in which a young girl was left in the boat with a gale blowing. She tried to throw the sheet loose, but it was frozen and her fingers were too cold, added to which the sheet had fouled the tiller, and she could not bring the boat up into the wind to stop its way, the sail being so set that the boat continued running right along at a terrific rate of speed. Occupants of the other boats soon realized the position and made chase, gaining slowly, one boat finally being far in the lead of the others by the time the end of the island was left behind. Right in front lay the end of the ice, broken short by the action of the tide water, and there the breakers rolled in, throwing up the anchor ice, dashing it down, and then retreating, sucking it under the floe and packing it up for another break.

For some time it was a question as to whether the chasing boat would catch up with the girl before she was carried over the edge to certain death. But at last the boat was snatched by strong arms to the pursuer's yacht, the sheet was eased off in a dash, and, spinning round in its own length, it was set right before the wind instead of reaching into it, just as the runaway dashed over into the anchor ice.

A short, sharp crack gave notice of the parting of the ice beneath the voyagers of the now homeward bound savior, and with a long stagger, which only her speed enabled her to withstand, she dashed across the fast opening crack, safe, to be brought up into the wind at a distance, while she into the runaway danced, a wreck among the broken ice. It was one of the close calls of ice yachting which, thank goodness, very seldom occur.—W. P. Pond in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

LUCKY DEUCE OF SPADES.

Remarkable Run of Luck, But All For the Other Man.

One by one the old superstitions are being torn from us. People nowadays walk ostentatiously under ladders and suffer no evil consequences. Friday is quite a popular day for the commencement of a long journey, and sitting down to dinner is frequently unattended with untoward results. A deeply rooted superstition among card players is a belief in the lucky properties of the two of spades. The lucky card player's faith, however, was severely shaken by a phenomenal coincidence which occurred only a few days ago.

An Unfair Condition.

The University of Rochester has resolved to open its doors to women, the policy to take effect when the women of Rochester raise $100,000 for the use of the university. Rochester papers report Miss Anthony as saying that the one blot on her city is removed, and she is as happy as if another state had been carried for woman's suffrage. The condition attached to the concession, however, prevents The Tribune from feeling very hilarious over it. Unless the University of Rochester is very different from all other universities women have already contributed their fair share and ought not to have to buy the educational privileges which should belong equally to the sons and daughters of the city and state.—Woman's Tribune.

Geologists estimate the great coal-fields of the world in square miles as follows:

China, 200,000; United States, east of the Rockies, 190,000; Canada, 65,000; India, 85,500; New South Wales, 24,000; Russia, 20,000, and the United Kingdom, 11,500. There are many deposits in other countries, but their extent is inconsiderable. England's coal area is small; still she for years produced more than any other country. Now the United States is ahead. English coal veins are thin; only 14 inches wide has been worked 1,200 feet down. On the other hand, there are veins in the Pennsylvania anthracite region 60 feet thick and in the bituminous regions 18 feet thick. Our Appalachian coalfields are the largest known, and alone could supply the whole world for centuries to come.

An Original Oath of Allegiance.

In the old days when the Spanish province of Aragon was a proud and independent monarchy, the people used, when choosing their king, the following singular form of election.

"We, the freeborn inhabitants of the ancient kingdom of Aragon, who are equal to you, Don Philip, and something more, elect you to be our king on condition that you preserve to us our rights and privileges. If in this you should fail, we own you for our king no longer."—Harper's Round Table.

50 YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it? And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more? Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer. It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth. It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also. It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair. It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation. We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you. If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, write the doctor about it. You will receive a free trial of your personal system which may be recommended by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

A man loves an ideal; a woman idealizes love. No woman ever claimed that the funny white things were meant to be useful. When a girl proposes to a man, she always acts as if she expected him to apologize for it. You can patch up a broken heart so that it will keep on loving any old thing, but when faith is shattered it is done for.

Didn't Keep Up the Record.

"Bill writes from Texas," said the parent, "that he's in jail again, an he peers to be hopeless over it. I wonder of the example of his family ain't it spair to him? His grand'father brose jail six times; his uncle dug out three times; but he ain't any of the rest of the family. It's my opinion that Bill has fallen from grace!"—Atlanta Constitution.

A Mistaken Impression.

"Did you hear about the speech I made just before the close of congress?" inquired the returned statesman. "We read it out loud down to the store," answered Farmer Cortesol. "Ah! What did you think of it?" "Well, we didn't blame congress for makin' up its mind to quit an go home."—Washington Star.

A POSSIBILITY.

Railroad Tickets Selling at Bargain Counter Prices.

She was a portly lady, with a lot of bundles—and it may be noted at this point that the larger a lady is the larger and more numerous are the bundles she carries—and when she entered the rail road station she was pulling so that a drowsy man on the front seat jumped up suddenly, thinking it was the engine of the train he was waiting for. She approached the ticket window, and there she put her bundles in all the available space. They were nice, new, store bundles, however, and no objection was made.

Primitive Pipes.

The earliest Indian pipes were simply tubes, in one end of which the tobacco or dried leaves were put. It has been found that the pipes used by the ancient Romans were made on the same plan. The bowl being an invention reserved for a comparatively recent day. It is worthy mentioning incidentally that the cigarette is really an invention of the Indians. They made cigarettes just like those now in use, with wads of the thickest cigar paper.

Ireland Called Many Names.

Few countries have suffered so many changes of name as Ireland. In the time of Ptolemy the island was known as Scotia. Diodorus Siculus was the island Irish, or Erin; in the "De Mundo" credited by some scholars to Aristotle, it is called Ierne; in the "Argonautica of Orpheus" it appears as Irius; Strabo calls it Irenae; Tacitus and Pliny mention it as Hibernia; Mela called it Juverna. The native names in Celtic are Ir, Eri, or Erin. Plutarch mentions it under the name of Ogygia. The name Ireland is no doubt derived from the native Ir or Eri, but when it came into general use is a question concerning which scholars are much at variance.

Police Justice.

The police justice, who had the reputation of being a strictly upright and honest officer of the law, and had little business, in consequence, looked indignantly at the frayed edges of the individual's coat.

From the day that a young man starts out to seek his first footing in the world of business he has a certain amount of trouble to do with his success. When a young man applies for a position, he is often asked to give a personal appearance before the board of directors. This is a very important step, and the young man must be prepared to make a good impression. He should be clean, well-dressed, and confident. He should also be able to answer questions about his qualifications and his experience. The board of directors will be looking for a young man who is capable, energetic, and ambitious. They will also be looking for a young man who is a team player and who is willing to work hard for the success of the company.
