THE PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

Congressman Tongue is very strongly in favor of the proposed Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland in 1905. Being asked what course he would take in Congress to work in the interests of the fair, Mr. Tongue replied: "That is a very difficult question to answer. You will remember that Portland is not in this congressional district, and, therefore, under usual congressional practice, I could not take the lead in introducing or shaping legislation in reference to the exposition. A bill could be introduced in the Senate, of course, by either Senator. If in the House, it should be done by Representative Moody. It is probable, however, that all of the members of the delegation from Oregon, both in the House and Senate, will confer together, agree upon the legislation to be introduced and act unitedly. Whatever course of action may be decided upon, I shall take off my coat and use all the energy and working ability I possess to assist in making the exposition a success. I believe in it. I suggested something in this line some years ago, but at the time it was not very enthusiastically received. It will be a wonderful advantage, not to Oregon or Portland alone, but to the entire Pacific Coast. Eastern people are getting very much interested in us. They are wanting to know more about us. They want to know more about this portion of the United States. The tourist travel is increasing remarkably. Eastern people are coming here instead of going to Europe. The 1905 exposition would bring them by the thousands. It would do more to make the East acquainted with this coast, with our people, and with our resources, than all other agencies combined for the last ten years. It ought to be a success. It must be a success. Every genuine Oregonian, having at heart his own welfare, and the welfare of the state, will certainly do everything in his power to make the exposition worthy of the intelligence and energy of our people and the variety and extent of our resources."

School savings banks are steadily growing in favor because they teach the pupils habits of thrift. The principal of a school in West Virginia also calls attention to the fact that a noticeable decrease has been brought about in the amount of candy and gum consumed by the girls and the number of cigarettes smoked by the boys. This seems to indicate that the pupils are learning the real meaning of thrift—that it is not merely saving money, but cutting off useless expenditures and foregoing bad habits.

The governor of North Carolina has adopted a wise course in the matter of granting pardons to convicts. He has notified the people of that state that all petitions for pardons must first be advertised for a certain length of time in the newspapers of the locality where the crime was committed. The object of this is to prevent pardons being quietly railroaded without proper examination being made as to the merits of the case, as has been the practice heretofore.

A new law makes the next November term of county courts the time for fixing the boundary line of election precincts. The January term before an election was the time by the old law. The limits must be fixed by the courts so as to conform to ward and road district boundaries. It is also provided that no election precinct will have more than 300 voters. Petitions to the court for desired changes must be brought in at the coming November term or precinct limits will stand for two years as at present arranged.

It is interesting to note that the United States Supreme Court is more nearly up with its docket than it has been for almost half a century. This important statement was made by one of the oldest justices of the court, who declared that a tribunal is now only about a year behind in its docket.—Ex.

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching. "I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. Chester, Pa.

Senator Dietrich, of Nebraska, who is one of the members of congress who went to the Philippines to study for himself the actual conditions in our new possessions, has returned home. He gives a hopeful and encouraging view of affairs in the islands. He says: "The people are living quietly, and are adapting themselves admirably to the new conditions. They are taking kindly to the Government, and its measures are decidedly popular among the native population. In the districts that have been for years scourged by war, industries are springing up again, and agriculture is being re-established. The country is passing through a reconstruction period, much the same as the South after the Civil War. I saw in all the provinces evidences of the ravages of war. Fields and villages have been burned, and irrigation ditches, upon which the agriculture of the country largely depends, have been allowed to go to ruin. Now all this is changing. Fields are being replanted, villages rebuilt, and the natives beginning to resume their agricultural life. This gives a look of thrift to the country, and a marked transformation will be seen within a few years. I can imagine no greater improvement than has been effected in the brief period of American rule."

It is well known that wasps do much injury to fruit, and complaints have been numerous this season from many quarters in this country; but it appears that the possible injury to fruit by bees has been the subject of an exhaustive investigation by the California experiment stations. The conclusions arrived at are that although the mouth parts of bees are so constructed that they might be used for both eating and injuring fruit, all the evidence obtainable points to the fact that is very seldom that an injury is done. In this country the bee has rarely been accused of doing any injury to fruit, but in the fruit-growing districts premiums are offered for the destruction of wasps' nests.—Scientific American.

The value of live cattle exported from the United States for the year ending June 30, 1901, amounted to $37,596,980, against $30,635,153 in the year ending June 30, 1900, and $30,514,853 in the year ending June 30, 1899. The value of the dressed beef and beef products amounted to $44,225,379 for the year ending June 30, 1901; $42,170,407 for the year ending June 30, 1900, and $34,087,874 for the year ending June 30, 1899. The value of hogs and hog products exported for the year ending June 30, 1901, amounted to $120,703,000, against $112,976,670 in the previous year, and $116,379,574 in the year before that.

It has been demonstrated at Sabine Pass, Tex., that the teredo will survive the action of fresh water. Hitherto this marine pest, which is so destructive to wharf piling, was supposed to work only in salt water. The fall of a wharf standing in fresh water at Sabine Pass because of the honeycombing of its fiber by the worm throws new light, however, on its vitality.

Efforts are now being made to have Georgia join the number of southern states that have provided for the disfranchisement of illiterate negroes. The question of revising the state constitution for that purpose is being vigorously agitated, and it is probable a convention will be held before long.

A new remedy for biliousness is now on sale at O. W. Hurd's drug store. It is called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. It is a quick relief and will prevent the attack if given as soon as the first indication of the disease appears. Price, 25 cents per box. Samples free.

We find on our table a copy of "Public Land." This is a weekly publication recently established at Spokane, Wash., and devoted to those interested in the public land of the United States.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Florence Lodge No. 107, A. F. & A. M., at their regular communication adopted the following resolutions: WHEREAS, The murderous hand of an assassin has ruthlessly cut short the great life of Wm. McKinley, the beloved President of the United States, at a time when, with love for all and offense towards none, his wise counsel and strong statesmanship were being exerted in the administration of our nation's affairs; and

WHEREAS, He was an honored member of our craft, whose name we shall ever cherish and which sheds lustre upon our order, and whose distinguished example as a patriot sincerely devoted to his country will ever incite not only us but all mankind to a loftier devotion to duty; and

WHEREAS, As President of the republic at a period which will ever be known and recognized as marking a new and glorious era in our national life, he achieved a fame that will live while our government shall endure, entitling him to rank with the wisest of statesmen, the noblest of patriots, and the greatest of Americans, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That Florence Lodge No. 107, A. F. & A. M., do hereby give expression to our heartfelt grief at the dreadful calamity that has overtaken the nation in the tragic death of so great and so good a man. As a citizen we honored him, as a patriot we followed him, and now, as men and brothers, we mourn him. Let ashes mingle with ashes, and dust with dust, but while the tomb shall hold in its unyielding embrace the body of Wm. McKinley, his spirit shall live until the end of time and to that cause for which his life was sacrificed. Finally, be it

Resolved, That this lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that these resolutions be published in the West one issue. O. W. HURD, Chairman Com.

George Hale and five companions yesterday came over the mountains with guns and a two-horse wagon after wild game.

Road Supervisor Berkshire is happy again. Mrs. B. and the family are home from a visit to her mother's on Coyote Creek. There's a wagon load of them and none of them very large, either.

Martin Olsen and his team have kept moving so steadily between this place and Eugene this fall that the road looks worn.

St. Pierre Willett and Miss Annte Alamsi picked hops in the same box in a valley hop yard this year, and they liked it so well that they decided to occupy the same box the remainder of their lives, and when they got home they announced that they had become man and wife. For the present the bride is stopping at her father-in-law's.

It happened in a Drug Store. "One day last winter a lady came into my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by O. W. Hurd.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

"Something New Under the Sun"

All doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalants and drops in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membrane causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membrane that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharge, and curing all inflammation. It is a truly remarkable discovery, a science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES, the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE," and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use. "SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. GENERAL NEWS.

Hon. Seth Low has been nominated by the republicans and citizens union tickets as the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor of New York.

A fight took place in San Francisco Sunday morning between strikers and policemen. Seven men are known to be wounded, one of them fatally.

E. H. Herriman has been elected president of the Southern Pacific Company to succeed Chas. M. Hays, resigned. He has been chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific. He will direct the affairs of that company from New York.

It is now thought that pugilistic events may soon be revived in Chicago. An ordinance authorizing the appointment of a committee to supervise "wrestling and other boxing exhibitions" was passed by the city council and the mayor declined to veto it, thus permitting it to become a law.

The will of the late President McKinley has been filed for probate. The real estate and income of personal property goes to Mrs. McKinley during her natural life; $1000 is to be paid to his mother annually while she lives, and after her death that amount goes to his sister. The estate is valued at about $225,000.

A Milwaukee dispatch of September 29 says: The annual tour of inspection of the board of managers of the National Soldiers' Home was completed today with the inspection of the National Home of this city. General McMahon, speaking of the board, said: "The board has directed to maintain canteens at all the homes for the good and sufficient reason that experience has taught us that it is better for the veteran and for the people in the community in which the homes are located."
