

HOME INTELLIGENCE.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES IN DALLAS.

Methodist Episcopal Church (South).—A. E. Sears, pastor. Services the First Sabbath in each month at the Baptist Church, southwest corner Jefferson and Court streets.

M. E. Church (North).—G. W. Rook, pastor. Services at their church, north side of Mill street between Main and Jefferson, as follows: First Sabbath (in each month) in the evening; 2d Sabbath, at 11 o'clock a. m.; 3d Sabbath, in the evening. Regular prayer meeting each Wednesday evening. Sunday School every Sabbath at 9 o'clock a. m.

Baptist Church.—J. W. Osborn, pastor. Services at their church, corner Court and Jefferson streets, the Third Sabbath in each month.

Christian Church.—H. M. Waller, pastor. Services at the Baptist Church second Saturday and Sunday in each month.

FUNERAL SERVICE.—Mr. Jonathan Liggett's funeral will be preached at the M. E. Church in Dallas, on the fourth Sabbath in May, by Rev. A. F. Waller.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Divine service will be held at the Baptist church on Saturday and Sunday, 27th and 30th inst., Rev. B. R. Baxter officiating.

"GREEN THINGS GROWING."—Miss Martineau, author of the sweet little poem bearing the above title, would be as much astonished as delighted to witness the marvelous transformation that has taken place in the landscape surrounding Dallas within the past ten or twelve days.

HYMENEAL.—The matrimonial market opened this week lively, and still remains firm with an upward tendency. Last Tuesday Hymen seemed to be, as Joe Gargery would say, "on the rampage," three weddings taking place in Dallas within a few hours.

TO JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.—Our attention has been drawn to the fact that some of the Justices in this county have been in the habit of executing legal instruments, for parties applying for the same, without license to transact such business, thus rendering themselves liable to severe penalty.

READ THIS.—Mr. J. H. Lewis (Uncle Jack) and family desire us to return their heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Dallas generally, for their many valuable services and the uniform kindness and sympathy manifested by them during the recent illness of his son James, now deceased.

FAMILY JARS.—The domestic relations of some of the folks in and around Buena Vista seem to be more brittle than the earthenware for which that little burg is becoming famous.

PATRONIZE HOME ENTERPRISE.—Messrs. Riggs & Campbell have a sash and door factory established in Dallas at which may be found at all times a full stock of superior doors and sashes of their own manufacture.

SHAMEFUL ELOPEMENT.—We learn that the wife of a respected citizen of Buena Vista, in this county, deserted her husband one day last week and eloped with a wretch named Baxter, who leaves a wife and children dependent on their own exertions and the charities of a cold world.

SOMETHING NEW.—That awning in front of the Bank Exchange saloon, where Bill Clingan, the irrepressible, will always be found affable, courteous and attentive to the wants of his customers.

MEMORIAM.

It becomes our sad duty this week to pay the last tribute of respect to the character and memory of one of the brightest ornaments it has been the misfortune of this community to lose. James Knox Polk Lewis, or as he was more frequently called by his familiars "Jimmy Polk" or simply "Jimmy," was born in Old Dallas, about a mile from the present town, on the 12th of January, 1856, and was the youngest son of our esteemed fellow townsfolk J. H. and Ellen Lewis.

He was known to every one in it, and beloved by all who knew him. His affability and urbanity were almost proverbial, while his moral character was unblemished. He was an honored member of the order of Good Templars, and sometime last Summer he embraced the Christian faith and joined the M. E. Church South. He was, indeed, a most exemplary young man and true Christian.

On the 6th of last January he was attacked with violent hemorrhage of the lungs, but after a season of illness he rallied, so that his friends entertained hopes for his permanent recovery. But the All-wise ordained otherwise. About the 1st of March he was again prostrated on a bed of sickness; violent hemorrhage ensued, which continued at intervals until his system was so reduced that nature had to yield to the scythe of the destroyer, and Jimmy passed the portals of the "great unknown" on his journey to that undiscovered bourne whence no traveler returns.

During his last illness he was meek and docile as a child, never giving utterance to a murmur or complaint, but with Christian fortitude and heroism calmly prepared himself for the change he knew must soon take place. On last Saturday evening, feeling that his end was approaching, he manifested a desire to bid farewell to all his friends ere his fast-falling strength entirely forsook him, and during the interviews that ensued he was the most calm and unconcerned of any, expressing and reposing confident security in his "title clear to mansions in the skies." During Saturday night and the following morning he suffered considerably from pain in his throat and lungs; but about noon he became easier. About half past two o'clock the watchers at his bedside noticed his countenance become suddenly illuminated with a supernatural brilliancy, when he commenced shouting that the gates of heaven were opened to receive him, and that he was going to enter the joys of his Lord. This was his last utterance, and within an hour his spirit was winging its way to "that temple not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." Thus passed away "Jimmy" Lewis. His funeral took place Monday, under the auspices of the Good Templars, and was very largely attended.

Resolutions of Condolence OF LA CREOLE LODGE, NO. 23, I. O. G. T.

WHEREAS, It hath pleased Almighty God, in his all-wise providence, to remove from our midst by death our beloved brother and fellow laborer, James K. P. Lewis, therefore, Resolved, 1. That in the death of Brother James K. P. Lewis our Lodge has lost one of its most exemplary members, community one of its brightest and most lovely ornaments, and the family one of its dearest earthly ties.

2. That we in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, and though we mourn, we mourn not as those who have no hope, but in confidence that our loss is his eternal gain.

3. That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family in this, their great affliction, and we most ardently pray that the God of all grace and consolation will comfort and sustain them while they live, and finally re-unite them in "that Temple not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

4. That this report be made a permanent record on our minutes, and that we will wear the usual badge for twenty days as a memorial testimony of respect.

5. That a copy be furnished for publication in the POLK COUNTY TIMES, the Corvallis Gazette, and P. O. Advocate; also, that the Secretary be instructed to furnish the bereaved family with a copy, with the seal of the Lodge attached.

G. W. ROOK, ASA SHREVE, T. J. SMITH. Dallas, May 4th, 1869.

I. O. G. T. CONVENTION.—The convention of Good Templars announced in our last came off at their hall in Dallas on Thursday and Friday last. The attendance was moderately large, and many strange faces of both gentlemen and ladies might be seen in our streets.

As the proceedings of the convention were of a private character we are unable to say whether its objects were achieved or not. The ceremonies closed with a public lecture at the Court House on the subject of Temperance by G. W. C. T. George. The Court room was crowded to its utmost capacity; but the audience was not so attentive and orderly as it might have been, probably on account of the dry manner in which the speaker handled his subject.

Another UNFORTUNATE.—A man named Elmer Woods was arrested yesterday as a lunatic, at the instance of Commissioner Dice. The case was examined by the County Judge in the presence of Dr. Jessup, and as the evidence of the poor fellow's insanity was manifest, he was committed to the charge of the Sheriff for removal to the Insane Asylum at East Portland. Sheriff Smith left to-day with his charge for that destination. Scenes of which the case mentioned is a type are the most harrowing that can be witnessed by a person having a spark of humanitarianism in his composition.

That "PONY."—The saloon of the name we mean, where those who are athirst can assuage the same with anything they choose to call for, from "Standley's best" to Mason's "cream ale," Rankin is "no sardine" himself, but he has the scaly things for sale, and almost anything else you ask for that will comfort the inner man. If you don't believe it, call on him and judge for yourself.

COUNTY COURT.—This Court held its monthly session during the early part of the present week, but little business of importance was transacted beyond auditing the various bills for the expenses of the recent term of the Circuit Court, which amounted in the aggregate to a little over $500.

THE LYCEUM.

Last Friday evening the Lyceum Association met to discuss the merits of the female suffrage question; but as the attendance of members was rather slim the discussion was very short—to the disappointment of numerous ladies and gentlemen who were present as visitors—and the Lyceum adjourned, without a decision, to meet again on the first Friday in September, when the debate on the same interesting subject will be renewed. In connection with our remarks of last week relative to this society, we would suggest, as an improvement on their usual system, that when they assemble in the Fall they organize as a male legislature. This will give each member an opportunity of espousing the side of each question that agrees with his convictions, thus giving more earnestness to the debates and encouraging study and research. Besides, if properly conducted, it will afford the members a means of familiarizing themselves with parliamentary rules and usages—a very important acquirement to ambitious, aspiring young men.

EASLY GULED.—Nearly every paper in Oregon has published as fact a wonderful Munchausenish story originally gotten off by the Bellville (ILL.) Advocate, entitled "Fifteen Years With the Indians." The hero of the fabrication is named James Gull, who, shortly after marrying a girl named Mary Andrew (merry Andrew) started for California fifteen years ago. This Gull was reported killed by Indians, and after mourning his death three years, his wife (merry Andrew) married a fellow named Simon Dunfor (done for). Gull returned to his old home, after discovering treasures and relics of past civilization on the plains of Colorado during his fifteen years experience among the Indians, and finds Mrs. Gull-Dunfor the mother of eight children, one of whom is his; thus furnishing another Enoch Arden case for the benefit of future laureates. The "sell" is ingeniously gotten up, and reflects more credit on the humor of its author than the sharpness of the editors who have been gulled by its palpable impossibilities.

ANOTHER WEDDING.—Indian "Sally," well known to everybody in the neighborhood of Dallas, was last Monday united in the bonds of wedlock (bona fide) to a half-breed whose name we did not learn. No cards.

CENTUR.—Four marriage notices have been published, to each of which might have been very appropriately appended: "No cards! no cake! no wine! and, we almost feel tempted to add, 'nary cent!'"

WHO WANTS A SADDLE?—There are lots of them, all styles and prices, also fine sets of harness, constantly on hand or made to order, at Sam. Stiles' saddle and harness shop, next door to Bank Exchange.

HOGGINS.—A drove of stock hogs passed through town last Tuesday on their way to some down-river markets.

OREGON NEWS.

A man named J. J. Reid eloped with the wife of Robert Linder, of Brownsville, a few days since. The Democrat says Mr. Linder discovered them in the act of attempting to elope, and finding, on inquiry, that Reid was not very well supplied with cash, coldly handed his faithless wife $100, to defray her traveling expenses. The woman left two or three children at home.

Messrs. Abraham and Robert Tenbrook, of Jackson county, recently started for the Goose Lake valley with a large band of cattle, intending to settle permanently there.

A subscription has been taken up among the citizens of Albany for the relief of Mr. Westfall, whose leg was broken in two places recently by a kick from a horse.

The Sentinel says: Land is looking up in Rogue River valley. A short time since we noted the purchase of the "Tenbrook" ranch by Mr. Bellenger for $4,000. A few days ago he disposed of it to a California party at an advance of $1,400.

The Roseburg Ensign says: We are informed by a gentleman from Myrtle Creek that new placer diggings have been lately discovered on the North fork of Myrtle Creek, which, it is said, will pay from $10 to $15 per day to the hand. A large number of claims have been located, and hopes are entertained that the district of gold-bearing earth is extensive.

Judge Baber, who last year emigrated from Albany to California, is about to return to Oregon to live.

The crops of grain in Eastern Oregon are said to be in a flourishing condition.

The schoolhouse at Rock Point was destroyed by fire recently. The people of the district immediately raised $500 by subscription for the erection of a new house.

The total amount of taxes assessed in Douglas county the present fiscal year, including $1,268 05 assessed by the Sheriff, is $25,853 39. The amount of delinquent taxes returned is $571 48, including $83, poll tax.

Last week, says the Sentinel, a party of emigrants from here, who were bound for White Pine, got lost on Lost River, in the Klamath Basin. They continued lost for about three days, until found by John Shook, who put them on the right road to Silverado, and sent them on their way rejoicing.

Parties living in the valley of the Santiam river, are extensively engaged in hop raising. The product per acre is said to average about 2,500 pounds, worth at the market price, $750. A profitable crop.

Real estate in Portland seems to be going up amazingly in value, notwithstanding the threatened building of a great commercial rival on Puget Sound.

The steamer Ann was sold at Corvallis, at Sheriff's sale. It was knocked down to Capt. Swain, for three thousand dollars.

A letter from Rogue river valley to the Farmer, says: Crops look well in the valley, and a large breadth of land is sown. The mines in this section are all dormant, on account of go water; the farmers and all feel it, and especially the traders—though there has been plenty of rain for farming purposes.

The Walla Walla Union of the 24th, says: We learn by Mr. Olds, just from Eastern Oregon, that the water has just been let into the Carter and Reeves ditches, but is not yet available in the mine. A short season is anticipated from the scarcity of the snow. At Amelia City, the miners are at work, but the supply of water is expected to fail in June. The same may be said of the diggings in Rye valley. In Eldorado, money is scarce and many men idle—all are sanguine that the gold is there, in fact know it, but must possess their souls with patience until another season.

The saw mills in Salem are unable to supply the demand for lumber, such is the rapidly increasing activity in all departments of improvement.

The People's Transportation Company propose to improve the Yamhill river the coming summer by clearing out the channel, constructing dams, etc.

Col. J. D. Hudnutt, chief engineer of the surveying party which has been running a line of survey for a railroad from the junction of Central and Union Pacific railroads to the Columbia river, arrived in Portland last week. His party are yet up the Columbia. He reports having found a pass through the Blue mountains, where they can be crossed without difficulty. The line of survey crosses the summit about five miles from Meacham's.

Mr. Gore of Jackson county, has invented a new gang plow which is said to be superior to anything of the kind ever used in that part of the State. It can be operated with all the movements of the walking plow.

One day last week, at Salem, Mr. McAllister moulded one thousand bricks by the use of a new machine, in twenty-seven minutes, with six hands working it. It is claimed that the capacity of the machine is 25,000 bricks per day. It costs $300.

The Commissioners appointed by the last Legislature to select and locate 90,000 acres of land, set apart by Congress for the benefit of a State Agricultural College, will start on their mission about the 20th inst. They will visit first the Goose Lake country, and then Crooked River at Ochoco Valley.

The Albany papers give the particulars of the shooting of John A. Simms, on Saturday, 24th ult., by E. E. Turk. The affair took place in a saloon. Three shots were fired by Turk, one of which pierced the heart of Simms, killing him instantly. On Monday Turk had an examination before the County Judge, who, on hearing the evidence, discharged him, on the ground that he had acted in self defence.

Baskets made from basket willows of Oregon growth are now offered for sale at Salem. They were made by Mr. Lamson and daughter, of Howell Prairie, and the willows were the product of the farm of J. H. Moore, Esq., formerly owned by Thomas T. Eyre, who imported and planted this variety of willow from the nursery of Charles Downing, of Newburg, N. Y., in 1856 or '57. The material looks like it is of the very first quality, and the workmanship looks as good as if it had come from the hands of a skillful man; but as it is the result of woman's labor, we can see no reason why more of it cannot be produced in the same way, says the Farmer.

John A. Richards, an old resident of Douglas county, had his leg broken and was otherwise seriously injured, last Sunday, by his horse rearing up and falling over on him. Dr. Hoover was called, and after a careful examination, pronounced his injuries serious but not dangerous.

Several of our citizens will leave this valley for the Bohemia mines in a short time. They are still firm in the belief that their fortune is in the Cascade Range, says the Ensign.

We were shown, says the Jacksonville Sentinel, by Mr. Neuber, jeweler, two bars of gold, weighing eighteen and one-half ounces, which he had melted out of eighty five pounds of rock taken from the shaft of Messrs. Dillon & Bowden. This yield was at the rate of $7,000 per ton, but was from selected rock, taken out at the depth of about fifty feet on the ledge. The owners are still "sinking," and continue to find very encouraging prospects.

The Salem Woolen Factory has temporarily suspended operations, having run through the whole of last year's supply of wool. During the past year the factory has consumed from 30,000 to 40,000 pounds of wool mottled from the year.

The Trustees of the town of Jacksonville are about passing a juvenile vagrant law. This fact is any thing but creditable to the parents of that flourishing town.

The McMinnville Ditch Company broke ground on their works on Friday last week.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says a band of 2,000 sheep left there for Mendocino county, California, during last week. A lot of 250 hogs also left for the Siskiyou market.

The people of Rogue river valley are taking very kindly to the Goose Lake region, several families in and about Jacksonville breaking up housekeeping preparatory to removing to the former locality.

Dr. Greenman of Jacksonville has invented a "tire-fasterener" to secure tires on wheels. It admits of considerable shrinkage of the wood-work and keeps the tire secure in its place. A patent will be applied for.

California and the Territories.

Great joy was manifested by the miners in the White Pine district over the birth of the first native of the region. They made up a purse of several thousand dollars in silver bars and gave it to the pioneer infant.

San Francisco assessed its real estate at $63,576,178 in gold.

Experienced miners are prospecting for gold in the valley of the Rio Grande. Already some success has attended their examination, and it is believed by many that Texas will yet be found to be a great gold field.

A stencil-case maker named Charles Brown has been arrested at San Jose, on a charge of abducting one Blanche Dubois, a young girl of about sixteen years.

A man named Wm. H. Le was killed in the shaft of the Oakes & Reese mine, Hunter's valley, Mariposa county, recently.

A brewery has been built in San Francisco, for shipment to White Pine.

A Siskiyou editor says there were twenty thousand calves branded in that county last year.

A Helena special says, this morning Chinatown in Montana was nearly destroyed by fire. Ninety-eight business houses and forty dwellings were burned; loss half a million.

In a jeweler's window at Sacramento are exhibited three silver bricks with the following text attached: "What we got at White Pine—value, $12; cost to get them, $783 59." Encouraging to prospective miners.

Stage coach travel in Nevada is attended with some inconveniences. A paper in that State says that as the stage for White Pine was about to set out a few days since, nine passengers being crowded inside, the driver opened the door and asked those within to stow a little closer to make room for a bale of hay.

San Francisco is much troubled by the annual influx of rogues, who prey upon other places during the summer, but congregate in San Francisco the balance of the time. The police is said to be very inefficient.

A candle box was picked up floating down the Sacramento river which, on examination, contained a full grown infant, but with no marks of violence.

The Indians in Arizona are making it hotter for the whites than ever. They understand Spencer's and Henry's rifles, and have plenty of money to buy ammunition.

One thousand dozen of eggs and seven hundred pounds of butter were shipped from Stockton lately for White Pine.

A portable theatre is being built in Sacramento for Mr. Thomas Maguire, who will remove it, when completed to White Pine.

The Central Pacific railroad cannot carry all these who are desirous of emigrating to White Pine. In a few months it will have as much difficulty in transporting back to California those who will then be anxious to return.

An angry cow in the vicinity of Petaluma ran one of its horns into the eye of a man, the point coming out through his head.

Sacramento is preparing to celebrate the completion of the Pacific Railroad.

The Odd Fellows' celebration in San Francisco was a grand affair. Over 1,500 were in the procession. Grand ball and promenade concert wound up the festivities of the occasion.

"MACK," Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, says: It is little more than a year ago since Wade unreservedly told me that Grant was not fit to be President—that he didn't know enough—that he was too strongly identified with Johnson's policy—that he couldn't even talk politics, but only horse, and that continually, and so forth. To-day, sturdy old Ben is prostrated on his hands and knees before Grant, like a devoted Buddhist before his idol.
