

HOME INTELLIGENCE.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES IN DALLAS.

Metho-dist Episcopal Church (South).—A. E. Sears, pastor. Services the First Sabbath in each month at the Baptist Church, southwest corner Jefferson and Court streets.

M. E. Church.—Rev. G. W. Rook, pastor. Services at their church, north side of Mill street between Main and Jefferson, as follows: First Sabbath (in each month) in the evening; 2d Sabbath, at 11 o'clock a. m.; 3d Sabbath, in the evening. Regular prayer meeting each Wednesday evening. Sunday School every Sabbath at 9 o'clock a. m.

Baptist Church.—J. W. Osborn, pastor. Services at their church, corner Court and Jefferson streets, the Third Sabbath in each month.

Christian Church.—H. M. Waller, pastor. Services at the Baptist Church second Saturday and Sunday in each month.

DALLAS, SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1869.

SOBRIETY TO SAY IT.—We learn that "Grandpa" Kennedy, one of our oldest and most exemplary citizens, has actually suffered during his sickness for the want of proper attendance. We are aware that this is not usually the case with the people of Dallas; but we notice a growing tendency among the present generation (younger portion) to neglect the claims of the aged upon their gratitude—their humanity. Grandpa Kennedy is now over eighty years of age, and has a long time been a member of one of our local and most influential religious organizations. His age and natural infirmity precludes the possibility of his living much longer; yet he has been left during the past week almost entirely dependent on the care of his aged wife and one child. The only assistance the family has received has been from some young men in town outside the pale of any church organization! "Alas! for the vanity of Christian charity!" Let us hear no more of such neglect—such inhumanity. The old gentleman is fast declining, and it is the duty of every man, professor of religion or otherwise (particularly the former), to see that those who have wrestled with the world for so many years in behalf of their posterity should at least close their eyes and pass into their last sleep in peace.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—It is expected that the various standing committees appointed to make preparations for the forthcoming celebration at Dallas will report progress to the Chairman of the Committee of General Arrangements on Monday, June 21st; also, that the various precinct committees will do likewise on or before Monday, June 23rd. Let there be no stint of good things for the inner man; and we hope the various precincts will do their best financially to make the affair a perfect success. It is expected the expense of the celebration, in money, will be in the neighborhood of $400, of which sum Dallas precinct has already contributed more than one-third. If the other ten precincts will only average $20 each (a very small sum) the amount will be made up, and we will promise that the celebration of 1869 shall surpass anything of the kind ever witnessed in Polk county.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—Next Saturday is the day appointed for the purpose of permanent organization of a County Agricultural and Mechanical Society, and it behooves every agriculturist, horticulturist, farmer, mechanic—in fact every man engaged in the various industrial pursuits—to be present. The necessities of Polk county in this respect are urgent and admit of no delay. The benefits to be derived from such a society properly conducted, are almost incalculable, and are patent to all. Yourself, your wives, your sons, your daughters, and generations yet unborn, will all reap benefits from this movement if prosecuted successfully, and it is your duty to do all in your power towards its accomplishment. Then let the people of Old Polk turn out on next Saturday to attend the meeting at the Court House next Saturday—2 o'clock p. m., sharp.

A GOOD MOVE.—The Committee of Arrangements for the approaching annual meeting of the Christian Church, at Dixie, have sold the exclusive franchise of supplying the assembly with necessaries during the continuance of the meeting to Messrs. G. B. Stiles, T. F. Hoyer, and three other gentlemen whose names we have not learned, who are now engaged in erecting the necessary buildings within the enclosure of the camp ground. The gentlemen who have secured this privilege are well known as honorable business men, so that the assembled multitude can depend upon fair dealing. They will have a grocer and fruiterer, a butcher shop, restaurant, etc.

METRIC FLASH.—Last evening our quiet little town was beset by a numerous force of young ladies, most of them wearing strange faces to us, who fitted blithely and blithely along our usually prosy streets, causing many a bachelor hum-tum to flutter and palpitate with unusual velocity. Where they came from, or how, is a mystery to us—(perhaps they dropped down from above, but we failed to observe any wings)—and whether they are going to leave us or stay, or when, or how, is equally a closed book to our knowledge.

ANOTHER CELEBRATION.—We learn that the various lodges of Good Templars in this jurisdiction propose celebrating the national Anniversary at this place on Saturday, July 3d. We are sorry that it could not take place so as not to interfere with the other celebrations in the county; but as they had made their arrangements prior to any of the general movements, no blame can be attached to them. We hope they will have a good time.

NOTICE.—Members of the committee appointed by the agricultural meeting on Saturday last to select the most suitable site for fair grounds, are requested to meet in Dallas, at 10 o'clock a. m., on Friday next, 18th inst., to confer and examine different localities in company, and make out a report to be submitted to the adjourned meeting to take place on the following day. Be punctual.

INDEPENDENCE BALL.—The Celebration Finance Committee have resolved to give a grand Anniversary Ball at Ply's Hall on the evening of the 6th of July, and a sub-committee has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements. It will be conducted in a manner that will admit of no exceptions by the most fastidious. Programs will be published next week.

FRUIT CANS in abundance at Tucker's tin store, in Dallas.

HOW TO PREVENT A PLACE FROM THRIVING.

—If you wish to keep a town or city from thriving, don't put up any more buildings than you can conveniently occupy yourself. If you should accidentally have an empty dwelling, and any one wants to rent it, ask him about three times the actual value of it. Demand a Shylock price for every spot of ground God has given you stewardship over. Turn a cold shoulder to every mechanic or business man seeking a home among you. Look at every new comer with a scowl. Run down the work of every new workman. Go abroad for wares, rather than trade with those who seek to do business in your midst. Wrap yourselves up within yourselves and cover yourselves up with a coat of imperious selfishness. There is no more effectual way to retard the growth of a town than actions like those enumerated, and there are people in every town who pursue the above course every day of their lives, and to whom the above remarks are respectfully offered to their careful attention.

LET HIM AGAIN.—Mrs. Elizabeth Baxter, unfortunately the wife of the scamp of that name whose misdeeds we exposed some month ago, sensibly warns the public as follows: All persons are warned against one F. M. Baxter, my husband, who deserted me at Buena Vista, Polk county, for another woman, after living with me 10 years, and leaving me with two children, and myself suffering with rheumatism, and ill health, and in destitute circumstances. Said Baxter is about 5 feet 8 inches high, dark complexion, dark hair and black eyes, weighs 160 pounds, and is aged 32 years. Also has a peculiarly straight gait.

IGNORANT ADVERTISING.—A merchant in New York city has attracted a great deal of attention by his novel manner of advertising. He takes a whole column, which he leaves blank, except the following in fine print at the bottom: "This space was sold to A. E. Brennan & Co., but as their business is sufficiently brisk at present, they decline to use it." We bet our stamps that Brennan & Co. are brinks and that they "do" business.

MONY NEW GOODS.—Mr. Stiles, the grocer, has another fine stock of assorted goods in his line on the way here from Portland, a large portion of which is intended for his store at the Camp Ground at Dixie, comprising canned meats and fruits, candies, oranges, figs, lemons, nuts, etc., in great variety. The goods will be opened at his store in Dallas in the early part of next week.

ENTERPRISE.—The most enterprising and courteous business men in their line in Salem, are Messrs. Cox & Earhart, wholesale and retail grocers. At their establishment can be found every variety of groceries you can call for, and you will find their prices the most reasonable in the city. Call and try them—on Moore's block, C. municipal street.

FIVE TENS-OUT.—Messrs. Richmond & Whitely have had their large Concord coach entirely refitted and repainted. Yesterday afternoon they had a spanking four horse team attached, and several of our town-folks took an airing in it. This coach will run between Dallas and the camp ground at Dixie every day during the continuance of the meeting.

SALEM NOBBER.—We see by the Salem papers that the merchants of that place are paying only 71 cents for wool, and the market has a downward tendency at that. Messrs. Cross & Wolf, of Independence, offer 22 cents cash for the same article, and more if taken out in trade. Hurrah! for Polk county enterprise.

WHIPS.—Mr. Sam Stiles has added to his fine stock of harness and saddlery, a new lot of buggy-whips, also stocks and whips of other varieties, to which he calls the attention of those in need of such articles. He will sell them as cheap as they can be found in the State this side of Portland.

LIBERAL DONATION.—Mr. John P. Hoyer has contributed the free use of his fine hall on Main street towards the Fourth of July fund, to be used in such manner as will seem most advisable to the Finance Committee. In all probability a ball will be given thereat on the evening of the Fifth.

MONSTERS.—Mr. Jas. W. Lewis laid on our table yesterday a few of the largest roaches we ever saw. They ranged from a foot to sixteen inches in length and four to five and a half inches in circumference. Let any county in the State beat that, if they can!

ANOTHER CAMP MEETING.—We learn that preparations are being made by the M. E. Church to hold camp meeting, somewhere in this neighborhood, shortly, but as we have received no authentic information in the premises we are unable to speak more definitely.

GOOD FOR DALLAS.—One of the members of the finance committee for the Fourth of July celebration succeeded alone in raising $171 00 yesterday towards defraying the expenses of the occasion. Tom Richmond is a host in himself at such work.

FINE PICTURES.—Mr. James, our photographic artist, presented us this week three fine views of different localities in and about Dallas, including a view of Main street, from the north, the Court House, etc. They are really well executed.

OUR COMPLIMENTS.—To the fair lady who so kindly remembered us this week—with thanks, a thousand thanks, and our sweetest, gentlest wishes for her present and future happiness. May she live until life becomes a burden.

FUNERAL SERMON.—The funeral sermon of the late James K. P. Lewis will be preached by Rev. E. K. Baxter, at the Baptist Church in Dallas, on the fourth Sunday of the present month, at 11 o'clock a. m.

READ THE NEW advertisement of Messrs. Vanduy & Sommerville. Although it is wrong side up, they are right side up in a business sense, and are ready to prove it to all who may call at their store.

If you want to build up a live, bustling city, the first step essential is to patronize home merchants, home mechanics, and in fact the interests of all kinds. "Home first—the world afterwards."

OREGON NEWS.

We learn, says the Farmer, that the road through the mountains to the beach, at the mouth of Salmon river, is in good repair, and passable for carriages and baggage. Numbers are already taking this route to the ocean for pleasure.

Mr. C. B. Bellinger succeeds Mr. Abbott on the Albany Democrat. Messrs. Bellinger and Brown are now editors and proprietors.

The Farmer says, the Salem merchants are paying 21c. for fair grades. We have knowledge of Eugene City, for combing wool, for shipment. The market price for wool may be set down at 21c., with a downward tendency.

The Democrat says the grain crop of Linn county, from present indications, will approximate one million bushels this year, and wants to know whether there are two counties in the State, that, combined, can beat it. [Polk would be far behind her.]

New potatoes made their appearance in the Portland market last week. The Oregonian says: The wife of Dr. J. C. Shelton, of Salem, died on Monday. Her maiden name was Pauline Whitson. She was well known for her gentle demeanor and varied accomplishments. She was also a person of considerable literary acquirements as has been printed in the newspapers of the State many pieces of merit and value.

Miss Dorothea L. Dix, the celebrated philanthropist, came by the last trip of the Continental to Portland. Miss Dix is a sister to Gen. Dix, late American Minister to Paris, and is about sixty years of age. Her labors in the cause of humanity have made her name renowned the world over.

The people of Umatilla are organizing an agricultural society. A meeting to complete the organization, by the adoption of a constitution and by-laws, will be held on the first Monday in July.

The Herald says, a boy about fourteen years of age, son of Mr. Bonner, was drowned at St. Helens last Monday. He was swimming in the Columbia river, and dived under some saw-logs, from which he was unable to extricate himself.

The proprietors of the McMinnville water ditch are slinging dirt at a great rate, employing ten or twelve teams in plowing and scraping and a corresponding number of men.

Rev. T. H. Martin, who has had charge of the Baptist Church at Eugene City for some time past, is to assume the pastorate of the Baptist Church at Salem.

A child of Captain Butler, of Empire City, was drowned in the bay on the 25th ult. The child was misad, and his hat was found where it had floated ashore, which told the child's fate, though the body had not been found at last advices.

From the Advertiser we learn that among the passengers who arrived on the steamer Continental on Wednesday evening last, were two young ladies of Oregon, graduates of the Female College of the Pacific, at Oakland, California. These were Miss Jennie Patterson and Miss Lewelling, who having finished their course of studies with honor to themselves, received their diplomas on Commencement Day, May 26th. Besides the very flattering testimonials given to these Oregonian young ladies by the President and Professors of the College, we also notice in the Oakland Daily News, that their rank as scholars was very high, and their elocution worthy of especial comment.

The Hebrew, a paper published in San Francisco, says: Many, especially our lady readers will be thankful to know which flour, of the many brands in the market, is the best. The Salem Mills are the largest in Oregon, and their flour is celebrated as the very best in use. We can recommend it from our own experience. The opinion of many bakers in this city, who are using it, is unanimous about its excellency.

A correspondent of the Gazette, writing from the Yaquina, May 17th, says that locality has been somewhat disturbed by the rum red introduction of a body of Snake Indians on the Siletz Reservation, but contemplates with satisfaction the annual fifty thousand dollars in greenbacks which would follow their arrival.

Ten families from Yamhill county, among whom was Gen. Palmer's, passed through Forest Grove en route to the Nehalem valley where they purpose to settle. There are twelve or fifteen families already there.

The Surveyor General has given D. P. Thompson, Esq. of Oregon City, a contract to survey the land along John Day valley for sixty or seventy miles.

Bishop Morris, of Episcopal Church, arrived in Oregon last week. He comes to supply the place made vacant by the death of Bishop Scott.

California and the Territories.

An affray took place at Vancouver, in Washington Territory, last Monday week, growing out of a feud of long standing, in the course of which Mr. Thomas J. Fletcher was shot and dangerously wounded. The other parties were Lewis Van Vleet and Alexander Coffey, the latter of whom did the shooting. Politics also had something to do with the affair.

A man named George Root was found dead near Boise City on the 28th of May. He was walking down a hill and dropped dead. He was from Walla Walla, and was on his way East.

There was a singular case in the Sacramento police court recently. The defendant was charged with rape, and the matter was compromised in court by the Police Judge marrying the defendant to the prosecuting witness. Immediately after the solemnization of the marriage the prosecuting attorney entered a nolle prosequi.

Six days seventeen hours and twenty-eight minutes from New York to San Francisco is the fastest time yet made by a passenger. At the same time a gentleman arrived eighteen days only from Paris.

The Boise Democrat: The fur of the beaver found about the sources of Snake river, is said by trappers, is good through all the months of the year, which is not the case with pelts of that animal in any other locality.

Two men—one named Williams and the other Kinney—fought a duel at Johnson's ranch, Shasta county, recently, in which Kinney received a rifle bullet through the thigh.

In the Seventh District of California, Judge Southard has decided that abortion or attempted abortion by the wife, is a worse violation of marriage and a greater crime than adultery, and good cause for divorce. The Judge therefore ordered that the custody and control of the infant child be awarded to plaintiff, and that the defendant be debarred from access to the said child as unfit and unworthy to exercise the sacred functions of mother to a child whose life she sought to destroy.

A letter from Bryan, Wyoming Territory, says: "You can see, at almost any town, notices from Vigilance Committees for certain persons to vacate the ranch. I had quite a laugh a few days since. The committee waited on a man they call 'Wild Bill,' and gave him fifteen minutes to leave the town. 'Bill' got on his horse and said, 'Gentlemen, if this d-d mule don't balk, I don't want but five.'"

A little girl scarcely nine years of age, says the Sacramento Record, stepped from the cars on arrival of the train from the mountains a few days since, and being wholly unprotected, attracted the attention of the officer in attendance. She inquired the way to the boat, and stated that she had already traveled ninety miles and was bound to San Francisco to enter a boarding school. She had a through ticket and a small amount of money in her purse. The officer conducted her to the boat and put her in charge of the stewardess.

The sun so stretched the rails on the San Jose railroad recently that they spread out of line, and the locomotive with one baggage car and one passenger car were thrown from the track. Henry Dyer, messenger of Wells, Fargo & Co., was in the forward car, and was the worst injured by the accident. Some of his ribs were broken.

The lumber trade of San Francisco for the quarter ending March 31st, amounted to over one and a quarter millions of dollars—at the rate of over $5,000,000 per annum. The most of this lumber now comes from Oregon and Washington Territory.

The report of the Mechanics' Institute Fair of San Francisco for 1868, says that the total yield of the mines in California, from 1848 to the present time, is estimated to be fully $300,000,000, and is now averaging $12,000,000 per annum. The total production of silver in Nevada during the past six years is estimated at $60,000,000. The total production of quick-silver in California, from date of the discovery of the first mine, in 1848, up to 1-68, amounts to nearly 600,000 flasks, each containing 765 pounds of metal. The total value of the copper shipped from California during the three years preceding 1867, was $3,500,000—the larger part of the export going to Great Britain.

Two women got into a fight at Boise City last week. The weapons used were buckets of water and stove wood. The entertainment cost them $65, which was paid.

It is stated that the Attorney General has commissions for the United States District Attorneys appointed and confirmed for the Territories of Montana and Idaho, but cannot find the gentlemen to whom they ought to be delivered.

The notorious Ned Bantline lately went to San Francisco as a temperance lecturer. His brilliant success, and what followed are thus described: After delivering the most thrilling teetotal lectures there, inducing some three thousand dunces to sign the pledge, he assailed the natives by appearing upon the streets on a frightful bender, dressed in a "red, white and blue" costume more gorgeous than ever worn by any of the heroes of his own romances, with a whisky bottle in his hand, and surrounded by an enthusiastic crowd of small boys, who lustily cheered him on his way toward White Pine region, where he opened a saps bank, which the press informs us he is still running with fortunate success.

An Idaho paper says: The best pasture lands of Idaho are situated on the upper Owyhee river above the basaltic crags, and Castle, Bruneau and Goose creeks. The quality of the grasses is superior, and the railroad is convenient.

A circus tried to show in the town of Gilroy, Cal., on a Sunday night recently, and got out solitary person to attend and no more.

The list of departures as published in the White Pine papers largely exceeds the list of arrivals.

The Owyhee Tidal Wave of 25th ult. says: A fatal accident occurred in the Golden Charter mine early yesterday morning, by which Daniel McPherson lost his life. He was at work on the third level, 200 feet from the surface, where he put in a blast and stood a moment to see if the fuse had caught, then stepped backward to be out of the way and accidentally stepped into the main shaft, now being sunk for the fourth level, and fell down a distance of thirty-six feet, killing him.

Passengers are now delayed at Promontory Point from twelve to twenty hours, owing to the fact that the Union Pacific and Central cannot agree on the question of time. It is a most serious inconvenience to the traveling public.

The production of sugar from beets, in California, is just now attracting a large share of public attention, and most deservedly so. It will require over 25,000 tons of raw sugar to supply the market of the Pacific coast this year, which will draw away not less than $3,000,000, mostly in coin or bullion.

Speaking of improved facilities for travel on the Sacramento river the Bulletin says: The new boats will be about two hundred and sixty feet long, drawing two feet of water. They will be provided with large wheels and powerful engines, and will make the distance between Sacramento and San Francisco, one hundred and twenty-five miles, in four and a half hours, or about the same time now required on the Vallejo route.

Artist (Photographic). "Oh, yes, mum, we can take anything—we can take the sun, which is millions of miles off!"

Old Lady, (struck with an idea). "Oh, you can! Then bester good aster take half a dozen of my son in China."
