COUNTY COURT.—The claims of those engaged in the coroner's inquest held on the body of Jennie Boise came up for adjustment this week.

ON THE SPORT.—Our citizens, in order to break the lull which had gathered over our devoted village, have resorted to "pitching house shoes" and rooster fighting.

DALLAS HOTEL was reopened on Tuesday evening—Messrs. James & Hoyer, proprietors. A supper was given then, which gave general satisfaction to all the participants.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—Through the influence and advice of some evil disposed neighbors, my son John Brown, aged 17 years, has been induced to leave his paternal roof on the Luckiamute.

Mr. Charles McDonald will please accept our thanks for a fine large roasting ear. He has a quantity of the same kind.

SAD ACCIDENT.—We learn from a gentleman near Bethel that a man by the name of Keifer, while engaged in threshing grain in Bethel precinct, had his hand caught in the machinery, mutilating his thumb and fore-finger to such an extent that amputation was necessary.

REVENUE.—Deputy Collector W. Chapman informs us that the Internal Revenue for Polk county amounts to $1,476, including licenses, income and taxes on watches, carriages, gold and silver plate.

Johny Howard requests us to return thanks to Mr. W. Burns for his promptness and efficiency in saving his crops from an untimely destruction.

Our fair correspondent writing under the non de plume of "Dallas Smarty" has failed to address us this week.

We like the ruling of that Court. While strolling up Main street this week we casually dropped into Headquarters where "Bummer's court" was being held.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The public is very naturally anxious for any news of the progress making in railroad work. We to know, when below a few days since to get reliable information.

Women are scarce in Sioux City, Iowa, and a paper of that place advertises proposals for fifteen hundred New England girls of industrious habits.

A large proportion of the mines in the neighborhood of Backfoot are lying idle for want of water.

The trot for $2,000, best three in five, to harness, between Dady Thornton and Goldsmith Maid, at New York was won by the former in the fastest time made this season on the Union course.

A young woman in Michigan has applied for a divorce after a protracted wedded life of exactly two weeks.

The trot for $2,000, best three in five, to harness, between Dady Thornton and Goldsmith Maid, at New York was won by the former in the fastest time made this season on the Union course.

The San Francisco Herald says: "The printing press keeps pace with the progress of the iron horse, and already more than twenty new journals have been projected along the route of the Union Pacific railroad."

A young man named Joseph Wagner, living in Charleston, West Virginia, professes to have the power of charming snakes.

A man who has been traveling in Texas, says it is the hottest and the wettest and the driest, the richest and the poorest, the best and the meanest the best women and the meanest men, and more pretty ladies, with prettier little feet and no calves to suit; more sickness and less health, more streams and less navigable waters, more corn bread and less corn, more flour, less biscuit, more cows and less milk and butter, more hogs and less pork, more chick ens and less eggs, more gold and silver and less money, more deer and less venison, more negroes and less labor, more burans and less furniture than any country in the United States—where house flies live always and mosquitoes never die.

Mr. Grant, in four months, has had two Secretaries of State, two of War, two of the Treasury, and two of the Navy. At this rate, there is danger that any incompetent and unknown Radical may be snapped up at the shortest notice, and injured for life.

Dana, of the New York Sun, says of Wm. H. Seward: Before starting on his present tour he stated, very explicitly, that within a year there would be a break up of President Grant's administration which he pronounced the weakest administration the country had ever had; he assigned as one reason for going away that he wished to be as far off as possible when the break-up takes place.

The Imperialist boast that the G. A. of the Republic can muster at the tap of a drum, about four hundred thousand men, with all the equipment necessary to enter the field, at a moment's warning. The Imperialist thinks the G. A. R. a fine institution, and G. A. R. thinks the Imperialist a fine institution. The Imperialist is the official organ of that organization, and it declares its mission to be to "establish an Empire on the ruins of the Republic."

Grant is a member of the G. A. R., of course, and all men appointed to office by him are also members of that organization. Is this not significant? Are not our liberties in danger of being snatched from us at any moment? Is it not time for freemen to arouse and prepare to meet the issue—Imperialism or Republicanism?

Republicans? Who desire the people to rule—out loose from the Radical party, ere you be ensnared into the Imperial net.—Gazette.

A fatal case of poisoning occurred in Baltimore on July 30, by a druggist selling aqua ammonia, by mistake, for aqua cinnamon. The jury rendered a verdict of gross carelessness against the apothecary.

An electrical blasting machine has been invented and was successfully tested last week in San Francisco. The advantages claimed for it are: First, safety. No fuse is used, and the blast can be fired from any distance. Second, twelve or fifteen blasts can be fired simultaneously and without danger. It will work either with nitro-glycerine or the California powder. It can be used as a submarine or land battery. The machine itself can be easily carried under one man's arm.

That this doctrine of Repudiation is growing with the people is evident to the most pur-blind. Had Seymour been elected, the Democratic party were willing to have paid the bonds in the currency of the country, as other creditors are paid, and would have passed over the wrong and illegality of the creation; but since it is otherwise, and they insist upon their pound of flesh, why flesh they shall have it, but not one drop of Christian blood with it.

The late seduction case at Sacramento, California, moves the Bee to comment as follows: "It is the common and accepted law of the land, although it does not appear upon any Statute book, that when a single man runs away with your daughter, or your sister, and refuses to marry her, may marry or kill him, and be held guiltless by a jury of your peers—and if he be married to another you may shoot him without question, or if he run off with your wife, you may shoot him also. The strict enforcement of this law at all times, and in all places, will be hailed with delight by the public; and the father, brother or husband, who enforces it in his own good right will deserve the thanks of the whole community. But before wielding this great power which the people have almost unanimously placed in the hands of every man so injured in person or family, the utmost caution should be used. There should be no doubt of the guilty one, no doubt that he has, after demand, refused to make all reparation in his power in the case of daughter or sister, and after these preliminaries are settled, there should be no hesitation in inflicting the punishment due to such high offenses."

Davidson M. Lutherman announces himself as an independent candidate for Governor of Tennessee.

Charles Van Benthuyssen, a wealthy citizen of Albany, New York, is about to start a Democratic paper in that city, in opposition to the Argus.

Anna Dickinson wants to "eliminate" from the Radical party "all rogues and rascals—all persons who are safe in the possession of the Devil." Horace Greely objects. He says after the "elimination" was completed, there would not be enough of the party left to "swear by."

This whole life is but one great school. From the cradle to the grave we are scholars. The voices those we love, and the wisdom of past ages and our experience, are our teachers. Afflictions give us discipline. The spirits of saints whisper us "come up higher."

The Roseburg paper is informed of a remarkable instance of conjugal faithlessness which occurred recently on Slate Creek, in Josephine county. A man named Stephens deserted his family, consisting of wife and four children, and eloped with a Mrs. McAllister, the wife of one of his neighbors, who was herself the mother seven of children, including two grown daughters.—The guilty parties have gone into California.

In Paris, a widow of forty five summers married a young man aged eight years. By her first husband she had a son whose age at the time of her second marriage was twenty-one. She recently died, and by her will left her fortune to her son and husband. As her husband was not of age, her son was appointed his guardian.

FOLLIES.—To believe that the more children study at school, the faster they learn. To conclude that if exercise is good for the health, the more violent and exhausting it is, the more good is done.

To imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour made.

To fancy, that, because you dance all night—lose sleep and do many things contrary to your mother's wishes, that your actions are polite.

To sit in your front door or window, to gaze out instead of being at your domestic affairs.

To set on the presumption, that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in.

To eat without an appetite, or continue to eat after it has been satiated, merely to gratify the taste.

To envy one for what he possesses, rather than for what he enjoys.

To be continually complaining because things are not otherwise.

To think there can be no true friendship where there is no freedom.

To contend, that, because the dirtiest children in the street or on the highway are heavy, and he altho' that therefore it is healthy to be dirty.

To believe that warm air is necessarily worse than the confined air of a crowded, and close vehicle.
