

GERMINT SMITH ON THE SITUATION.

Germint Smith writes a long letter to Frederick Douglass, under date of February 11th, in which he argues that at the end of the war the North should have expended fifty or a hundred millions of dollars in enabling the South to get on her feet again. The North, he says, was to a certain extent responsible for the sin of slavery, and the presentation of this gift "would have been an example of penitence on the part of the pro-slavery North, and it would have been an expression of sisterly sympathy which would have won for us her melted heart. She would have given us no more trouble. In the matter of "reconstruction," she would have put into our hands a carte blanche; so assured would she have been that we would write nothing upon it but what justice and love dictated. Oh, was there ever before—or will there ever be again—so favorable an opportunity for profitably investing fifty or a hundred millions of dollars?" He continues:

"Horace Greeley pities the South—'Is bailing Jefferson Davis, he felt that he was bailing the South. And yet even he, with his 'bushel of brains, deep sense of justice, and glowing philanthropy,' can keep on saying to the South: 'Root, hog, or die!' I certainly would have nothing done to supercede, or in any way relax, the self-reliance of the South: but, because of her deep poverty, and of our large measure of responsibility for it, and because, wital, she is our sister, I would have the North extend a helping hand to her."

THE MONOTONY OF LIFE.—The general character of life is that of monotony. Whether we regard the life of man, or the life of beasts, we are struck by the remarkable fact; that life, to all outward appearance, is a monotonous succession of scenes and movements—all but incidental. We wonder how the interest is kept up. But we never tire of going to bed at night, and we are very sorry when we tire of getting up in the morning. We never weary except with regret, of breakfasting, dining, and supping; and yet these actions are repeated incessantly three hundred and sixty five times in the year, with renewed excitement on every succeeding occasion. We take off our clothes once every day, and we put them on once every day. We do this, at nearly the same hour, in daily succession; and when health is good, the pleasure derived from so doing is not marred by the repetition of the act; for the ebbing and flowing of our bodily sensations prepare us, without any effort on our part, for all the vicissitudes of our existence. When hungry, food is agreeable; when warm, sleep or rest is a treat; when warm, the cool air is agreeable; when cold, the pleasure derived from a cheerful fireside is delicious. The excitement is kept up by contrasts; and we purchase the enjoyment of one feeling by encouraging the reverse. With health, and youth, and prosperity, we should never be weary. It is age, and weakness, and poverty that prepare us for death; and even that comes easy upon most men, at last, like a sleep, and the heaviness of the heart gives even the last sleep, a welcome.—Reading (Pa.) Times.

Mrs. Cady Stanton, one of the blue lights of the radical God-and-humanity, de'il-may-care everybody but ourselves party, has lately been to Washington City, the place where drunkards, harlots and niggers principally do congregate and after looking around and taking observations, wrote and had published a letter, from which we clip the following: "Ben Wade is a good-looking man, and ought to be our next President; but if we must have either Grant or Chase, may the fates give us the latter. Let us at least have a sober man with some fixed opinions."

It will be observed that Mrs. Stanton corroborates the already well established fact that General U. S. alias Hiram Grant is in the habit of getting drunk and has no fixed political principles. Mrs. Stanton, true to woman's instinct, goes for Ben Wade for President because "he is good-looking" and his fixed principles; though one of his fixed principles is to be drunk nearly all ways, while Grant sprees it irregularly. But how we should make a sober President out of either Wade or Grant is a mystery Mrs. Stanton did not explain. Perhaps A. T. Stewart, William B. Astor and other bondholding millionaires of New York, who started Grant as their candidate for the Presidency on a no party platform—except gold for the bondholders and paper rags for the tax-payers—may be able to inform the public how many days of the week Grant is sober and how many he is drunk.

The Enterprise can't see for the life of it what induced Oregon to go Democratic—especially does it seem strange to that paper that the majority is so immense.

Messrs Vanduyt & Somerville of Independence, notwithstanding that the world is Democratic, still keep a rousing stock of goods, and are anxious to buy all the farm produce in the country.

New Remedies New Remedies

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary!
ESTABLISHED IN 1844,
616 Kearney Street corner Commercial, San Francisco

For the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as gonorrhoea, gleet, trichite, syphilis in all its forms, seminal weakness, impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing), and Ulcerated legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering from a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces, and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of the above named diseases—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them to Dr. Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended Doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Syphilis is syphilis the world over; so is small pox, consumption and other diseases, to be contrary of what quacks may say.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Seminal weakness is the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless counteracted by scientific medical measures: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eye, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the joints, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blent intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of treating this complaint, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give $100 to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Dr. Gibbon is responsible, and will give each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.
Persons at a distance may be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage or curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for ten dollars sent in a registered letter through Wells, Fargo & Co.
Address: DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Persons writing to Dr. Gibbon will please state the name of the paper his advertisement is in, and remember to put "22" on the letter.

I hereby certify that I have been using Mrs. Stipp's Thoracic Balsam in my family, with the very best results, and I am happy in stating that the medicine is all that is recommended to be by its proprietor,
L. WESTACOTT.

MORION COUNTY, Sept. 27, 1865.
The undersigned, resident of Marion county, Oregon, takes pleasure in stating for the benefit of the afflicted, that in the winter of 1863-4, I was suffering from an affection of the lungs and kidneys, resulting from a violent cold. I seemed to be going into rapid consumption, and had begun to believe that my death was not very far distant, and all who saw me were impressed with the same conviction. After trying various remedies without any success, I was induced to try Mrs. Stipp's Thoracic Balsam, and to it I am fully persuaded that I owe my life and present good health. Under these circumstances, I feel that I am but performing a duty to humanity when I recommend all similarly afflicted to try this excellent medicine.
WM. TAYLOR.

Having received great benefit from the use of "Mrs. Stipp's Thoracic Balsam," and being convinced that its use would be beneficial to thousands of persons suffering without hope of relief, it is with pleasure that I make the following statement: In the fall of 1863, I took a severe cold, which settled in my lungs and throat, causing a dry, hacking cough, fever, headache and pain in the breast under the shoulder, in severity, until my life seemed to be in real danger. About six weeks ago, I commenced taking Mrs. Stipp's Thoracic Balsam, and in this short space of time, I have regained almost my natural health and strength, have a good appetite, and am free from my cough and all its attending miseries.
