CONGO SHOWS AND THEIR SHOWMEN.

[From the Richmond (Va.) Examiner. The reports of the proceedings of the Note.—In all trials of speed 3 to enter and 2 | Congo "Convention," now performing to start. Rules of Society to govern all trials in the Virginia capitol, are read by the people with profound amazement. Not that stupid persons are showing them selves even more stupid than had been apposed; not that brutal ignorance when exhibited on an elevated arena 20 15 is yet more revolting than with en 10 countered in alleys and slums; not that those who bag chickens of dark nights, should "want all de money dat can be 20 15 got" by voting it to themselves when they get a chance, and should " go in for de bag dat's got meat in it." All this is natural enough. The performers in the strange show are acting in character, and are sustaining their parts without much overplay. Bayne and Lindsey and Burwell Toler and the rest, are playing such role at constitution making as might have been expected of persons whose ancestors never conceived of a constitution in four thousand years. When men put mon keys in charge of a ship, they hate themselves less sense than the monkeys if they look for a very brilliant voyage. To'er in Monday's debate frankly ad-20 15 mitted the difficulties which beset undertaking: "We does not compre-Exhibitors of sheep shall be required to hend to decide dis question." If asked make a written statement or affidavit, and to how his race, dating back to the earli est ages, and reckoni g to the present time, have succeeded at constitutionmaking, he might answer as did one of his people when interogated on a certain occasion, as to what he was doing: " Catching rats, sir!" " How many have you caught ?" "When I gits dis one I am after, and one more, dat will make two."

Could there be a more striking illustration of the shocking burlesque now performing than that? We must now pause and seriously ask pardon for having introduced into these columns With faces as grave as those of the these persons indeed perform their WITH BLOOD." parts as well as they can. Terrible as is the exhibition they make, they are got up the show? Nay, rather what heed, Patriots! are we to say of those who keep it up, and still prolong the monstrous spectacle? There lies the chief marvel of this revolting exhibition. Have men no longer even the lowest sense of shame? Have Wade, and Sumner, and Greeley, and the New York Times. and all who, whether as rampant lead 3 ers or reluctant followers, prolong a display which disgusts the civilized world, less sense of decency, less regard to outraged popular sensibilities, than the meanest ring-master of the meanest circus, or the most brutal exhibitor of the poorest monkey show or bear-dance? 15 10 Why do they not withdraw their animals and drop the curtain? Are they waiting for the mob to break in and scatter them? Sooner or later the people will do this. Men will not endure even decent failures. The balloonist who summons a crowd to see him go up, must expect to have his balloon cut to ribands if he fails. The man who takes a crowd's money under engagement to fly, will be hustled and tossed in a blanket if he tumbles. Much more will spectators not allow the prolonging of an exhibition which is at once a failure and a disgust, such as that of constitution-making by Hunnicutts and liest blow, by making them supremely contemptible. Shall a proceeding at once so fatal in its character and so loathsome in its details, at once a great crime, a great peril and a great indecency, continue to offend and disgust the world? Is it necessary that the worst of ends.should be pursued by the worst of means? Can despotism devise uo more decent formula for its dirty ends? For shame, that the people of the North should so long have tolerated the brutal exhibition! If they are utterly oblivious to every political principle they have ever professed; if they are utterly insensible to every pledge of honor they have ever made; if they, indeed, desire to pour only vitriol in the Southern wounds, and educate Southern hearts to the very gail of hate under sense of enormous perfidious wrong-at least let them do away the pitiable monstrosity of negro constitutional conventions as the instruments of their malignity. They have abundance of as despicable stuff as tyrants ever were made of; let them send the negro behind the scenes, and fly their opes, and Sheridans, and Meddes, and other like tiger cats, directly at our throats. Ohe! jum satis.
