

Two Pairs.
A pair of brown eyes—no matter where,
In quiet street or crowded thoroughfare—
Call up the image of your face to me,
All others vanish, only you I see;
Above the din of trade your voice I hear,
That fades into a smile away.
Thus are you with me every day.
SIX MONTHS LATER.
Brown eyes? Oh, no; another hue
Now lures my errant fancy;
Those melting eyes are heavenly blue,
Which with their light entrance me,
She must say yes—I love her so,
I wonder why I've married?
Too long I grieve—three months ago
The brown-eyed girl was married.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Fine weather again.
J. Wood, of Gravel Ford is hauling out lumber preparatory to building on his lots in town.

Call on Charley Elliott at the Star restaurant if you want a good smoke or good chewing tobacco.

Mr. Levi C. Gibson moved yesterday down near the cannery where he is employed for the season.

The Grand Army post at this place numbers 39 members, notwithstanding the organization is a new one.

Oranges, lemons, dates, figs, limes and raisins at the Star restaurant—Charley Elliott proprietor.

A few salmon have already made their appearance in this river. Great preparations are being made for a large catch this season.

Buck, the livery stable man, fed and cared for seventy-five head of horses here on the Fourth. He has increased the accommodations.

It is claimed by those who ought to know, that the Fourth at this place was celebrated by the largest crowd of people ever together in this county.

We mentioned the amount of lumber destroyed at Grube's mill as being two hundred thousand, when it should have been five hundred thousand feet.

The McMillan Bros. intend visiting this place, on or about the 15th inst. Those who desire specimens of their work, will take notice. They are affable and accomplished artists.

If you want good, reliable boots and shoes, call for Buckingham and Hecht's manufacture. Dean & Huntington at the City Boot and Shoe store keep that kind in stock.

The Coquille Packing company have been turning out 10,000 salmon cans per day for some time. They contemplate inaugurating active work in fishing in about fifteen or twenty days.

A vote of thanks was unanimously passed by General Lytle post No. 27, G. A. R., for a beautiful bouquet presented to the post commander on the occasion of the parade on the Fourth, by the widow and orphans of a deceased comrade, R. Schweers.

Levi Gibson while out hunting one day last week, was kicked off a log by a heavy charged gun, and fell about twelve feet, spraining his ankle and otherwise scratching himself. He says if the buck that he shot at had had his end of the gun, it would have been his meat.

Patronize Fred Jarvis, the pioneer stage man. It is through the efforts of Mr. Jarvis that we have a good road, good and efficient mail and stage service between Coquille City and Coos bay, and it behooves all to give him their patronage. The route is elegantly equipped. See ad.

In this day of paper soles, it is the interest of all to buy good, honest work. Buckingham & Hecht the best boot and shoe manufacturers on this coast make no poor goods, but warrant every pair that bears their brand. Dean & Huntington keep this stock of boots and shoes.

We received a note from Professor Arrington, stating that he has discontinued the publication of the "School Journal." The cause may be assigned to Allen's increasing duties. The position of book-keeper, with Dean & Co., added to that of a benedict will compel him to devote all the time at his disposal, to those interests.

Our school is prospering; over 100 scholars attending.

For a bargain in stationery, call on George Moulton.

Meals are only 25 cents at the Star restaurant—Charley Elliott proprietor.

See the closing out sale ad of Carothers' store. If you really want good, cash bargains, you will do well to call early.

Go to Elliott's—the Star restaurant—if you want fine candy, nuts and cigars. He keeps the best.

Ninety couple were fed at the Olive hotel in one hour on the evening of the Fourth, a thing never done before in this county.

Mr. Brosi, of Looking Glass, came down last Saturday and was joined by his wife who has been visiting her father at Bandon, and started home on Sunday.

Uncle James Clinton has lost five acres of excellent hay by the rains. Many others have lost, heavily, and the rains of yesterday and the evening before, warrant us in saying that the amount of hay destroyed must needs raise the price of that commodity.

An organization for a brass band was effected here yesterday. We fear that we are getting too many bands. It is true that the expense for rehearsals to a band of Coquille City boys exclusively, would not be very great, but the amount of patronage to be had, would render it only an institution of amusement.

We cut the item of our celebration short from the fact that three-fourths of our patrons that would care anything about it were present.

The recitation—The Declaration of Independence—by Abe L. Nosler, Esq., was an able effort. He possesses a voice that is clear and strong. We would not advise any person to adopt the theatrical profession, still, in our opinion, Abe is endowed with historic talent of a high order.

One of the charming features of the celebration was the singing by the Glee Club. The song—"Hark! the song of jubilee," was given with harmony and artistic elegance—no straining after effect, but a melodious mingling of sweet notes, and a rendition that was highly entertaining. In fact, the singing was all that could be desired.

For the past two weeks the steamers from the beach have been bringing a goodly number of red fish, called by the settlers there, "rock cod." The fish are caught by Capt. Brown and his seal-fishing crew off the mouth of this river, in surf boats, with hook and line. An average one will weigh five or six pounds and a finer flavored fish never swam. A great many real cod are also caught which are generally large and fat.

We shall be glad to hear from our talented contributor, C. Wilkins, whenever it may be convenient. Information regarding the resources of our county, will always be interesting. Geological notes are valuable in a double sense, as it is not only instructive, but may be the means of attracting the attention of those who are able to develop the mineral wealth which now lies hidden in the subterranean recesses of our mountains.

The Myrtle Point band did not play a tune at Bandon. Some misunderstanding placed the band in an awkward position and they had the steamer Annie return as soon as possible to this place. $35 was all the money that seemed to be reserved for the band, although the members considered themselves engaged for $75. Bad management prevented Bandon from having a good celebration. We have been unable to get the full exercises of the day, but learn that Hon. J. M. Siglin delivered a short oration, and that one horse race was had; Maplewood winning first prize, Henon second, and Sailor Boy third. Thirty-five tickets were sold at the dance in the evening.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT COQUILLE CITY.
The Grandest Ever Had in Coos County.

Over 1,300 People Present.

Of all the grand celebrations of which Coos county can boast, Coquille City has just surpassed them all. Last Friday was "the day we celebrate," and it can truthfully be said of those who observed it that they did the occasion honor. During the whole of the celebration there seemed to prevail the best of feeling among all present, and but one drunk noticeable during the whole time. The day was fine and the weather pleasant. A goodly number arrived in town on Thursday, and the town was crowded before night. On Friday morning there were twelve tracks dispatched to Coaledo, which soon returned crowded to their utmost capacity. In the mean time people were pouring in until the whole town was a moving mass of human beings. The whole town seemed to overflow with enthusiasm. The salute of thirteen guns by Mr. Waters was well done.

The procession formed from the foot of Front street to its junction with Main street and along Main to its junction with First street. The Marshfield brass band, headed by C. L. Pape in splendid drum major uniform, led the procession. Next came the Grand Army of the Republic. The "boys in blue," though not in uniform made a fine display. Next came the school children—a veritable swarm of butterflies. Each scholar had a motto on a white sash, and was carrying a flag. They were ranked according to stature, ranging from a "bean pole" to a duck's knees—little Icy Snow March bringing up the rear. Behind the school came the Good Templars. They like all the other lodges represented marched in regalia. Following the Good Templars came the Sisters of Rebekah. The ladies were elegantly dressed and made a fine appearance. Next came the Odd Fellows, and lastly the crowd—a mixed multitude. The procession marched around a block and came back to place of forming and then counter marched to the grove. Here the usual exercises were dispensed with. The music was excellent, the recitation of the Declaration of Independence superb and the oration grand. The recitation was something new in this part, and Mr. Gray left the usual beat of orators and gave us something new and rich. Although the crowd was three times what was really expected, all acknowledge the basket dinner was sufficient. After dinner a base ball game between the boys and married men was indulged in which resulted in a victory of two points in favor of the men. Spectators claim that a mistake on the part of the umpire made a material change in the result. The foot race was next in order. Peter Cotton won the men's, and John Leneve the boy's race. Mrs. Lucas won the prize in the ladies' race, while Peter Cotton won the 15 minutes go-as-you-please race. The wheelbarrow race was won by Everett Harmon who also got second prize in the go-as-you-please race. The sack race was won by Charley Barrows. The tub race was won by Otto Willard and he also got the prize for walking the greased pole, there being no competition, owing to the extreme height of the pole above the water. The fat man's race was won by Harry Schweers, the HERALD editor flying the track. The balance of the afternoon was spent in horse racing. Every minute of the time had to be utilized to get through with the exercises before night. The ball at night was a grand affair, the upper and lower halls of the Odd Fellow's building were used. There were 188 tickets sold and many more would have been, had there been more room for dancing. Great credit is due the different committees, the president of the day, marshal and also D. Drow for conducting the barbecue and E. B. Miller for services at the table.

The crowd increased to upwards of 1300 on the arrival of the steamers from Bandon in the evening.

Marshfield Celebration.

The exercises of the celebration here on the Fourth, were inaugurated by firing, at sunrise, forty anvils. The streets were handsomely decorated with flags. At an early hour the liberty-loving citizens of the surrounding country came flocking in from every direction, with their little ones (and the Lord knows there is not a more prolific people than this). The streets were soon a mass of moving human beings. About 9 o'clock the procession began to form on Front street, by order of Marshal W. A. Willard. The music consisted simply of life and drum, the same that beat time for the Fathers, as they marched on to victory in the Revolution. The G. A. R. headed the column. Forty young ladies represented the different states; then came the throng of citizens. All marched to the grand pavilion, which had previously been arranged on the sawdust, by the free and liberal contributions somewhat accelerated by the importunities of the indomitable W. R. Simpson, assisted by an old "mossy back." The exercises then began by prayer by Rev. Bickenback; reading Declaration by Prof. Hawes. Hon. C. B. Watson then took the stand and delivered a telling and instructive oration, after which a beautiful song was rendered by Mrs. C. W. Tower, in a voice never approached by any in this part. The table was then spread, and everybody partook of a bountiful basket dinner, after which came the foot racing, potato racing and orange racing for the girls, winding up with a boat race on the bay. The hall at night was largely attended, and all enjoyed themselves till the wee small hours, when the people separated for their respective homes, hoping that the great American holiday would be celebrated to the end of time. One of Them.

Happenings Along the River.

[From our Traveling Correspondent.]
A. Myers and family spent the Fourth on Bandon beach.

James Aiken and partner passed down for Bandon on Wednesday.

The good people of Bandon took down a large supply of beer for the 4th.

R. H. Rosa passed up the river Tuesday last in search of a teamster to drive his logging team.

We are sorry to say our old friend, John Lewis, is considerably under the weather, the result of a severe cold.

The tug, Katie Cook, towed the Helen Meriam to sea on Wednesday and the Amethyst on Thursday.

Capt. Brown & Co., who have been engaged in catching sea lions, are also catching a great many rock cod and codfish, of which the Ceres brought up 600 pounds on Thursday.

Uncle David Barklow came down the river yesterday to consult Dr. Angell concerning his daughter, who seems to have lost the use of her reasoning faculties, and who is in very poor health otherwise.
