

TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1885.

Horse thieves are numerous in Klamath county.

J. W. Howard has been appointed postmaster at Grants Pass.

Another terrible storm visited Nebraska on the 15th destroying a great deal of property. Several deaths are reported.

S. B. Cathcart has been looking out a site for a road from North Coos river to Coles valley, with a good degree of success.

The Portland city election was won by the republicans, only one democratic councilman being among the lucky candidates.

The freight on wheat from this state to Chicago, Illinois, is the same as it is from Roseburg to Portland—and still the people complain.

The new ministry of Brazil has determined upon the abolition of slavery. It is to be hoped the same spirit will permeate the whole world, even England.

The annual reunion of Oregon pioneers was held at Oregon City on the 15th inst. The attendance was not large, but a good time was had. There should be more interest manifested in these reunions.

Many of the leading financiers of the day are opposed to the circulation of silver. So long as France and Germany are opposed to its circulation, it will, indeed, be an uphill business for the United States to try to maintain its unlimited circulation.

The Iowa press excursionists have been joyfully received and handsomely treated where ever they have went since their arrival on this coast. Portland and the Sound towns gave them grand receptions. They number over 200.

We inadvertently failed to give the item, last week, that our townsman, R. K. Calawa, district deputy for Coos and Curry counties organized a Good Templars lodge at Empire City on June 8th, with 22 charter members. The lodge has good material, and will soon become a large and influential organization.

A move is being made to have a good bridge put across South slough, near its mouth. This would have the effect to open the old trail from Randolph to Empire, and also be of benefit to the government employes at the light-house, to say nothing of the local interests.

Communicated.

Ed Herald:—Allow me a small space to give your readers a small lecture. I wish to urge the necessity of their action in concert with the HERALD in securing a goodly number of enterprising immigrants to this valley, and also to securing some needed enterprises here. The HERALD is doing a good work and should receive a hearty support, and all possible encouragement. Last week we met two gentlemen from California, who, we are assured, will build a saw mill on this river. On inquiry we found that they were induced hither by reading our live little HERALD. They, like many others we have lately met and who have come through the influence of our local paper, are immensely pleased with our part of the country. There are dozens whom we learn are coming to our valley, and in nearly every case they are persons of considerable means. It behoves us to encourage these new-comers, and give them as much information on their arrival as we can. Not only in the matter of immigration should we assist and encourage the HERALD, but also in the numerous enterprises it is laboring to have inaugurated in our midst. Some, if not all, of the many industries it has lately advocated would doubtless prove successful and become a very great source of revenue to our whole country. Please give heed, and let us work together with the HERALD to secure these things—work with a will.

Subscriber,

A Model School.

The other day, accompanied by Mr. Charles Truman, we paid the Randolph school a visit, and were very much pleased with both teacher and scholars. The present 4 months term (now about half over) is Mr. Ballard's fifth. This proves that he is the right man in the right place. He is affable and courteous, and appears to thoroughly understand his business. He has one of the best conducted schools we have seen for a long time. Mr. B. seems to know the importance of order and discipline in the school room, and he puts into practice what he knows. We are sorry the rule is not more closely observed throughout the Coquille schools. It is not our province to criticize anyone that works in the school room, yet we were so pleased with the modus operandi of the Randolph school that we must say that we believe many of our schools would profit by its example, especially in the matter of order and discipline, which all will agree to be necessary to accomplish much good. We all like to see nice orderly schools. The school we attended more than 20 years ago, was of this kind; and notwithstanding that those 20 years have rolled between now and then, yet the precepts of that old school have never been effaced from our mind. Why? because in it there was law; there was discipline; there was order, the outgrowth of which was esteem for our school mates; love for our teacher, and good will to everybody, and withal good lessons. Our school master tried to set us a good example; he tried to imprint on our lives banner, in letters of gold, the beautiful motto: "Where the feet of your childhood are planted, there in your manhood and womanhood and your age will ye also march." We have tried to walk in our school master's steps, and when our Sun dips low in the west, and the shadows long, as we float on the golden ripples of life's sea, we will still try.

How often is it the case that scholars walk as much in the steps of their school teacher as they do in their parent's? Let any one decide, but bear me out in the assertion that a well disciplined and orderly school is a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Loc. Randolph, June 20.

Denmark Correspondence.

Ed Herald: Thinking a few items from this vicinity might be of interest to some of your readers, I send the following:

Lively times at Denmark for a few days, owing to the taking of affidavits for the September term of court in Coos Co., for Chris and Alice Long, and James Williams.

T. J. Stitt returned from Chetco Sunday evening, dripping wet, from a visit to his mother. Miss Euphemia Averill and James Averill made a flying trip to Bandon Sunday, returning the same day.

Some of our neighbors are complaining of bad colds.

Cox and Averill, are improving under Dr. Shoemaker's remedy—think they will be able to attend the fourth of July celebration.

If the people of Coquille City, need any catnip, apply to Dr. Shoemaker, as he has laid in a new stock.

Hawks are flying around on the north side of Floras creek, trying to catch Averill's and Langlois' chickens. James Cox is trying to catch one of these birds, but Hawks are hard to catch. They are pretty sharp sometimes.

It is not often that boys of sixteen get frightened at being courted, but Glenn C. x did, and ran away, about three weeks ago, and has not returned yet.

Jeff Thrift thinks he must go to Halls prairie the fourth. Wonder what attraction draws him hither. Wonder if the boys of Coquille City watch the moon. Wonder if they have found out the meaning of four leaf clover yet.

If this pleases your readers, you will hear from me again.

Yours truly, W. A. C.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

[Coast Mail.] Geo. Gestrein, who was accidentally shot at his place several weeks ago and afterwards became a county charge, has been discharged. He gave to the county a note for about $38, the amount of his board bill at Mrs. Stora's while he was disabled. This is a precedent that should be followed hereafter, for every young man who becomes an expense to the county through his own foolishness has no right to refuse to reimburse it.

The base-ballists of Coald do are organized to challenge, play and beat the Coquille City club on the 4th of July.

R. Millidge had an ox killed at his camp on North Coos river last Saturday. A log ran into the team when it was on a down grade and one of the swing oxen was crowded into a treetop and killed by having its back broken.

Arrivals by the Coos Bay June 14: Mrs H Hammersley, Miss Grace Hammersley, E A Eifbrandt, Wm Wilson, John Melroy, Wm Hagerty and T Daley.

Departures by the Arago June 13: E H Levy, E J Hamilton, H Goetz, W Allen and P Anderson.

Departures by the Coos Bay June 16: A Lamb, David Jenkins, W McConnell, David Bigelow and John Fishborne.

There are now 85 miners employed at Newport and the output of the mine is over 200 tons per day. It is said that the force of miners will be further increased in a few days. This looks as if the company intends running both the Arago and the Arcaha, which no doubt will be the case if the market for coal will justify it.

[Coos Bay News.]

John Anderson and Miss Louisa Hillstorm were married at North Bend on Sunday last, by Justice Hyde.

W. H. Noble put in the water last Friday, at his logging camp on Coal bank slough, six logs sawed from one tree. The smallest log measured 56 inches at top end. The largest one measured 8 feet at the butt, 76 inches at small end, and is said to be the biggest log yet put in on the bay. Other large logs were also hauled, one of which measured 7 feet 10 inches at the butt. The logs will be sawed at the O. S. I. Co's mill at Empire, the circular saws in the other mills not being capable of doing the work.

The manner in which the sea worms have eaten the cribs put in by the government at the mouth of the bay, show that the authorities in charge, who discontinued the use of the cribs, acted very wisely. A great number of the cribs, which were put down when work was first started, have been rendered totally useless, the worms having eaten the timbers below water mark. The rock with which the cribs were filled remains, and additional rock will be dumped when the next appropriation becomes available.

[Gold Beach Gazette.]

A considerable amount of beef is being canned in Mr. Hume's cannery.

Most of the wool men have completed their shearing. The yield is above the average.

Mr. Cohen, a wool buyer from San Francisco, has been spending the week in this vicinity interviewing wool men. Sixteen cents is the price offered, and we learn he has made several purchases.

Two of R. A. Miller's boys killed a very large panther and one of the largest bears that roam the woods, last week.

Judge Mosler started for home on Thursday, but shortly after leaving the river he claims to have encountered a drove of sea lions which he herded down to Mr. Doyle's corral. After great exertion he captured a small one, and with Mr. Doyle's assistance brought it over to town. The Judge thinks of taking a few of them to the valley and planting them in the mud flats and swamps of Roseburg.

The Ex-President's Condition.

New York, June 16.—The Sun this morning says: "Very many of these who are informed as to General Grant's actual condition look upon the plan of removing him from his comfortable home with grave misgivings. That his life now hangs by a very slender thread there is little doubt among them. His throat in one respect was worse last night than it has ever been before. Colonel Grant told a reporter last evening that his father had totally lost the power of speech. He is still able to articulate faintly, but even those who are most accustomed to his mode of speech cannot make out what he says except at very brief intervals, when his throat was temporarily clogged with mucus. This is something that has never happened before, and it is a development of the past twenty-four hours. It is said by those who are well informed that his mouth cannot longer be opened sufficiently wide to enable physicians to make ocular examination, and when they feel of the affected parts they give the patient such excruciating pain that they refrain from it as much as possible. In outward appearance, when clothed and in his easy chair, with wraps about him, the General is not very greatly changed. His face has aged, it is true, and is seamed with wrinkles, but it has retained to a great degree its natural fullness. But aside from that he is but a shadow of his former self. His body is wasted almost to a skeleton, and the bones of his hands and wrists show through the tightly drawn skin with the ghastly distinctness of a consumptive. That which most shocks those who of late have seen him is a great malignant looking swelling which has appeared on his neck under the right ear. It has of late grown with great rapidity and is now as big as a man's two fingers put together. It is kept concealed most of the time by wraps about the General's household are better able to judge than any body else what is prudent and what is imprudent for him to do, but notwithstanding their decision that it is safe to make the experiment they are going to make, there is among many who have closely watched his case from the commencement a feeling of very grave anxiety as to the result. They doubt whether the mountain air will suit General Grant.

Warned against Cholera.

Philadelphia, June 15.—The Board of Health has received letters from the United States Consul at Marseilles, saying the Italian bark Orsola cleared with a bill of health, wool laden, for Philadelphia, and that it was subsequently learned that two or three cases of sporadic cholera had occurred at Marseilles previous to her departure. The Council did not believe the vessel infected, but sent the letter that necessary precautions might be taken.

The Hessian Fly.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 12.—The Hessian fly is doing great damage to growing wheat in Richland township, in this county. It is estimated that one-quarter of the stalks are damaged so that the berry will not mature, resulting in a loss of $40,000.

Fighting in Central America.

La Libertad (via Galveston), June 13.—A body of 2000 Guatemalas with nine cannons have entered Santa Ana. Fighting has been going on around Ahuachapan, Conatepeque and Guayabal in San Salvador for four days without definite results.

Mills Burned.

New York, June 13.—A special from Knoxville, Tenn., at 9:30 o'clock a. m. says that the City flouring mills were burning and the flames were beyond control. The mills were completed only three months ago at a cost of $500,000.

Locusts in New Jersey.

Princeton, N. J., June 12.—The seventeen-year locusts have made their appearance in vast numbers here and in Central New Jersey.

Liberty Bell.

New Orleans, June 12.—A train bearing Liberty bell leaves to-morrow morning via the Louisville and Nashville Railway for Philadelphia.

Low Rate of Taxation.

San Francisco, June 12.—The finance committee of the Board of Supervisors to-day fixed the tax levy of the city at $1.05, at an assessed valuation of $220,000,000. This is the lowest rate of taxation ever yet reached in this city.
