

HURRAH FOR MITCHELL!

The People's Candidate Elected.

The following letter from Representative Roberts, dated House of Representatives, Salem, Nov. 19, fully explains itself:

J. A. Dean—Esteemed friend:—The people of Oregon, through their representatives, have won a glorious victory! Hon. John H. Mitchell is elected, and the state of Oregon has one of the most brilliant and able men of the age to represent them. At about 11 o'clock yesterday great numbers of both sexes began to pour in, until the house chamber, lobby and hall were filled. Every seat and every foot of available standing room were occupied. There were present, over one hundred ladies among the visitors. At precisely 12 o'clock the balloting began. Mr. Slater receiving 36 votes—the full strength of his party. On the first ballot, Mitchell received 27 votes—a majority of the Republicans. On the second ballot he received 28 republican votes, and then 17 democrats changed to Mitchell which gave him 5 more votes than we had counted for him the evening before. The applause was so great and prolonged throughout the balloting and clanging of votes, that it was difficult at times to hear the cries of the President for order. On the announcing of the result, the wildest enthusiasm prevailed; many strong men and noble women wept for joy. Hand shaking and congratulations continued up to a late hour last night. Hundreds of people poured in to Salem on special trains and steamer from Portland and other places; telegrams were sent and received from all parts of the state by hundreds, and by 8 o'clock last evening the principal streets of Salem were crowded with people. The bands playing, the fire works in full blast, the vast multitude shouting, for Oregon's chieftain, formed a scene that simply beggars description. But really this is not surprising, when we remember the open abuse showered on the heads of Mitchell wife and children, and his friends in the legislature; and that his victory was a complete vindication of innocent women, men and children. I believe the days of the outrageous and notorious scandal monger, the Oregonian, are numbered. Up to 8 o'clock last night over fifteen hundred subscribers to that infamous sheet have shut it out of their houses, and "Oregon to hear from." Prominent men of both parties indulged in speech making, vying with each other in their praises of Hon. John H. Mitchell U. S. Senator-elect from Oregon.

J. H. Roberts.

Wideawake as usual to the interests of his constituents, Senator Siglin last week introduced a bill for a dyke across Isthmus slough.

The contracts for building bridges across Elk and Sixes rivers are to be let Dec. 27. The first is to be completed by July 1st 1886, and the time for the other to be given at time of letting. Sealed proposals should be sent to Capt. Tichenor, Port Orford.

G. W. Harvey made us a pleasant call Thursday. Mr. H. came up from California a few months ago on a visit to friends, and has got so stuck after this part that he has taken a stock ranch, and located. He has purchased a place for his mother whom he will go back for in the spring.

Yesterday Senator Siglin introduced a bill in the senate granting to women the right to be admitted to the bar and to practice in the courts of state. The bill passed three readings in the senate and three readings in the house, all inside an hour. This bill made the most rapid transit through both branches of the assembly of any yet passed—Salem Statesman.

A Tribute to our Lamented friend, J. P. Schweers.

Ed. HERALD:—As a friend and former associate of James P. Schweers, allow me to offer my humble but sincere tribute to his general worth. The community in which he lived have lost a promising, intelligent and conscientious young man. Fearless in the right, yet, gentle and forbearing with his associates. Death is no respecter; still, we look with something akin to awe, at the solemn warning that steals suddenly and irresistibly on us; that illuminates our surroundings, and like the lightning's flash reveals to us the inevitable danger of being unprepared for that journey "from whence no traveler returns," when we behold the young, full of strength and in the prime and vigor of life, cut off like a flower that is scattered broadcast by some fierce wind. Peace to his ashes! In leaving us so early, we hope that he has gone to a realm where all the turmoil of this life is followed by peace and happiness.

The rosebud raised its head and blushed To greet the rising sun; But clouds arose, and tempest crashed, The flower lay withered, gone.

The down freight of the steamer Coos Bay this trip consisted of 50 tons of case salmon from the Coquille, 113 barrels of salt salmon from the bay, 7 tons of shittim bark, 30 cords of fire-wood, 170 tons of Henryville coal and 14 tons of butter from the ranch of J. M. Davis. This is the first shipment of Coos river butter to the San Francisco market.

Geo. Davis took the Satellite from the ways last Friday and he is now repairing the ways preparatory to putting the Sol Thomas hull on them, which he is liable to do any day.

Capt. Wm. E. Bruce late of the steamer Comet, is now first mate of the schooner Laura May.

Capt. Wallace of the schooner Melancthon was washed overboard and drowned at sea a few days ago.

Coos Bay News.

The last lot of barreled salmon shipped from this place to the city on the Emma Uiter brought $8.12 per barrel. Later shipments by steamer have brought $8.20. This is the highest price barreled salmon has brought for some time, and the fishermen are happy.

Salmon are shipped per steamer from this port to San Francisco at the rate of 50cets per barrel. The freight per barrel from the Coquille is 80cets.

J. D. Garfield had a snowflake potato on exhibition at his store Saturday last, which is said to have weighed 14 pounds. It was raised on his farm on Isthmus slough.

The late heavy rains washed mud on the track of the Newport R. R., so as to completely cover the rails in some of the deep cuts. A force of men has been engaged during the past week, getting the track in shape again.

Mr. J. Wilson, of Eckly, has sold a band of sheep to Messrs. Laughland and Goodenough, of New Lake, who have been building a residence for Mr. W.

C. W. Zamwalt, the new Deputy Collector of Customs at Port Orford, passed down from Coos on the 9th. His commission has not arrived yet but is due any day.

The people of the Four Mile country have applied to the Department for the establishment of a postoffice there, with Alonzo Davis as postmaster. As that section is large and growing the application will doubtless be favorably considered.

Work at the Cape closed down Saturday, when the men were paid off and discharged.

Prof. Guerin went to the Cape Sunday and was to open school there yesterday.

The Coos Bay News is urging the necessity of establishing a cannery on the bay—a cannery for fish of the different kinds and also for fruit. Its arguments are good, and the people of the bay should work to the end that an establishment of this kind be located there.

Myrtle Point and vicinity.

Fair weather now and roads almost dry. Last weeks freshest day but little harm except in the way of removing fences from low lands. The wind blew quite violently here last Tuesday; so much so as to badly rack the school house. Thus a period follows schoolteaching for awhile—at least until the house can be repaired. "Hostilities" have already begun, so I am told.

Miss Ella Masters, of Sumner, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at this place.

Pete Wise "the village blacksmith" keeps up such a constant odor of burning coal that we could not sniff a wedding breeze if there was one.

What does it mean? What can it mean? W. H. Bunch coming into town with collar off, coat in one hand, hat in the other. Of course Doctor like "Doc" smoked around until he found to his horror it only weighed eight pounds and was of the masculine gender.

W. L. Dixon is having some work done on his excellent store house.

Mr. Tom Wilson who bought the Overholzer place is making some fine improvements thereon.

Myrtle Point, Nov. 19, Communicated.

Ed. HERALD:—I took a notion the other evening to go over to bachelor's hall to see how the two old bachelors spent their time in the evening. I expected to find them washing those tin plates and cyster-cup cups, but any thing but that. They had all that kind of work done, and every thing put away in its place; and very busy in entertaining a very large company. One was doing his very best on a violin; the other had a brand new clarinet and oh, what nice music they made. I thought what noble husbands they would have made; how they would have amused the children while the wife was mending their clothing. I saw no pickled crab-apples about those fellows. When they were not playing, they were cracking jokes. They seem to enjoy themselves in entertaining other people's children, if they have none of their own.

Mr. Harry Roberts took a notion the other day to haul some saw dust and put on the crossing from T. Walker's to his own gate, which I consider a very good notion, because there are so many who enjoy the good of it. He is a good man. That puts me in mind of what a difference there is in persons; one tries to improve the street another blocks it up with weed piles and dung heaps and old oil tins, and all kinds of trash, like as though they might think it the proper place for such.

Saturday evening I went up to hear the band play. The band room was most full. The boys were in a very good humor for playing and they gave us their best pieces and in a masterly style. They improve, I think very fast. All seemed to go well until a merry lot of young ladies came in. Then I noticed one young gentleman turn his back to the ladies, and there he sat and played until they left, when he faced about. I was not the only one who noticed it. If he is as bashful as that it will be some time before he will have a cook; he will have to do his house work in his bachelor's home some time yet and it will serve him right for acting so. I noticed a number of young men and quite a number of old men, there, also two preachers and the editor of the HERALD.

I think it a very pleasant place to go and sit and listen to the music. I think if any one has got the blues, they will soon leave when he gets in the band room. I have thought it would be a good plan if some one would put up a bank so visitors might deposit a little coin when they visit, so as to help the band boys buy lights if nothing else. They have been to a great expense in getting music, &c.

Bill Smith.

There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicinal superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Coming, Coming, Coming!!!

COQUILLE CITY!

The coming Town of S. W. Oregon!

Few towns possess the natural advantages that Coquille enjoys, and which will, in the near future, cause it to blossom as the rose. It has a beautiful and pleasant site, being situated, for the most part, on a level plateau on the sunny side of the Coquille River, thirty miles from the Pacific ocean, which is reached every day by a four-hours' steamer ride. Coquille City is at the center of the converging wagon road system of Coos County, and is at the head of deep-water navigation, and in the central part of a vast body of rich, river bottom land, which is the source of all true and enduring prosperity. The country round about is filled with precious metals, minerals and coal to an unparalleled extent, and is covered with a variety of timber that for quantity and quality is not excelled by that of any place on the Coast, if, indeed, equaled. As a dairy and stock-raising country, and a sanitarium for those seeking health, it is bound to come to the front rank. The fishing industry will prove an important factor, while the numerous mills and factories, completed, in course of construction, and contemplated, will make the whole county a buzzing hive of industry and wealth. Coquille City is in the center, is the most eligible and will enjoy all. Its school, church, and society advantages are second none in the county. Building material is cheaper at this point than at any other in the county. It has the advantages of a corporation, and is to soon have a mountain stream of water run through it for protection against fire. Property responsible.
