

Outside References.

The Recorder gives a long article, from which it seems that the San Francisco Liquor Dealers' Union is furnishing money to defeat A. M. Gillespie for joint representative. This seems to be outside interference from away back. People in California do everything else for us, and now they would run our politics. What check! The Recorder says: "Mr. Gillespie is not the prohibition candidate; the democrats being opposed to summary laws, have no such candidate in the field. There is, however, a local prohibition organization in this county, which organization at its convention assembled, endorsed Mr. Gillespie's candidacy, he having been previously named by the democratic convention for joint representative."

We had expected that that old disgruntled chronic, R. D. Hume, would oppose Mr. G. for he was instrumental in organizing the Ellensburg Business Association, and otherwise relieving the people of that monopolist's despotic power, but we had not thought of San Francisco capital being brought to bear in the case. Hume is doubtless at the bottom of the business. He needs Gillespie to set him on a barb-wire fence again; or on his meanness in refusing to tow a vessel by which the people could get goods, without paying outrageously high prices at his store.

Before another issue of the HERALD, the various counties of the state will hold their biennial elections. Coos county is very evenly divided, and the contest will doubtless be pretty close. Our advice is that you all vote for the best men—men who you have reason to think will best serve the people fairly and honestly. The hog law will be voted on, but we think that towns-people of incorporated places should not interfere in the matter; they have a remedy of their own, and it should be left to the farmers and ranchers in the county.

Justice's article in last week's HERALD has been construed as referring to the owner of the mill in this place, a somewhat similar demand having been made of him, the difference being that there was nothing due the party for whom the demand was made, which makes all the difference. That there could be a coincident so nearly the same, we are willing to admit, but it looks as if it had been tempered to suit the case in question. Persons writing are requested to stick to the truth at all events.

A recent San Francisco dispatch gives Scott and the Oregonian a good one when it says: The Bulletin, in an editorial headed "A Deluge of Lies," has the following words: "Eastern journals at this time are being deluged with grossly untruthful dispatches on the Chinese question. Some of them are apparently manufactured for that region by persons professing a knowledge in general on that subject. In Portland, Oregon, there is a regular factory in operation."

It is said the Senate Committee on Commerce in the preliminary study of the river and harbor bill, found little in the bill as it came from the House to suit them, so the members of the committee are said to be in favor of the entire remodeling of the measure, if the latter part is not more consistent with their views than that examined. They retain the enacting clause, but report substantially a new bill.

Destitute Families. San Francisco, May 25.—The insurance on yesterday's fire was $40,000. Many families are left in a very destitute condition, and appeals are being made for clothing and food.

Communicated.

Mr. Editor.

In the last issue of the HERALD I noticed a short editorial entitled "A Standing Outrage," in which you call the attention of the thinking public to the gross abuses we have suffered, at the hands of the School Book Monopolists, in connection with our legislature. It is an astonishing fact that the patrons of our public schools, who themselves are the immediate victims of the combination of extortionists, have not before this, arisen in one united body, and demanded that the wrong should be righted. They are now and have been well aware that they were compelled to pay enormously high prices for their children's books, and that every change had wrought a hardship that they were ill prepared to stand, yet few of us have thought of looking into the matter to find the cause of their grievance, and have done as law-abiding citizens are too often prone to do—patiently bear the burden, and meekly submit to a legalized wrong. Your fearless attack upon the thieving scheme and its iniquitous managers, meets a hearty approval from the people, of our section, and it cannot fail to be productive of great good. If the people of the state of Oregon will take the matter in hand, it is easy enough to free themselves from the clutches of the human harpies, and save themselves from being further victimized. You have hit the nail squarely on the head. Maintain a persistent warfare against the oppressive extortion until it has been annihilated.

Anti-Monopolist, Roseburg, May 28th, 1886.

Amateur Bombs.

The following is a Washington special to the Portland Daily News: An undischarged bomb, obtained from Anarchist sources and supposed to be of the pattern used in Chicago, has been received here. It is somewhat larger than the egg of a goose, although of very much the same shape. It uses wicks at the smaller end, and is so cast that when it exploded it would break up into bits of iron nearly the size and shape of lumps of cut sugar, the pieces being about one inch square. There were screwed into it twelve little tubes like those of an ordinary muzzle-loading musket. Each of these tubes was filled with fulminate, the white explosive in the common percussion cap, and upon the tube was placed a cap made to explode very easily, about the size and shape of a musket cap. The weight of a shell, in falling three feet upon a hard substance like wood was sufficient to explode these caps, and as they were all over the shell, it could not fall without dropping on some one of them. The interior of the shell would hold a piece of dynamite somewhat larger than an ordinary egg, enough to drive the inch square fragments of iron through a man of thirty or forty yards. The shell was beautifully smooth, and had evidently been made by an expert in ironwork. Its end was so perfectly fitted that you could scarcely discover that it was not one piece. A notch in the small part showed that an ordinary screw-driver was used to put it together.

Myrtle Point. English Birds Accomplish Something British Soldiers Couldn't Do

The following appears in the Portland News, as a Washington special: Everybody who has been in Washington has seen the equestrian statue of Jackson in the center of Lafayette Square. Old Hicory on the rearing charger is the most conspicuous sight which confronts the office seeker as he walks out of the White House. Recently the very numerous sparrows have been playing the mischief with the great exponent of democracy. One couple of these birds headed their mud and straw mansion on one of the general's flying coat tails. Another pair have set home sleeping on the outstretched tail of the horse. There is a third nest located upon the right foot of the general. The extended arm and the waving chaparran, with which the supposititious troops are being urged on to battle, afford the roosting place for the whole colony.

Knights of Labor.

Cleveland, May 25.—The special convention of the Knights of Labor was called to order by General Master Workman Powderly at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. After the transaction of preliminary business and the appointment of a committee on credentials, Mrs. Mary Woodbridge, of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, read an address congratulating the order on its advocacy of temperance. Edwin Norton, connected with an extensive iron and steel firm of Chicago, read a long address, which proposed the formation of a manufacturers' association to work in harmony with the Knights of Labor. The address was warmly applauded. The convention adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Struck The Indians Again.

Pantano, Ariz., May 25. Gones, of Tucson, this morning, reported the Mexicans had struck the Indians at Lumara rancho. One Indian was killed. The Indians took to the mountains and abandoned their horses. Nineteen bucks and three squaws were captured. The body of Robert Lloyd, a ranchman residing near here, was found. He has been shot from behind, his legs tied, and his body has been dragged some distance.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is recommended and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Consumption, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous affections. It should be kept ready for use in every family, and those who are afflicted with it should be careful to obtain an authentic preparation of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, to be had of all druggists. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the remedy is constantly gaining a deeper hold upon the system, and the patient most certain to cure.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

Coming, Coming, Coming!!! COQUILLE CITY! The coming Town of S. W. Oregon!

Few towns possess the natural advantages that Coquille enjoys, and which will, in the near future, cause it to blossom as the rose. It has a beautiful and pleasant site, being situated, for the most part, on a level plateau on the sunny side of the Coquille River, thirty miles from the Pacific ocean, which is reached every day by a four-hour steam ride. Coquille City is at the center of the converging wagon road system of Coos County, and is at the head of deep-water navigation, and in the central part of a vast body of rich, river bottom land, which is the source of all true and enduring prosperity. The country round about is filled with precious metals, minerals and coal to an unparalleled extent, and is covered with a variety of timber that for quantity and quality is not excelled by that of any place on the Coast, if not equalled. As a dairying and stock-raising country, and a sanitarium for those seeking health, it is bound to come to the front rank. The fishing industry will prove an important factor, while the numerous mills and factories, completed, in course of construction, and contemplated, will make the whole county a buzzing hive of industry and wealth. Coquille City is in the center, is the most eligible and will enjoy all. Its school, church, and society advantages are second to none in the county. Building material is cheaper at this point than at any other in the county. It has the advantages of a corporation, and is to soon have a mountain stream of water run through it for protection against fire. Property responsible. J. A. DEAN, AGENT, Coquille City. M. J. McDONALD, PROP., San Francisco. v6 2m
