TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1886.

LOCAL LAUNDRY.

Charley Langlois and his sister, Miss Mary, arrived in town Tuesday on a visit to friends.

Wednesday was a windy day, an unusual thing when the sun shines and the wind from the south.

A photograph gallery was erected here recently by T. R. Willard and J. A. Waller for G. H. Ramsdell.

Miss Josephine Ealem, after an absence of several months, returned here last week to the delight of her many friends.

Dr. Downing has moved his residence to Mr. Snyder's place, lately occupied by Harry Roberts, near the HERALD office.

Little Maggie Copley, Mr. Wm. Copley's oldest child, is sorely afflicted with something like bone erysipelas, but is improving.

Mr. D. W. Carriger drove a fine band of fat cattle to the bay on Wednesday. Coquille is the boss place for fat stock at all seasons.

Mr. A. Boyrie who has been in Virginia City, Nev., for a couple of years keeping books for a large wholesale house, is expected home soon.

The Occident Water company of this place put in feed pipes to several houses and shops last week. There are near 50 rent rates being regularly paid, and the company is out of debt.

Honey was never so plentiful and cheap here as at present. A splendid article in the comb sells for eight cents, and every hive—from a soap box up—containing from 25 to 100 lbs.

For any thing in the furniture line call on Morrison & Son, Myrtle Point. It is not only policy, but duty as well, to patronize home industry, and you will hardly find more deserving gentlemen than Morrison & Son.

The steamer being built for this river by Capt. Reed, on the bay, it is said, will be a daisy. It is intended that she shall have a good rate of speed, and be supplied with every convenience that could be desired.

J. D. Garfield came over from the bay last week to look after his stage route interests. It is likely that he was not amassing a fortune very rapidly, as he reduced the service between this place and Uter City to a single round trip per day.

Geo. Flanagan recently drove upwards of 600 yearlings to Douglas county from this river. He lost one little fellow here, and it has strangely taken up its nightly quarters on the lowest step leading to the HERALD office's press room.

Joseph Fox came over from the bay last week and ransacked the river from one end to the other in search of snags, preparatory to bringing the steamer Coos around to run here. Capt. H. W. Danham is Fox's partner in this enterprise, and is an experienced steambot man.

Mr. W. M. Hilliard killed some pigeons a few days ago and was about making a potpie of them when his cat, which he had given one of the birds, got sick and died. There are hundreds of people putting out poison for these troublesome birds, and the one eating them is taking chances.

The Interior says that a Christian ought to be honest first, and then pious if he can; but the usual practice among many is to be pious anyhow and honest whenever it comes handy.

Mother (at boarding-house): Why, Freddie, you never ask for a second piece of pie at home. Freddie: That's cause I knew 'twan't any use.—Prairie Farmer.
