

The press of the country seem almost unanimous in their sanction of President Cleveland's vetoes on the late private pension bills. Those which he voted seem were for trumped up injuries received since the war. The Portland Daily News says: A great many pensions have been granted for causes which are contemptible, and if the president can compel the Pension Bureau and congress to be more careful in awarding pensions, he will perform good service for the country. The pension business has become an enormous drain upon the treasury, and, while no one will complain of payments to the unfortunate and deserving veteran soldiers, it does go against the grain to see the undeserving placed on a par with them and drawing monthly payments for disabilities which have been trumped up since the war. If the president is convinced from personal examination that his vetoes apply only to such pretenders, his course will ultimately be approved by the people.

A big victory is claimed in Washington Territory by the prohibitionists, but when we come to think of it, we can see little comfort in it for them. It has been claimed that to give women the elective franchise and they would with one fell swoop blot whisky out forever, and we find now that with their aid the larger towns voted largely to keep the whisky. In Oregon it is thought by some that whisky can be voted down, but we doubt it very much if our sister would be state furnished any idea of the status of the people of this coast on this question. In that territory it is claimed that the women were very little more favorable to voting down the liquor traffic than the men. To hear them talk in Oregon you would think it would be very different.

BANDON EXCURSION.

One Hundred and Fifty Coquille-ers Visit the Beach. On Sunday an excursion was had to Bandon beach by a crowd from this place, and the steamer Coos took them down under flying colors. Something over an hundred got on board at this place, which was increased at Parkersburg and Randolph to the number of one hundred and fifty odd. The Coquille City brass band occupied the weather deck and discoursed their best music. The day was as pleasant as it was possible for it to be—cloudy, but not cool. A merrier lot of excursionists were never seen. Music, singing and merry prattle occupied the time, and every one seemed bent on a good time. Some German airs by the Misses Parker and Miss Volkmar were simply ausgezeichnet, and were immensely enjoyed by those who verstahe die Deutsche Sprache. Nothing happened that would be of interest during the trip down, if we except a sudden landing at the Parkersburg wharf which inverted the brass band and stood the boys on their horns with their legs pointing heavenward, while ye editor was making a mash on an aged widow, who, only for the flexibility of the steamer's cabin partition, would have remained mashed. At Bandon the party with lunch baskets in hand scattered like a brood of young quails. The beach soon became a mass of hopping and skipping merry makers, and an inquest was held on every sea lion that had drifted ashore. From eleven A. M. till 4 P. M. the beach was thoroughly ransacked, when all returned home, feeling that they were better for the trip. Another excursion will be had next Sunday and those who could not attend last Sunday should go. A Yankee having more apples than he had use for stored 400 barrels in an ice house which were not removed but covered in with ice, and to the surprise of all they were taken out a few days ago as fresh as if new.

Knights of Labor.

St. Louis, July 6.—The Knights of Labor are again coming into prominence on a change of tactics. A new system of operations has been inaugurated, with what success remains to be seen, after the result of the coming elections is made known. The new idea is to use the votes of the organization in a way to do the most good, in carrying out the measure that they failed to accomplish in their efforts during the great strike. Circulars are expected to be sent to all assemblies to instruct their members to vote for certain men, who are, or will be, pledged to work in the interest of the Knights, and influence legislation in their favor. It is not supposed possible to elect a full ticket composed exclusively of members of the organization, but it is deemed best to divide their favors between the political parties and pick out a man here and there, and throw the influence and votes of the Knights of Labor in his favor, providing he can show himself to be a man to be depended upon to favor such measures as will be acceptable to them. To this end every effort is now being bent. Unwonted efforts are now being put forth to bring the voters of the laboring class into the ranks of the Knights of Labor. Organizers are everywhere trying to work up new assemblies. Missionaries are on every corner and in every bar-room trying in a quiet way to persuade the laborers who are not already members to enter some assembly and become initiated into the mysteries of the order. New assemblies are being organized daily, and new members are being brought in at every meeting. At no time in the history of the order, it is said, has it been gaining more rapidly. In all city assemblies eight or ten or more are added at each meeting night. Negotiations are going on between the leaders and certain political candidates, and such as agree to sway legislation in favor of the late strikers will receive their votes in leafy showers.

A Murderer Escapes.

W. W. Saunders, who was convicted of murder in the first degree at Albany on Saturday night, for the killing of Charles H. Campbell on November 4, 1885, saved the bars of his cell and escaped. Examination revealed he had sawed off the rivets which secured the lock and door, and substituted two made of dark wood and lead. James Jamieson, who had been indicted for perjury and illegal voting at the last election escaped with Saunders. Saunders was to have been sentenced to death to-day. D. S. Smith, sheriff of Linn county, has offered $1,000 reward for the capture of Saunders. Following is a description of the escaped murderer: Six feet high, very slender, is delicate in health and pale from confinement; smooth very dark hair, weighs about one hundred and thirty lbs, thirty years old, slightly pockmarked; thin, prominent nose, sharp features, small, dark deep-set eyes, with habit of blinking frequently, has sallow complexion, nervous temperament and his morphine habit. Finger on one hand slightly injured at end, and claims to have been shot through chest or body, spits blood sometimes.—News.

Land Forfeiture Bill Approved.

Washington, July 7.—The president has approved the act to forfeit the land granted to the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad company to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the states of Missouri and Arkansas to the Pacific coast, and to restore the same to settlement. The lumber interest of the Pacific Northwest is beginning to assume a more lively aspect. The mills are kept constantly employed on orders from sections of the country hitherto supplied by Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The lumber trade is only in its infancy, and the indications now are that all other interests except mining will be small in comparison.—Portland News.

Coming, Coming, Coming!!!

COQUILLE CITY!

The coming Town of S. W. Oregon!

Few towns possess the natural advantages that Coquille enjoys, and which will, in the near future, cause it to blossom as the rose. It has a beautiful and pleasant site, being situated, for the most part, on a level plateau on the sunny side of the Coquille River, thirty miles from the Pacific ocean, which is reached every day by a four-hour steamer ride. Coquille City is at the center of the converging wagon road-system of Coos County, and is at the head of deep-water navigation, and in the central part of a vast body of rich, river bottom land, which is the source of all true and enduring prosperity. The country round about is filled with precious metals, minerals and coal to an unparalleled extent, and is covered with a variety of timber that for quantity and quality is not excelled by that of any place on the Coast, if, indeed, equaled. As a dairying and stock-raising country, and a sanitarium for those seeking health, it is bound to come to the front rank. The fishing industry will prove an important factor, while the numerous mills and factories, completed, in course of construction, and contemplated, will make the whole county a buzzing hive of industry and wealth. Coquille City is in the center, is the most eligible and will enjoy all. Its school, church, and society advantages are second to none in the county. Building material is cheaper at this point than at any other in the county. It has the advantages of a corporation, and is to soon have a mountain stream of water, run through it for protection against fire. Property reasonable. J. A. DEAN, AGENT, Coquille City. M. J.
