

Bandon the Best Place for a Woolen Mill.

There is no place in the state, or elsewhere, that is more suitable for a woolen mill than at Bandon, in Averill's addition, which constitutes the town of Averill. A magnificent water power is ready to be utilized, the quantity of water being such that for washing it cannot be excelled by the most highly distilled dew drops. In the matter of fuel, that is no object, should it be needed, every variety of timber indigenous to this climate growing in close proximity, and the tide piling it up on the margin of the river in the shape of drift wood. The afternoon breeze enjoyed at this place would be admirably suitable for drying—and thus it goes; everything favorable and no drawback. Being at the mouth of the Coquille river, good shipping is assured with the market of the world. No reshipping would have to be resorted to which would often be the case at any other point higher up the river. It is, too, a central point to which wool can best be shipped, as is evident from the fact that upwards of 40,000 pounds have been received there in the past few weeks. That brought from the coast country would not have to be reshipped, while that from the upper river would be carried the entire length of the river as cheap as it would for two or three miles. In addition to all these advantages, the sites (for there are two or three of them) are owned by the whole-soul, genial W. H. Averill, who would do a good part by a person stating a business of that kind there. Our friends who are writing to us in regard to the starting of a woolen mill here, will do well by calling on Mr. Averill.

It is not at all likely that the United States will have any trouble with Mexico over the case of Cutting, the editor who published a libel against a subject of Mexico. The government would not tolerate the imprisonment of one of its citizens on the verdict of a court of a foreign country, and Mexico's attempt is only to try the patience of our government, the same as the Canadian fishery outrages. Mexico is far from wanting a bout with the United States, and all this bluster is for naught. When she finds determined opposition she will relinquish Cutting. Our government is acting wisely in not being too hasty in the matter.

On a recent visit to Bandon we were approached by at least a dozen men who expressed a desire to take stock in a steamer to run between Coquille river and San Francisco. We truly believe an effort is only needed to set this project square on its feet, and that double the amount necessary would be subscribed if the people were given a chance. Indeed, every cent necessary could be raised between here and Port Orford. Several prominent gentlemen from Northern Curry are very anxious to see a move made. Cannot some one be induced to go around and see what can be done?

In taking a retrospective view of the work done by the late congress of the United States, the work done particularly by our representative, Mr. Hermann, as well as that by Senator Mitchell, is very gratifying indeed. These gentlemen worked as faithfully and earnestly as we could wish, and their labor was rewarded. The fiftieth congress with these, our good and faithful representatives, will doubtless do as much or more than the one just adjourned. Come home now, thou good and faithful servants, and receive the blessings of a grateful people.

The coming metropolitan journal in the northwest is the News, of Portland. It is rapidly supplanting the Chinese organ, and already its telegraphic dispatches are the most complete of that of any paper north of San Francisco, on this coast. Vive la News.

An Excursion to Bandon.

Ye scribe boarded the steamer Coos Sunday morning with a merry lot of excursionists bound for Bandon beach. At Mr. Von Peger's place we found Mr. J. W. Hume with a good crew of workmen rapidly putting up houses for a cannery, and preparing tackle for fishing. Everything is bustle about the camp, and Mr. Hume seems to be a favorite among the people on the lower river, it being noticeable that every body has a good word for "Johnny." Mr. Hume is a rustler and will doubtless make a success of his cannery. At Parkersburg we noticed young folks were out for a gala day. Mr. Ramsdell, the photographer, took a negative of the town, the mill and the Coos, he being en route to Bandon to take some fine beach scenes. At Randolph everything was quiet, but we noticed a large number of fishermen who seemed ready to pounce upon the first salmon that should show up. Just below town we noticed the fishing schooner Spy belonging to Peterson Bros. who had arrived Friday morning from a fishing and sealing cruise. We saw the brothers and they were looking hale and hearty. On arriving at Bandon we noticed the Rubv, Capt. Jensen's fishing schooner and learned that she had arrived from a cruise a few minutes before our arrival at 11 A. M. The INJURED GEM was lying at the dock. On inspection we found that she was lying on a good sand bottom. About 100,000 feet of her deck load of lumber was scattered along the beach—for the most part along the river beach, but some on the ocean beach below the breakwater. The lumber will all be saved, but in a somewhat damaged condition. A good many of the laths, etc., are scattered, and all is sprinkled well with sand. A number of boards are split, some broken and others warped. The damage will be considerable to the cargo, and that of the vessel is injured, but to what extent we were unable to learn. Her cargo will all have to be removed and she will be then run up on the beach and repaired. It is evident that she has a hole or two knocked in her, and it is not thought she is injured in any other way, there being no sign of strain. Mr. Lyons and Charley Olive, his foreman, went down and took in the nature and extent of damage sustained. The lumber belonged to Lyons & Son and was uninsured.

The G. A. R. encampment which closed in San Francisco the first of last week, was a magnificent success. Words fail to express the joy and good time had by the old veterans. The visitors from the East express the greatest surprise at the pains and preparation taken for their accommodation, and with regrets at not being able to remain longer are leaving mournfully for their homes. Altogether it has been a most pleasant affair and San Francisco is to be congratulated.

The late Belfast riots furnish food for reflection with a vengeance. Many people who formerly favored home rule for Ireland, are about convinced that that people would make a bad mess of self-government. When we read that every move at rioting was the signal for a general racket of pillaging and plundering, and that 60,000 police and military were insufficient to quell the mob, it is time for serious thought. If the violence precipitated had been in any way of a nature to help the cause of a downtrodden people, there might have been some excuse, but the result was the opposite.

From this date the rates at the Olive hotel will be as follows: Board & lodging per week $5; per day $1.00; over night i. e. supper, bed and breakfast, $1.00; single meal, 40 cents.

People cannot be too careful in putting fire in the woods. There are a dozen fires in sight of town, and we look for trouble to our neighbors.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

O Shetter is sick. Miss Annie Blacklock and her sister, Mrs. Manly Roberts, went to Port Orford last week, on a visit. Miss Blacklock expects soon to take steamer for Australia, her former home.

The Yankee Doodles left on Sunday morning for Roseburg, taking with them the good wishes of our people on the bay. The entertainment on Friday evening was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. The music was most excellent and was highly appreciated, and the minstrel performance was in good taste and very amusing. There was no attempt at the absurd caricature of the negro race, so common in minstrel shows, and the low obscene allusions and jokes, which are the stock-in-trade of many traveling troupes, were entirely absent. This speaks volumes for the boys and entitles them to the respect of all decent people. The party on Saturday night was well attended, and was composed almost entirely of young people, and nice young people. The hall never looked brighter than when filled with merry dancers all in the joy of life's morning.

Harvesting is now in order. The steamer Hume will carry away a cargo of wool, tanbark, hides, etc.

The steamer brought up a large supply of watermelons, musk melons and other fruit, which went off like hot cakes.

R. D. Hume has chartered the schooner Free Trade for Rogue river, and she is expected to arrive here this week.

Chas. Roos will leave to-day or to-morrow for Coos county, with Mr. Hume's horses, Maplewood, Nimbus and Bonnie Jean, which have been entered at the Halls prairie races, to take place Sept. 7th. He will be accompanied by Mr. P. S. Truman and Claud Nichols. We expect to hear good reports from them.

Belfast Riots.

From Saturday a week to Monday following rioting in Belfast was largely indulged in. Eleven persons were killed outright and 130 badly wounded up to Monday. A dispatch at noon that day says: Attempts to stop the rioting are unsuccessful. The violence of the mob is increasing. Thirty rioters have been wounded. The police keep up a merciless fire upon the mob.

The city, owing to the wreck and ruin of houses, presents a deplorable aspect. Its appearance is similar to that of Paris after the commuue. It is feared that numerous deaths resulting from the riots have taken place which will never be heard of. Hospitals are taxed to the utmost to accommodate the great number of wounded persons in need of attendance. A painful feature of the riots is the number of children wounded. Yesterday a boy was shot while returning from Sunday school; today a little girl was shot on the streets, and it is thought fatally wounded. She was carried away apparently lifeless. Train loads of troops are constantly arriving.

The president has appointed Daniel Magone collector of customs at New York city. A good appointment.

To be Sold. A Handsome residence together with 150 acres of land two miles from ferry. The house contains sitting room, dining room, four bed rooms, kitchen, pantry etc. This was the original Bandon hotel. The barn 50x60 is strong and substantial. Coming, Coming, Coming!!!

COQUILLE CITY!

The coming Town of S. W. Oregon!

Few towns possess the natural advantages that Coquille enjoys, and which will, in the near future, cause it to blossom as the rose. It has a beautiful and pleasant site, being situated, for the most part, on a level plateau on the sunny side of the Coquille River, thirty miles from the Pacific ocean, which is reached every day by a four-hours steamer ride. Coquille City is at the center of the converging wagon road system of Coos County, and is at the head of deep-water navigation, and in the central part of a vast body of rich, river bottom land, which is the source of all true and enduring prosperity. The country round about is filled with precious metals, minerals and of an unparalleled extent, and is covered with a variety of timber that for quantity and quality is not excelled by that of any place on the Coast, if, indeed, equaled. As a dairying and stock-raising country, and a sanitarium for those seeking health, it is bound to come to the front rank. The fishing industry will prove an important factor, while the numerous mills and factories, completed, in course of construction, and contemplated, will make the whole county a buzzing hive of industry and wealth. Coquille City is in the center, is the most eligible and will enjoy all. Its school, church, and society advantages are second to none in the county. Building material is cheaper at this point than at any other in the county. It has the advantages of a corporation, and is to soon have a mountain stream of water run through it for protection against fire. Property reasonable. J. A. DEAN, AGENT, Coquille City. M. J.
