

LOCAL ITEMS.

Dr. G. D. Elgin, Myrtle Point, spent Sunday in this place.

If you have clocks, watches and jewelry out of repair, take them to J. J. Wilson.

The Knights of Labor recognize women and will look out for their interests.

The wonderful glass for the Lick Observatory has been completed after nineteen failures.

Geronimo, the Apache chief is to be sent to Florida. He will likely inaugurate war down there.

Dr. Easter will deliver a temperance lecture in this place in the evening of the first Sunday in November.

Doe, Kimball & Co., San Francisco lumber dealers failed a week ago. Their liabilities are said to be small.

The steamer Cores will run on her old route between Bandon and Myrtle Point until the Antelope is ready to run.

Rev. W. Lund, of Marshfield, will hold divine service in the church in this place to-night. Go and hear him.

Mrs. G. McEwan and Elbert Dyer went to the bay on Friday to witness the marriage of their sister, Mrs. Elta Pendergrass.

Elder Boyd, the Adventist preacher, left here for Portland Wednesday. He is a sincere worker, and did some good for his cause during his short visit.

Mr. Jensen, a late arrival from Topeka, Kansas, will buy property and build in this town and send for his family Dec. 1st. He has been all over California, and says this is the best part he has found.

Mr. Tebo and family arrived here Friday evening from Gainesville, Texas. Mr. T. has come to locate and has a number of former neighbors and acquaintances in this town who say he is a desirable citizen.

We acknowledge a pleasant call from Mr. S. S. Barklow and Jensen Randleman on Saturday. Mr. Barklow has been selected as a state evangelist by the Dunkard church, and has lately spent a month preaching in Jackson county.

We omitted to mention with the return of J. T. Nosler and family from a visit to the Willamette valley, Miss Della Cox who will make her home here on the river. Miss Cox formerly lived here, but left when she was yet a child.

Though numerous causes may operate to turn the hair gray, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, but we have yet to learn of its first failure.

Work has been suspended on the 2400 foot level in the Comstock mine at Virginia City, Nevada. Thirty-six hours after the pumps stopped, 800 feet of water, steaming hot, had risen above the 3200 foot level, and miles of drift and crosscuts were flooded.

An elastic step, buoyant spirits, and clear complexion, are the results of pure blood. The possessor of healthy blood enjoys a clearness of perception, impossible when the blood is heavy with impurities. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and vitalizer.

Mr. Button of Denmark, lost all his effects by fire one day last week. It occurred in the night, and only for some of their neighbors they must needs have been burned in their house. The building was just tumbling in when they were apprised of their danger. As it was Mr. Button was burned some.

Marshal Johnson pulled a couple of boys last week for ill behavior at church. They were sent away with a reprimand. Next time they will be subjected to a severe fine, and will likely have to occupy our city jail. Boys, this is too bad. It is humiliating to your family and we trust we will hear of no more such conduct.

Apples are selling here, delivered at 37 1/2 cents per box.

Billy Copley is missing a very sore hand, the result of a pane of glass.

Capt. Dan Roberts, of the bay, spent Sunday and yesterday in this place.

Capt. Thos. S. Floyd, of Empire, is again at the helm of the tug Katie Cook.

The Lizzie Prien went to sea a week ago. Capt. Nelson may be looked for again soon, as he is a stirring master.

The Rev. Mr. Church, of North Coquille, preached in this place on Sunday evening. Rev. Haynes preached in the forenoon.

A miser named Thos. Heddon starved to death in Portland a few days ago. About $2,000 was found in his hut. He was an Englishman 62 years old.

Lost.—A ladies' black braided jersey coat, between Gravel Ford and Dora, Saturday, Sept. 11, '86. The finder will report to James Laird, Brewster valley.

Owing to the late rains, work has not been going on very extensively on the steamer Antelope, and it will be some days before that boat will be ready to run.

Wm. Craig, father of Mrs. S. B. Barrows, of this place, arrived here last week from Nebraska. The old gentleman who is seventy-six years of age, came alone. His daughter was immensely pleased to see him.

J. J. Wilson, the watchmaker, can be found in Nosler's drugstore on Front street, where he is prepared to do any work in his line. J. J. is a good workman and has every facility to turn out first-class work. Give him a call.

Mr. Hatch and step-son arrived here a few days ago from Humboldt county, California. Mrs. Hatch had come some time before and was here awaiting their arrival. The former came overland to bring some fine stock. They are buying places and will locate.

A. L. Nosler has had a big run of custom at his store the past few weeks, and the rush is increasing. The reason is simple enough. He sells more goods for the same amount of money than they have been getting heretofore. You will save money by buying of him.

Wm. Nobles had the misfortune to lose 2 yoke of his logging team on Tuesday or Wednesday. He stopped on a down grade and the logs, of which he had several aggregating some seven or eight thousand feet, run onto the team killing four fine steers. This is a bad loss to a hardworking man.

The people of this town are petitioning the city duds for an ordinance giving them the right of petition which they claim is denied them in that the authorities grant a license to sell whisky without a petition. If it is a case where a petition is allowable, the people should be allowed their vote. A majority should rule, and the right of petition should be denied no American citizen.

Mr. Joseph Ferry who lives three miles above Myrtle Point had a narrow escape from death on Saturday. His team ran away and it is supposed he was thrown from the wagon. At any rate he was picked up nearer dead than alive. A wheel of the wagon had passed over his neck, a large section of his scalp carried away, and he was otherwise terribly bruised and jammed. He will recover, it is to be hoped, for he is one of Coos county's good men.

The houses being built in this place are being rushed along as rapidly as possible. Capt. Leneve's is about complete. Rev. Haynes' is up and covered, and is receiving the finishing touches. Miss Lehman's will be ready for occupancy in a few days, and those of Mr. Stillwell and Mr. Whetstone are just getting under way. The rains of last week deterred some from commencing the erection of their houses. More will be built in the next few weeks.

Yardmen struck at Louisville on the 21st.

San Francisco has 11 municipal tickets in the field.

Alex Smith is to-day the happy father of another bouncing baby boy.

Mr. Alexander, from Ten-Mile, Douglas county, has located in this place.

Geo. A. Beach, of Roseburg, is at Randolph inspecting the black sand mines.

Mr. J. F. Dunham visited the upper river in his splendid buggy the past two days.

S. S. Cox has again accepted the nomination for congress from the 9th New York district.

Wells that gave good water in Ohio before the late earthquakes are now flowing with oil.

Mr. Cruik, of Aurora, has spent a couple of days in this place visiting his daughter Mrs. W. Sinclair.

The Beaver slough boat has started up and will carry freight and passengers at the lowest possible rates.

Call and see A. L. Nosler's new goods. He has just received a good stock and has larger stock still coming on the Parke slurg.

Tommy Lunsden started for Ottawa, Canada, yesterday. He goes via Utah, and will not be back for some time. "Tommy, don't go?"

The Isthmus Transit railroad in connection with the Beaver slough boat, is prepared to carry freight and passengers between the Coquille and Coos bay.

Lost.—Miss Hall, of Marshfield, lost a leather valise during the fair. It contains some clothing. Anyone knowing anything of it will please confer with Wm. Hall, Marshfield.

Some complaints are coming in of papers not reaching some of our subscribers. The papers are mailed, and we trust postmasters will use care in delivering papers to rightful owners.

Caro Bros., Roseburg, have failed. This is one of Douglas county's most deserving and enterprising firms. The Owen's failure hurt them, and had much to do with their failure.

For a few days the cannery has been running on salmon caught at this place and in this vicinity, the rains having run the fish from the lower river. It is probable that the cannery will shut down to-day or to-morrow.

Mrs. Messer who has been visiting her sister in Josephine county, reports having had the ague during her stay there. She says she will never leave Coos county again. It is a fact that ague and chills cannot exist here.

Judge G. M. Dyer has purchased a half interest with Will Averill in the property purchased a year ago by Averill from John Lewis at the mouth of the Coquille. This is a strong and reliable firm, and we wish it unbounded success.

A. L. Nosler is receiving a new stock of goods at the Cash store, which he will offer at prices that will astonish the natives. He is always in the advance in bringing down the prices, but now he will offer a superior quality of goods at greatly reduced prices.

A lot of Corvallis boys and amongst them Mr. Kennedy of the foundry passed through here a few days ago on their way to the black sand mines in the vicinity of Randolph. They carry along with them a special apparatus for the saving of fine gold and several well filled tanks of quick-silver. This is a novel construction and differs somewhat from any of the machines of that kind known to our miners. The boys took along with them a Herculean-looking individual, a doctor and also one of the Corvallis brewers, so that the professions seem to be well represented. The party are all anxious to test the merits of their gold-saver. The Coquillers wish them good luck.

Just Our Idea.

Let us strike; and let us strike at the polls. That is the place to strike, and the time to strike is whenever an enemy of your cause can be downed. Strike him so hard that it will not be necessary to repeat the dose. Knock him forever out of the ring. The most fruitful strike you can make is to give these fellows a quietus at the ballot box. In a few rounds you can dispose of them so effectually that there will be no more lockouts, except those of your own instigation, the lock-out-of-office of the tools of monopolists. Then there will be no danger of the importation of foreigners to usurp your places. When the time comes, and it is fast approaching strike right and strike hard.—Labor Advocate.

The Mail, in last week's issue, essays to be classical; and to show its readers what a fine thing it is to be a Latin scholar, sets its scholastic superiority before them by attempting a quotation from one of the classical authors as follows: "O tempora! O Mores!" Oh! Mores! Oh! shades of immortal Cicero! why don't you arise from your grave and avenge yourself on the foul mutilator of your celebrated exclamation O tempora! O Mores! Tempora, John—not Mores! The word is neuter, and you would make it Male—you must not try to make everything Male because you happen to be the Const Male.

Electric motors will soon supply the place of small engines. A report comes from Cincinnati as follows: At the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, T. C. Martin read a paper on the present and future of electric motors, in which he said that over 5,000 were now in use in this country. They are applied to almost every use where a small amount of power is required. In Des Moines, Ia., a three-horse power motor is used in a livery stable for hoisting the elevator and running a pump. At Cheyenne, Wyo., an electric motor runs an evening paper press, another a gunsmith's lathe, another an emery grinder, and still another a sausage mill. Dentists and jewelers are introducing them extensively, and so are tailor shops where many sewing machines are employed. They are taking the place of hydraulics for elevators, and of horses for street cars. A current for a motor in Philadelphia, Mr. Martin says, costs but $5 a month, the minimum price when compared with the cost of an engine and an engineer.

The Statesman says "the cost bills in the criminal cases before Justice O'Donnell in East Salem precinct during September amounted to over $250, and the county court was made to open its eyes a little when they were presented. The most of these costs occurred from the gambling cases." From the foregoing statement it is to be inferred that the county court's eyes were closed when they passed the $1700 map appropriation, and that the Statesman is directly opposed to the enforcement of the gambling law.—The (Salem) Lance.

[Coos Mail.]

I Hacker is going to California shortly, with a view to engage in business there.

Peter Scott is still fishing at the mouth of Coos river. Night before last he caught 150 silver salmon.

Z. T. Siglin, the custom-house masher, is a universal favorite with the ladies—when the roads are good.

There are 105 miners employed at the Newport coal mine, and four or five are waiting for new rooms to be opened. The bunkers are full and nothing more can be done until the steamers arrive.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness and am able to do all my household work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle, only 50c, at J. H. Nosler's Drug Store.

Merchants' Boycott.

Kansas City, Oct. 19.—The committee appointed at the meeting of the Transportation Board on Monday to memorialize the Missouri Pacific regarding the determination of the merchants to withdraw their patronage from the road unless it discontinues its discriminations against Kansas City, will draft the memorial to-day. The Missouri Pacific will be given until next Wednesday to make a reply, and should it be unfavorable the Transportation Board will take active measures to enforce the boycott. The committee to solicit the co-operation of merchants in bringing the Missouri Pacific to terms met with gratifying success yesterday, and should a boycott become necessary it promises to be a formidable one.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery. Capt. Coleman, eddy, Weymouth, fishing between Atlantic City and N. J., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial bottles of this Standard Remedy at J. H. Nosler Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever-sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refused. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. H. Nosler.

MARRIED.

At Marshfield, Oct. 23, 1886, Mr. A. H. Buckingham and Mrs. Etta Pendergrass.

At Linnville, October 11, 1886, at the residence of the bride, Mr. George Jones and Mrs. Mary A. Laird, by Justice Berdowin.

After the ceremony, the guests partook of a delicious dinner. Only a few of the most intimate friends were invited. Presents were given by those named: Mrs. H. Shelton, glass lamp; Mrs. Sears, 1/2 dozen napkins; Mrs. Alice Cornell, glass cake stand; Mr. John Cornell, glass censer and nigger babies; Miss Lulu Dean, 1/2 dozen glass salt shakers; Miss Maggie Laird, earthen vase and glass pie dish; Miss Floy Shelton, silver duster; Miss Emma Sears, set of soap dishes and tea set; Miss Lillie Staudman, set of glass goblets.

The bride looked lovely, arrayed in dove colored satin and orange blossoms. The groom wore the conventional neat fitting black suit.
