

LOCAL ITEMS.

See Dr. Volkmar's card. Immigrants are coming in. Mr. Frank M. Baxter moved to town last week.

G. D. Anderson and Joe Johnson left for Camas valley last week.

Capt. and Mrs. Lockwood, were visiting in this place last Sunday.

Gilbert Ladeaux was killed by a horse at Gervais in this state recently.

Remember Dr. Easter's temperance lecture in this place next Sunday evening.

Remember that Steward and Paden have a good supply of choice meats constantly on hand at their market.

Dr. J. M. Volkmar has located at Bandon and left yesterday for his new field of labor. We wish him every success.

The street crossing between the Odd Fellows' hall and Messer's corner, and that between the Cottage saloon and the Olive hotel is a disgrace to the town. Fix them up.

Cap. Jorgensen and three of his men spent Sunday in this place. They were on their way to the city from the scene of the wrecked Annie Herminia at Port Blacklock.

Mr. Sinclair has some very good bargains in real estate. He got options on places at the lowest figures, and will sell at these figures. You can get the best bargains of him.

The fisherman's ball in this place next Saturday night promises to be a grand affair. It is given by and for the benefit of the Coquille Brass band. Go and have a good time, and give the boys a benefit.

Uncle Daniel Palaski sold his splendid place at the foot-hills opposite this town last week to Mr. Hatch of Humboldt county, Cal. This is one of the best places on the Coquille river. Mr. P. will buy property at Bandon.

Hundreds of letters from those using Ayer's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

The band turned out last Sunday and serenaded the town. They finally located at a big burning "log heap" near Mr. Balsh's place. The band is rapidly improving and the music furnished by it is a treat. We hope to see a good patronage given the boys hereafter.

Ed Laswell made us a pleasant visit yesterday and presented us with the finest apples we have seen. They were raised on his father's place on North Coquille. Each of two of them measure 16x16 inches in circumference and weigh 1lb 12 ounces each. They were of the Gloria Mundi variety.

Mr. Thos. Stone and family arrived here last week from Montague county, Texas. They will live with Bud and Toll Stone, two sons of Mr. S., who live on J. S. Jones' place at the mouth of Mat Rinck creek. Mr. Stone says the people where he came from will have to be aided as they raised nothing this season.

Gallier and son have a number of carpenters at work building an addition to their blacksmith shop in which to do the work in the construction of wagons. Already they have put up one wagon, have the timbers out for a three-seat buggy, and have received an order for another wagon. They are good workmen, and will turn out as good vehicles as can be found anywhere. Give them your patronage.

On Saturday morning last a strange vessel was heard whistling off Cape Foulweather, but the fog was too dense to observe her correctly. Later in the day she proceeded southward. It is probable that she was a Coos bay tug sent out to search for the disabled Sardonix which Capt. Winant spoke off Cape Perpetua on his last trip up.—The Newport News.

Alex Smith's oldest child is sick. Capt. Parker visited the bay the last of the week.

Remember the Ball at this place on next Saturday night.

Mr. T. C. Campbell arrived here on Saturday from St. Paul.

The schooner Coquille arrived in the river on Wednesday.

The schooner Parkersburg is due and has been seen off the bar.

The Texans of this place had a re-union at R. J. Dean's on Sunday.

The schooner Parkersburg, now due, brings a big lot of crockery ware for G. McEwan.

Remember the Fishermen's Ball here next Saturday. The posters are out. Go and take it in.

The Prohibition Star of Salem was attached last week but is out again. The paper is a fixture.

Hon. W. F. Benjamin is spoken of as the probable speaker of the lower house of the coming legislature.

Oats, wheat, furs, wool, hides—or cash—taken on account or in exchange for goods at Geo. McEwan's.

Some of our local prophets predict heavy wind and the coldest weather seen here for years this winter.

Rev. J. C. Canterbury moved to town last week. He is soon going to San Bernardino, Cal., but will leave his family.

A grand ball will be given at the Odd Fellows' hall in this place on Christmas eve. Look out for ad and posters next week.

A gentleman sends us a dollar from Palouse City, W. T., and says: "I like your paper very much; it is homemade—no patent outside."

The stage between this place and the bay stopped on Saturday for the winter. The travel hereafter will go by the Beaver slough and Isthmus route.

The members of the Brass and String Band are preparing some new music which will be introduced here for the first time on next Saturday night. Go and hear them.

Mother Cartwright, of this place, has a lot of red pepper that stood the weather last winter, and is in fine growing condition for another year. The plants are getting large and bear profusely.

The freight and passenger route via Beaver slough, the Isthmus Transit railroad, and the steamer Coos on Isthmus slough is open. Remember this and don't go wrong. Connections always made.

Mr. C. A. Kelley arrived here last week from Kansas, and is seeking a home. He comes highly recommended and has a farm which he will sell provided he is suited here. His family is stopping at Gravel Ford.

A report comes from Gardiner that two Chinamen had a row, and the country is liable to get rid of both. One was trying to succeed to the position of cook—a position held by the other, when the injured Mongol procured a pistol and shot his antagonist dead. He then shot his own brains out, but was alive at last accounts. This is an evidence that brains are not necessary in the makeup of the heathen Chinese.

No Whisky For Alaska. Washington, Oct. 25.—The Secretary of War has informed the Treasury Department in regard to the action of the commanding officer of the Division of the Pacific in issuing permits to land liquors in different parts of Alaska, that hereafter no permits will be issued by the War Department for introduction into Alaska of liquors except for medical, mechanical and scientific purposes. The Collector of Customs at Sitka has been notified accordingly.

Hon. B. Hermann returned from below Tuesday evening. Mr. H. is a wide-awake congressman and sees that his interests and the people's interests are identical, and hence takes pains to learn their wants and wishes by visiting all parts of the state.—Plaindealer.

"Potmetal" on the Warpath.

Poor "Potmetal" is at it again—hammer and tongs! He now says that Michael Liber is insane because he took sufficient notice of "Potmetal" to call public attention to the perverse and persistent illiteracy and ignorance of the "grammatical" spellist of Southern Oregon. Well, Potmetal, my boy, even if it were so, it would be better to be afflicted with a respectable kind of insanity, any day, than to be a natural born idiot. We were thinking up this way that the auspicious domestic event which is reported to have occurred at Ellensburg on the 19th inst., and by which Potmetal—being "built that way"—again augments his claims upon "posterity," would have put our "grammatical" spellist in a little better humor with the world in general, but instead of that, "posterity's" music seems to have set Potmetal's senses all awry. In apologizing to the HERALD he says, "we done nothing of the kind." Rough, Potmetal, rather rough! He says that M. L.'s attempts at poetry are "ludicrous." Potmetal, my boy, you are getting worse. He says that M. L. "knashes" his teeth etc. etc. Oh! Moses! The "spellist" had evidently some hazy idea that the word "gnash" ought to have some unsounded letter in front of it, but what it was he couldn't, for the life of him, determine. Make your subscribers pay up, Potmetal, my boy, and invest in a Webster—invest in a Webster—it is needed—badly needed—and you'll not lose by it, I assure you.

Potmetal accuses me of losing my temper. The idea of losing one's temper with an ignoramus like that! There's one thing certain—and that's not two—that the higher the "spellist" climbs his tree, the more we see of his ignorance. He says I "paw the ground," and "knash my teeth." "Knash" your grandmother, Potmetal! I didn't knash nothing! The thing is too absurd, it is "ludicrous." "We done nothing of the kind."

Michael Liber, Dora Items.

Ed. HERALD: As time is winging us away we will try and give you a few items from the vicinity of Dora. L. Asbury, our most energetic farmer, is speeding the plow at a rapid rate. He has a fine field of wheat sown and up growing. If it grows till next harvest at the rate it is now, California need not wait for bread another year.

F. E. Scofield is building a fine porch on the south and west sides of his white mansion.

J. H. Minard is well liked as a miller, and has had a good run of grinding this fall.

The hog law is a failure in these parts.

E. W. Tompkins has gone to Douglas county to canvass the coming winter, and his son to Portland to attend school.

J. Sonders is building a new house, having had his former one burnt down.

Agent of the O. S. I. company has been visiting settlers on their lands.

J. P. Stemler's new house is progressing finely, under the management of I. T. Weekly.

The financial crash caused by the failure of W. F. Owens has left a good many men in sad circumstances who have lost all their crops of grain and wool.

Wheat is worth 55 cents in Douglas county at the present time and flour $3 per barrel.

There has been rain enough in Douglas to cause the farmers to clasp the plow handles and walk from morn till eve.

Don Rex.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28.—Three white women were brought into the city from Talking Rock, where they were found at work as the sole proprietors of an illicit still. They are Mrs. Frick and her two daughters, Sallie and Emma. The revenue raiders came upon them quite unexpectedly in their mountain retreat. The women took their arrest coolly and made but one request, that of consulting a mirror before starting out on the journey to jail.

GENERAL NEWS.

Mrs. A. T. Stewart died in New York last week, leaving $20,000,000.

Cork, Ireland, is rejoicing over the conversion to home rule of its Protestant Archbishop.

The Mechanics' fair at Portland was a grand success, laying all former efforts in the shade.

Wheat was a failure this season in Russia, and it is thought it will cause an advance in the price in the U. S.

The Case school building at Cleveland, Ohio, one of the best in the country was destroyed by fire on Wednesday last.

The Sioux and Crow Indians had a skirmish on the Little Horn river and a number on each side were killed, a few days ago.

The O. C. ferry boat collided with the steamer Mikado at Portland last Tuesday, and Phil J. Holland was fatally injured.

Poor old Gladstone was carrying a blackeye last week. He was out chopping down a tree when the accident occurred, says a London dispatch.

Charley Thomas traded chewing gum with a boy who had the diphtheria in Oakland, California, a few days ago. He died and other members of his family came near dying.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

Chas. Bradford's head was blown 70 feet from his body by the explosion of a cannon at Nevada City, on Tuesday at a democratic rally. The explosion came near killing the speaker, Senator Cross.

In Dubuque, Iowa, the saloon-keepers are in trouble, the result of the Clark law. There hardly seems a doubt but that the law will be rigidly enforced there, and it is the stronghold of the liquor traffic.

Fred Winkelman, the young man who set fire to the jail in Baker City, where he was incarcerated, burning up five fellow-prisoners, has been given a life sentence. He stole some horses, and meeting a couple of stockmen killed them for fear they would have him arrested. In the Baker county jail he was so burned that he is a rainbow in shape, has a withered arm and requires the constant care of a doctor.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a suffering sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. H. Noster.

A Piece of Fringe Prevented a Murder.

A peculiar attempt to commit a murder was made at Salem last Friday, in the court house at that place. The case of the state against Harvey Winfield, charged with maliciously killing stock, was to come up at 9 o'clock in the morning. A while before that time, Mrs. Winfield, the defendant's mother, stationed herself near the entrance to the court room, and when Mrs. S. H. Richards, the principal witness against her son, appeared at the top of the stairs, she drew a revolver from under her shawl and pulled the trigger within half a foot of Mrs. Richards' body. The hammer caught in the fringe of the shawl and a cold blooded murder was prevented. Mrs. Winfield was afterward indicted for assault with dangerous weapon with intent to kill.—Ex

Good Results in Every Case.
