PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY. J. A. DEAN, Editor and Proprietor

Devoted to the interests of the Coquille River particularly, and of the County generally.

Subscription, per year.....$20.

TUESDAY, DEC. 14, 1886.

Russia has shown signs of weakening in her war demonstrations.

Blaine and Edmunds have kissed and made up. The latter relented.

Coquille City will celebrate Christmas with a tree for the children. This is as it should be.

Coquillers should bear in mind when at Marshfield that Henry Rhodes still wields the "billy," and that a "high lonesome" in that place means all the term implies.

Dr. Chas. B. Kendall, of Buena Vista, fell through a hatch in the wharf while boarding the steamer Yaquina City and fractured his skull from which he soon died.

It is certainly not for the best interests of the state that the State Board of immigration should be continued the coming year unless it can be changed to fill a better mission than it has. It is wholly a creature of Portland.

The Mail speaks very highly of Rev. Campbell's sermon of a week ago Sunday, and adds that the Baptist church contemplates giving him a call to become their regular pastor. He is an able and earnest man, and the church could do no better than to employ him.

A defaulter in San Francisco is trying to compromise through his attorney at 37 1/2 cents on the dollar, while he is in hiding. This would be a bad precedent if acceded to, as it would virtually be a premium on imbecillment. It would be no time till hundreds would decamp with the bundle of the concerns with which they were entrusted; and bring about a state of affairs that would be deplorable in the extreme.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Munn & Co., patent solicitors, in another column. Their name is familiar to patentees throughout the country. In connection with the publication of the Scientific American for the past forty years, they have made the drawings and specifications for more than one hundred thousand inventions, and their facilities for obtaining patents were never better than now.

Did you feel the effect of the cyclone which passed over Coke & Minard's logging camp the other day which caused them to discontinue logging?

I saw M. J. Krantz pass by yesterday, and the welcome shout was—"we've got a big gal at our house!"

James McCulloch is hauling hay from Cherry creek to Brewster valley for his horses use in carrying mail.

Two men late from Michigan are trapping on East fork. Success to new comers.

G. G. Swan is doing quite an amount of slashing this winter.

Two fat cows lost by J. Young were butchered by Krantz Bros. and sold. They had become quite wild. The last one killed was like hunting an elk.

T. Johnson has a field of wheat up and looking fine.

I forgot in my last to say that Miss Ida Scofield was attending school in your city.

Notice!

If there is anyone who wishes a copy of "Sun Shine at Home" for Christmas present or any purpose, please send postal card to E. W. Tompkins, Marshfield, Oregon.

(The book is one of merit—well worth the price asked. It is interesting and instructive. Ed.)

For real good bargains, go to Nosler's drugstore in this place. He is selling goods extremely cheap, and keeps nothing but the best.

Moresnet.

The smallest state in Europe—one, beside which the principality of Monaco and the republics of Andorra and San Marino appear "great powers"—is Moresnet, which is situated between Verviers and Aix-la-Chapelle, upon the confines of Belgium and Germany, in a fertile valley watered by a river named La Gueule, which runs into a lake upon the shores of which is an ancient dungeon, dating from the time of Charlemagne. The reason assigned for the independence of this district is that the district of Moresnet, which is only about four square miles in extent and has a population of 2,000, possesses some very rich zinc mines and that, after the battle of Waterloo, Belgium and Prussia could not agree as to which of the two should have possession of these and, as neither would give way, the district was by mutual consent made independent. At that time the district was very poor and there were not more than fifty dilapidated cottages and huts in it, whereas now there are 800 houses and the mine yields a handsome return, so that some time ago it was thought that Germany and Belgium would agree to swallow it up between them. But so far the independence of Moresnet has remained unimpaired—though Germany and Belgium each has a delegate living in the district, whose duty it is to settle any dispute which may arise. The administration of the district is intrusted to a burgo-master, who is selected by the delegates of the two governments and who himself selects ten municipal councilors. There is no elected Assembly in Moresnet and consequently no division into "parties," while the inhabitants are exempt from military service and pay only five shillings per head taxation. The total revenue of the public is rather under £500, and this suffices to cover all the expenditure, including the school of the district and the "army," which latter force consists of one soldier, who acts as gendarme and policeman as well. This soldier is often to be seen in full uniform enjoying a game of chess or billiards with the burgo-master at the beer garden on the shores of the lake, which enjoys the style and title of Casino. The question as to the relations between church and state does not give any trouble at Moresnet, as the mining company pays the stipend of the priest and the only drawback to the complete satisfaction of Moresnet and the inhabitants is that they are not allowed to have postage stamps of their own.—Paris American Register.

Benton Leader: The State Immigration board is a fraud, and should be abolished by the legislature. There is no particular sense in taxing people to pay for a clerk for real estate agents and railroad corporations. If immigrants want to come to Oregon, they can find the way now. The legitimate way to attract people is to treat those well who do come, build school houses and be white. Mr. Carlisle isn't needed to stand at the gate and show people where to go. Let Mr. Carlisle step down. He is the fifth wheel on the wagon. He is a superfluous. Let us strike him out, as the lawyers say, as "surplusage."

Think of this, you esteem the poultry business too insignificant to receive your attention: Official figures show that the eggs laid by hens last year in the United States, were worth more than all the silver produced in the same period; and yet this insignificant industry is only in its infancy. What a grand showing the poultry breeders of this country ought to make in the course of a few years.—Ex.
