The lodge of Independent Order of Good Templars of this place will give an open meeting and pound party on the 24th inst. Every man, woman and child are invited to attend and bring a pound of something.

The small amount of stock lost by the snow of February, is surprising. We knew that most people had no feed prepared, and that as long as the range was covered with snow, cattle would suffer for want of food.

We understand an important change in the road through McQuigg's place, a mile from town on the route to the bay, is contemplated. A heavy grade will be avoided, which will necessitate a bridge, or at least make it feasible to build a much needed one.

Word from Sixes is to the effect that Green lost 14 head of cattle by the snow of two weeks ago. James W. Wilson five head, while Caldwell and Haines lost none so far as known. Also that the Salmon Mountain Mining company had reopened operations.

Capt. A. B. Young who has been with Capt. Butler on the steamer Empire for several months returned last week, passing down on the Antelope on Thursday. The Capt. says this is the roughest winter along the coast that he has ever seen here.

T. M. and W. P. Hermann, and Ed Major passed down with a raft of 240 ash, cedar and fir logs Thursday from South Coquille. They go to Parker's mill. A similar raft of 150 logs will be brought down by these gentlemen by next rise in the river.

Capt. Jas B. Eads, of bridge and canal fame, died on the 6th.

FROM ROSEBURG.

Ed. HERALD:—The winter has broken, and every indication is favorable to continued good spring weather. Grass is growing nicely now, and stock doing well. The loss this winter has been some beyond the average, and will have the effect of teaching our farmers to look out in the future for the Italy of Oregon.

We have a new deputy postmaster.

At the school meeting last Monday it was decided to build a $4,000 school house. Who says our children won't learn now?

The president has vetoed the river and harbor bill. There is nothing so remarkable about it, for there has been but one light appropriation during a short session since 1881. Cleveland has nothing to lose on the Pacific coast, the Pacific states did all in their power to defeat him. It is well enough to keep a little money in the treasury; we might have another Modoc war. Had Grant had money at his command to have hired five good Oregon volunteers, sixty Diggers would not have set at defiance 50,000,000 of people for two months nor would we have had a Canby or Thomas to have buried. B. T. W. says let the surplus increase until it stands like Ossa upon Pelion, so that the people may behold from afar the enormous sums that they are paying, ignorantly it may be with some, but certainly by all.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher died at 9:30 last Tuesday morning the 8th inst. Had he wound up his earthly career 40 years ago he would have been mourned by all Christians; but he outlived his faith. He was a great man, and his death leaves a void. In the whole country there is no person to take his place in Plymouth pulpit.

Your correspondent having kept on the windward side of a severe winter here is now fully prepared to endure the climate of Alaska, and should you not hear from him any more you must conclude that he is scaling the summit of an ice berg, or playing with the Polar bear.

March 10, 1887.

Ed. HERALD:—The "Bad Man from Wicked Hollow" takes me to task for praising, in common with all other right-minded inhabitants of this district, our clever, amiable and excellent school teacher Miss Lehman, and for giving expression to those praises through your widely circulating journal. And to emphasize his disgust, he narrates a little anecdote (after the manner of Aesop, only that he leaves the animals out) about an imaginary king who wanted to palm himself off as a regular Boston dude upon a full suit of nothing. Now I have no quarrel with the "Bad Man," and in fact I am truly sorry he is bad and hope he will mend his ways while there is time left for repentance, and in order to assist him to do so I am going to give him a few pointers.

In a frontier country like this, then, let me tell you, "Bad Man from Wicked Hollow," where we are, to say the least of it, not overburdened with any superfluous population, we need items that would not perhaps be deemed of the highest importance in crowded cities. If we take up one of the London daily newspapers, we are most likely to find in one of the "fashionable" pages that Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria breakfasted on mush and milk, and then went out riding with Her Royal Highness the Princess Beatrice, with Lord Thingumajig and the Marquis of Thingumbob as equestriers in waiting. Or we may discover that His Serene Highness Prince Teck, accompanied by the Grand Duke of Mackackiac, took a stroll this afternoon in the grounds attached to the Royal Palace. Well, if we take up the Coquille City HERALD, perhaps we are informed that "Uncle" Rastus Whateycallin went to the bay. This is all right and as it should be. There is a social harmony which the ancients called "the fitness of things," and "Bad Man" must remember that we are all kings and queens here, and that the condition, say of John Dean's arm, is of much more importance to us, than is Queen Victoria's appetite or the health of His Serene Highness Prince Teck. There are some few people who seem to think that what they are pleased to deem trivial personal notices had better be omitted from a local newspaper. Let them, and amongst them the "Bad Man," remember that what they may happen to have heard before, or what may not appear very important to them, might possibly be of no slight interest to other parties. Coos against the world, is our motto, and, in this little world of ours of Southwestern Oregon, there can be but few occurrences that are not of sufficient interest to deserve the passing notice of our local press.

But with regard to this particular instance in which "Bad Man" finds fault with me for speaking, I contend that there is no question which requires to be more thoroughly canvassed and sifted and ventilated than the subject of the proper education of our children. If Miss Lehman is a thoroughly energetic and good teacher, and a model woman, let it not become stale because hundreds say it and keep on saying it. If she has built a sidewalk let not "Bad Man" think that it is an "imaginary" sidewalk, but let him roll up his pants and try the solidity of the timbers by dancing a jig upon it, for it is free to him as well as to everyone else. If he wants to become convinced of her theatrical talents, let him go and hear her, and the children she has taught, in their next theatrical performance. And last, but not least, surely no one who gazes upon her pretty figure, ornamented with becoming colors, as she walks briskly (and she always walks briskly) down the street, can accuse Miss Lehman of being arrayed in "imaginary" garments. Fie! "Bad Man," you ought to have known better. Now don't talk to me again about "adulation" for there is none of that about.

Don't Experiment.
You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at J. H. Noslter's drug store.

Patents granted to citizens of the Pacific states during the past week, and reported expressly for the HERALD by C. A. Snow & Co., patent lawyers, opposite U. S. patent office, Washington, D. C.

E. Doesch, San Francisco, Cal., lantern; H. B. Cole, Riverside, Cal., tree prop; W. S. Donn, Sacramento, Cal., ear coupling; L. Ford, San Francisco, Cal., water filter; H. T. Hazard, Los Angeles, Cal., cart-ridge loading machine; P. D. Horton, Oakland, Cal., slate washer; E. Hosford, Oakland, Cal., boiler for heating water; F. Payne, East Portland, Oreg., pulverizing machine; J. W. Redfield, Glendale, fire arm; J. Richards San Francisco, Cal., stop valve; C. A. Smith, San Francisco, vessel propeller; J. P. Tierney, Oakland, transom ventilator; W. H. Worth, Petaluma, Cal., grape stemmer.

For real good bargains, go to Noslter's drugstore in this place. He is selling goods extremely cheap, and keeps nothing but the best.

The Mail Agent.

Ed. HERALD:—You are away off in regard to the mail. The hole you speak of through which the letter mail comes is pulled through after him by the mail carrier. He is obliged to do this to preserve it for next trip. We suppose if it were braced and greased it might stand the extra service, but you must remember the snow has been very deep, besides it would not look nice to see the hole sticking out over a canon like a ships jib-boom after the snow had melted away.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. H. Noslter's.

Bandon Beach Estate (663 Acres) For Sale.

CONTAINING THE RACE COURSE, AGATE Beach, Horsehoe Bay, the Renowned Caves. The latter are about in the center of the beach resorted to for health and recreation, and which, down to low water line is the exclusive property of the owner by right of patent. The frontage on the beach, which is nearly a mile in length, has an unobscured view of the Pacific Ocean, and is admirably adapted for villas, hotels, etc., the northern boundary adjoining the lands of A. Giromi, the entire frontage of which has been already disposed of in building lots. The beach itself extends to a considerable distance north of the frontage, and also south of it, and contains a large quantity of red and white cedar, redwood, spruce, ash, maple and myrtle brought in by every tide. The patentee is also entitled to all mines, minerals, medicinal springs, clam and oyster beds, walrus and eastrys thereon.

The temperature is unequalled in the United States for equality, there being only 13 degrees between the monthly mean of January, the coldest month of the year—the average of which is 46 degrees—and that of July and August, the hottest—the average of which is 59 (see Signal Service Report). The inside lands, about 340 acres of which are more or less cleared land under fence are suitable for dairying, or raising cattle or sheep as well as for grain, roots, etc., and the entire when cleared (and this is easily accomplished, as the timber has been permitted to grow only since the white man settled here about 30 years since) will maintain a large number of cattle, and also adapted for the ordinary products of agriculture in a temperate climate.

Easy terms will be given, nearly the entire purchase money being allowed to lie on the lands for a long time. The northern line of these inside lands is only half a mile from the postoffice, store, shipping wharves, etc., of the rising seaport town of Bandon, which is situated at the mouth of the Coquille, a river navigable for seagoing ships for 30 or 40 miles from its mouth, and where building lots of a frontage of 30 feet are selling for $50 and upwards. This is an opportunity for industrious and enterprising people, rarely met with. The price sought for at present is only at the rate of $25 per acre. Apply to GEORGE BENNETT, Bandon, Coos County, Oregon.
