Washington Letter. (From our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, May 23th, 1887.

The soldier boys are all here, and Washington is full of martial music and beat of drums. The National Drill opened this morning, but the contests will not begin until to-morrow. To-day was devoted to some formalities such as receiving the troops, naming the camp, and this afternoon there was a dress parade by all the companies. For the past few days large crowds of people have congregated at the railway stations to see and welcome the soldiers as they arrived. The first to make their appearance were the Louisiana Rifles, of New Orleans, who marched quietly up Pennsylvania avenue to Willard's Hotel and afterwards to camp which they entered as silently as spies. The Vicksburg Southrons followed them making quite a noise with their silver cornets, and the Louisiana men received their Mississippi neighbors with a hearty cheer which was duly reciprocated.

The city of tents around the base of the Washington Monument is quite picturesque, and there is also a ladies camp just north of the parade grounds. Large parties of ladies accompanied some of the military organizations here and some of them preferred to go into camp to stopping at the hotels and boarding houses. Some preferred it for the novelty of the experience and others because of the economical features of camp life.

Quite a sensation occurred when it was reported that there would be no liquor sold in camp because of an order issued by the President to revoke the privilege. It seems that a committee of ladies, appointed for the purpose by the W. C. T. U. called upon the President and presented him with a protest against the sale of intoxicating liquors on the drill grounds, it being a Government property, and asking his interference. The ladies said the President received them most courteously, expressed his disapproval of the license to sell liquors on the drill ground, and gave them much encouragement to believe it would not be done. The ladies also called on Col. Wilson, Commissioner of public buildings and grounds, and other gentlemen having authority.

The bar-room privilege of the ground had been sold by the Drill committee for $1,800, but about noon on last Friday, the man who had bought the privilege of opening the bar under the grand stand, was notified that the order granting him this privilege was revoked, and he at once ceased his preparations. Later it was stated that this action of the Drill committee was in no way due to the president or to the efforts of the ladies of the W. C. T. U., that before the ladies had waited on the president, the Drill committee had passed their resolutions revoking the sale of intoxicants on the Drill grounds. Probably the real secret of the committee's action was that it received through the commissioner of public grounds a polite intimation that it would be very gratifying to the war department, to which the Drill ground belongs, if intoxicating liquors were excluded. The committee, already under great obligations to the war department, could not afford to ignore a hint of that kind, and they promptly made the order revoking the bar privilege. So, at the refreshment counter under the grand stand, only temperance drinks will be sold this week.

The president, who has been working very hard and steadily for some time, has decided to take a rest. He will go soon, accompanied by his wife and her mother, Colonel and Mrs. Lamont, to Saranae Lake, N. Y., for about ten days fishing. Last season he delayed his trip to the mountains until it was almost too late for this sport. He expects to get there before the crowd of Adirondack visitors assemble, with the view of securing a good rest. It is probable that this will be his only opportunity to be away from Washington for any length of time. Extra session talk is again revived, and should he deem it necessary to call an extra session of congress, as many men of prominence think he will, he would probably be deprived of a later summer vacation.

An extra session is urged chiefly by the advocates of tariff reduction, who think that the country demands relief from taxation and the release of a good deal of the money that is thereby locked up in the treasury. From a partisan standpoint, the democratic politicians would, of course, prefer to avoid an extra session. It would involve additional expense for which the dominant party is always held responsible.

SIMPLY HORRIBLE. SISSONS, CAL., May 30.—An unknown man was found dead at Dunsuir. He came from the railroad front, and has been on a protracted spree for several days. On his arrival at Sissons he was partially intoxicated. He started from here on the morning of the 28th, and is supposed to have died from the effects of intoxication. The coroner from Yreka arrived on the scene this afternoon to hold an inquest. He has been lying in front of Brown's saloon from 4 p.m. May 28th, until the arrival of the coroner. He was covered with pine brush for one whole day, and from what people report who were there and covered him he was a horrible sight.
