

OUR PROHIBITION COLUMNS.

Reasons for Prohibition.

1. It increases the value of real estate. A saloon always depresses the price of property in its vicinity.

2. Prohibition lessens crime, reduces taxes, promotes order and thrift, and is a very great blessing to the poor and the working classes.

3. The success of prohibition is an order for the criminal classes, including saloon-keepers, to move on. They must go to some honest business or leave.

4. The loss of a worthless population is made up with compound interest by the incoming of a sober, moral, industrious people. See Governor Martin's statement.

5. The triumph of prohibition is a victory for all that is good among men. What we want is order, industry, morality, prosperity and purity in society.

6. The saloon in politics is an arrogant, imprudent, wicked, riotous, dishonest, dangerous force.

7. The saloon makes the dangerous conspirator of city politics. It is in league with all that is worst and vilest.

8. The saloon in politics is an arrogant, imprudent, wicked, riotous, dishonest, dangerous force. Out of the ooze and slime of the saloon are hatched the entire brood of bosses, hoodlums, aldermanic thieves and robbers.

9. Oregon has a glorious opportunity to put herself on the highway of progress, and lead all the Pacific coast. We must earnestly hope that this noble State will banish the saloon.

A Typical California Town.

The town is in the heart of by far the vastest wheat field on earth. You see miles and miles of wheat bags piled up in little mountains all the way to San Francisco by the track waiting for the freight cars.

or so of loafers sitting cocked back on broken chairs before the doors of the saloons, a lot of big, lazy boys leaning against posts or shade trees, staring at the strangers and smoking cigarettes or chewing tobacco, and that is about all.

A local exchange is opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment prohibiting liquor, on principle, in that it robs a man of his liberties, and in the same breath asks that opium and cigarettes be prohibited.

The Gainesville (Texas) Hesperian in speaking of a big batch of murders committed near, says they are getting what they voted for.

Sweet dreams in the aiden of bliss, Iowa Slough, are not dead yet, but maintains former reputation.

The people are looking forth with brighter expectations and smiles when the slough shall have a post office.

Lydia Hancock is to have a new residence. Mr. Kite will be the builder.

Harvesting is nearly over, and the fishermen's tow-heads more numerous. The boys say the thing has changed since last season, and declare the salmon to be running the wrong way.

V. N. Perry of the Pershaker farm, will soon take a position on the Antelope and move to Bandon.

Q. A. Nosler will soon finish his wood contract with the two canneries, after which he will stick a pen in his hair, put on his winter slippers and retire from the business.

Woe to the unlucky wight whom the printer's devil deca itates! A type misplaced has sometimes a keener edge than a razor.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Seals are commencing to annoy the fishermen by destroying the salmon in the nets.

Some silver salmon were caught last week but chinooks were decidedly in the majority.

Mrs Webster, wife of G. Webster formerly editor of the Mail is expected on the bay this week on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Dr. Smith.

Mrs. Levar, of Sumner, starts today to visit friends in the east. She will be accompanied by Mrs. J. Nelse Crawford who goes to join her husband.

G. W. Edwards agent for McDonough & Johnson commission merchants of San Francisco was on the bay last week purchasing apples for shipment below.

Levi Smith has the high boat on the bay so far this season having caught 362 chinook salmon in ten nights. This is a good catch for the early part of the season but when the silver salmon arrive boats frequently catch over 200 of a night in the lower bay.

The run of fish is not large as yet but about on an average with former years at this season.

Miss Adaline Gardiner, of Chetco, is something of a hunter. The county court last week allowed her the sum of $26 for bounty on scalps of wild animals, killed by herself.

Some thirty men are at work getting out railroad ties for Crawford & Wilbur, near Port Orford.

Another rich mineral discovery has been made by Daniel Divilbiss, on a tributary of Sixes river. Gold, silver and native copper are found there, and shows very rich samples.

Joseph Hare has given bonds as P. M. at Aylesburg, in this county, and the mail on that route from Myrtle Point to Denmark, arrives regularly once a week; so our mountain friends will now have no cause to complain of their mail facilities.

A steam pile-driver is at work extending the wharf at Port Orford 200 ft. so as to allow vessels to get along-side of it to load and discharge. With the force at work getting out ties and posts, and the increased facilities for shipping them it is expected to keep a vessel or two running to Port Orford until the rainy season compels the quitting of operations.

The scarcity comparatively of salmon this season is the Coquille up to this date is accounted for in various ways. It would be a good idea we think to put a good charge of dynamite in sea-lion rock before another run of fish.

A dispatch from Chicago says, a beef famine is feared. 100,000 head of cattle have been destroyed by climatic causes and there has been 75 per cent. more loss of calves born this spring than usual, owing to the same reason.

A one-armed man in Salem lately applied for a divorce on the ground that the hand he had given his wife in marriage was lost and the contract was therefore void.

Governor Bartlett died last week and the Lieut. governor has been inaugurated as chief man of Cal. It changes the gubernatorial complexion.

The river Nile has overflowed its banks, ruined crops and drowned many people. Crops were destroyed and famine is imminent.

The schooner Free Trade sailed from this river on Saturday last and the Prien, Capt. Peter Nelson, came in about noon on the same day. The Coquille and Parkersburg are due but have not made their appearance as yet.
