

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. E. Corman, of Norway was on our streets Friday.

Mrs. F. P. Herman, of Myrtle Point was in town yesterday.

Will Sanders, the efficient tinner of J. Garfield, of Marshfield, is now working in the Pioneer hardware store in this place.

Charley Moen who has been sojourning in California for some time returned last week, looking well as usual.

Will Disher who has been visiting his former home in Humboldt county, California, returned Friday. He reports times lively in Humboldt this season.

M. King Whitlow, of Sumner, moved Mr. John Epperson to town last Friday. We were sorry to lose so good a neighbor as Mr. Baxter, but glad to have so good a man as Mr. Epperson take his place.

Mr. J. H. Schroeder, wife and daughters Ella and Alice, of Halls prairie, spent several days last week, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Krebs, of this place and also Mr. and Mrs. Hanley another daughter and son-in-law of the lower river.

Mr. B. H. Haskins, of the North fork, presented this office with a sample of potatoes grown on his place, known as the White Monarch, which is the finest we have seen, also a tomato that only lacked an ounce of weighing two pounds.

Mr. Edward Roberts will lecture on the labor question as follows: At Sumner, Thursday night; at Marshfield, Friday night; at Coaledo Sunday night. Mr. Roberts is posted on what he talks about, and all interested should make it a point to go and hear him.

C. W. Von Pegert drove the spiles for Morris Bro's boom at their new mill at the mouth of Glenn Aiken creek last week, and is now driving for Lyons' mill at this place. In order to have a greater boom capacity, Mr. L. will construct one on the opposite side of the river, which will also protect that shore from washing, caused by the old boom on this side.

Rev. H. B. Swafford will hold services at the following times and places, to wit: Myrtle Point, Saturday, Oct. 23th, at 7 1/2 p. m.; Brown's school house, Sunday, Oct. 30th, at 11 a. m.; Catching creek school house, Monday, Oct. 31st, at 7 1/2 p. m.; Norway, Reed's hall, Tuesday, Nov. 1st, at 7 1/2 p. m.; Floras creek, north side, Sunday, Nov. 6th, at 11 a. m.; Lorentzen's hall, Nov. 6th, at 7 1/2 p. m.

Things seemed to get a little mixed in regard to the donation made by the Coaledo Sunday school to the Sunday school at this place. The coin never came to hand at all, and the papers and lesson leaves were exactly like those with which our school was already furnished, and would of course, been a surplus, therefore the school here returns the papers etc., and thanks them kindly for their benevolence and best wishes.

Quite a new feature in Arago society is the inauguration of a Literary and Debating society. Their second debate was held at the Fishtrap school house on last Saturday evening, and the animation with which even the younger members entered into the subject augurs well for the success of the literary undertaking. A number of resolutions and byelaws, presented by Mr. John Edmunds were adopted, and the society starts with fine promise.

Mr. Wimer who lately purchased the Franklin and Potter places has started a singing class in his neighborhood. We had the pleasure of hearing his first singing lesson last Sunday and were struck with the lucidity of his teaching and the thoroughness with which he entered into his subject. Mr. Wimer asks for no remuneration, but teaches for the benefit his instructions will confer upon the community. His large class is grateful for his kindly efforts in their behalf and are determined to profit by the course of instruction he will give them.

Mrs. J. Snyder, of the Western Hotel, Marshfield, is in town visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, of this place.

Twenty-five of the fishermen employed by the Mount Hood Packing company came up and started for Roseburg Saturday.

The fishermen of the Coquille will give a ball next Saturday night at Bandon. The proceeds will go to the Fisherman's Union.

The Areata came in at the bay Sunday, but went out again and proceeded to the Siuslaw. She will return to the bay in a day or two.

Mr. A. G. Aiken, while in Roseburg purchased a splendid Baine wagon of Messrs. Moore & Evens, agents for that company in that place.

Prof. Boyrie's school will open for business on Monday next. All persons wishing to patronize the school are earnestly requested to be present on opening day.

Mr. Jonas Goeller, of Halls creek, has traded his farm to Mr. Bogue, late of Kansas. While we are glad to have Mr. Bogue among us, we are sorry to lose Mr. Goeller, however we think he'll be back again before this time next year.

The Nuptial Knot—"The Myrtle" Flourishes.

On our way down the river yesterday we met the steamer "Myrtle" going at full speed up stream. It was not the advertised direction of our popular craft, but when we saw the gay decorations of the swift little boat we smelled several nice and what we learned afterwards bore out the correct impression of our olfactory nerves.

We have therefore the pleasure to record the marriage of Capt. Levi Snyder, of the steamer "Myrtle," to Miss Clara Schroeder, daughter of Mr. Fred Schroeder, one of our most respected citizens. It would be superfluous to dilate upon the bride's loveliness or the bridegroom's popularity. They are known to us all. We have hardly a reader who will not recognize the picture. No wedding which has occurred here for many years has given more general satisfaction, and none in which the youthful couple may look for and deserve more unclouded happiness. W. H. S. Hyde of Marshfield officiated and the wedding which took place at the residence of the bride's father was fully attended by the relatives and intimate friends of both contracting parties. The Myrtle Point brass band was in attendance and lent the charm of music to a scene which was happiness itself. The dinner was all that epicurean appetite could desire and literally, "all went merry as a marriage bell." May the newly wedded couple never leave us, and may they ever successfully navigate the waters of life and the freshets of the Coquille river.

Patronize Home Industry.
We have received a sample of flour ground at Messrs. Rose's & Fluke's mill, Roseburg, which challenges for quality the production of any of the mills on the Pacific Coast. Just why the people of Coos should import their staff of life from another state while such unrivaled raw material lies to their order a few miles the other side of the Coast range, we cannot for the life of us see. We can hardly blame our people in the past for having recourse to far away ports for the necessities of life because we were more isolated from the Umpqua valley than at present; but we earnestly present to their views the present condition of things, and would make bold to represent to them that when we can obtain such excellent flour as that turned out by the firm above named, with the present wagon road facilities, it will pay them to send to Roseburg instead of to San Francisco for their flour. It is embarrassing that we have not mills able to meet the demand among ourselves, but we should really rejoice that so near at home and among our own people there is such an excellent supply, by ordering some of which we not only patronize home industry but benefit ourselves.

New Lake Items.

Ed. HERALD.—As you have no regular correspondence from this place, will send you a few items, that might be of some interest to the readers of your valuable paper.

The dairymen are all well pleased with their season's work. They have made about twenty-two tons of butter, for which they received all the way from 25 to 55 cents per pound.

A. H. Thrift has moved into his fine residence. It is said to be the finest in the county, and reflects credit on the builder, Mr. James Castello.

The geese have commenced to come to see us again, which reminds us that winter is near at hand.

The ball given here on the 8th inst., was a grand success. Miss Maggie Lorentzen and Mr. Owen Short were awarded the prizes for being the best round dancers. The supper was given by "Graps" which was splendid.

W. S. Marshall has returned from California. He didn't bring her. We were disappointed, as we were going to give them a benefit.

There are several parties here, from Humboldt, looking for homes. This is a good place for them to settle.

Peter Nelson is building a nice dwelling on his ranch which he purchased from his father.

The people of this place and vicinity raised some money to build a church near the Floras creek bridge over a year ago. There was a committee of three selected to take charge. They have let different persons take the lumber and appropriate it to their own use. Now we have no money, no lumber and no church. Gentlemen of the committee, why did you take charge if you did not intend to do your duty? Take my advice and see to this matter, as some of you committeemen are responsible.

James Olsen is going to start a fishery at New River, and is making preparations for a large catch.

Thrift & Langlois have the largest stock of goods ever brought here before, which they sell cheap for cash.

Ed. says that Willie M. may have more money than himself, but he is the best looking.

Wonder who it was that made so many mashes at the dance the other night?

Wonder if he couldn't make a better mash on a hunk of tobacco? Wonder who didn't get to dance enough with her partner?

Wonder what Owen Short comes to New Lake so often for?

Wonder what the attraction is for Tom Langlois on the hill?

Wonder who it is that knows every body's business better than they do their own?

Wonder when "Graps" cook is coming?

Wonder what Jeff sent for a new suit of clothes for?

Wonder who it was that sang so nicely at the last dance?

SEE YOU LATER.

Death of Mrs. Catherine Steele.

Mrs. Steele departed this life Oct. 13th 1887, aged about 52 years. For many weeks she had been a patient sufferer from cancer of the stomach, and although her death might have been expected at any time, it was none the less hard when the end came, to those who had loved her so much; in whose hearts her death will leave forever an aching void. The funeral took place in the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. S. Barklow, of Norway, and the remains were followed to their last resting place by a large crowd of weeping friends and relatives. Her coffin was decorated with beautiful flowers, that were tenderly and tearfully arranged by loving friends, who in this last sad moment could do nothing more than pay this tribute of respect to her memory. She leaves a husband and two daughters, who reside near Fairview.

A FRIEND.

$300, $300, $400, $300!
Money to loan on improved farm security in the above sums can be had by application to the undersigned at Coquille City.

Notes From the Sea-side.

The mornings are getting quite cool.

The bar bound vessels have all gone.

The wild geese are plentiful at New river.

The Free Trade was full of freight.

The young folks of Bandon had a social hop in Walker's hall, last Saturday evening.

The Myrtle was beached last Monday for the purpose of putting on a new propeller.

The Restless seems to be doing a good business, in the towing trade.

The Postal agent is making his semi-annual visits.

The firm of Averill & Dyer has been dissolved, Mr. Dyer continuing the business, also the firm of Hammersly & Stitt has been dissolved, Stitt continuing the business.

Mr. R. H. Rosa, has a fine cargo of lumber ready for shipment, but freights being so much higher at other places, he cannot get a vessel to come here for it.

The San Francisco Chronicle in its marine news, reports a vessel called the Rosaris as sailing for this river, but she has not been in sight yet, and nobody seems to know anything about her.

The tug Roberts, of Humboldt bay, was expected to arrive in this river on the 10th of this month, with parties looking for new locations. But she has not showed up yet.

The following is the marine news for the week: Arrived Schr. Free Trade, Norden, 17 days from San Francisco to the C. M. & T. Co. Sailed Oct. 17, Schr. Lizzie Prien, Nelson, San Francisco. Oct. 18 Schr. Antelope, Brigham, San Francisco, Oct. 21, Coquille, Smith, San Francisco. The Parkersburg will probably sail to-day.

When I went to school last, I remember, lion used to be spelled "l-i-o-n" now it is spelled "l-y-o-n." There has been a great change in spelling the last few years.

The fishermen will give a grand ball at the end of the fishing season. They have not decided whether to have it at Randolph, or this place, as yet.

SEA LION.

Bandon, Oct. 22, 1887.

Facts in the Case.

Ed. HERALD: In regard to the death of James Jamison, who was drowned near Randolph on the night of the 13th inst., I find the facts to be as follows: The deceased lived with the Indians at the mouth of the slough and he and some of the Indians were drunk in the cabin in which he lived. They remained together until a late hour when the Indians left, going down the river. Shortly after, Jamison left the cabin, bare-headed and barefooted, and that was the last seen of him alive. A fisherman who was drifting just below the place about midnight, heard a splashing in the water and sort of puffing noise as of some one partly strangled. The noise seemed to be in the slough near its mouth and he was on the point of dropping his net and going to see about it when the noise ceased.

The next morning a fisherman discovered the body lying on the bottom of the slough near its mouth, and in shallow water near the shore. His skull was also found adrift in the slough. There were no marks of violence on the body and the money in his pockets undisturbed, so that it is quite evident it was a case of accidental drowning. The deceased was a member of the Fisherman's Union, by whom he was decently buried, and whose President, K. J. Bullard, took charge of his effects.

Randolph Laconics.

All is quiet at present writing. The fishing interests are beginning to wane, and the town is full of festive fishermen.

Mr. Douglas, of the Randolph hotel is doing a rushing business, and no wonder for he keeps an excellent house and sets as good a table as can be found in Oregon.

Ramsdell is still among us and is just photographing everything that comes in sight of his den.

LODI.

[Coos Bay News.]

Capt. Campbell sold the Mink on the Siuslaw last week, and returned to the bay.

John F. Hall is expected on the bay in a few days. He is a full fledged lawyer now, and will, no doubt, soon be enjoying a large practice.

Capt. Dunham and wife left for Roseburg, Saturday to meet Mrs. Dunham's mother who is coming from the east on a visit. Robt. Dunham has charge of the Coos during Harkness' absence.

Some of the cranberries planted by C. D. McFarland on North slough, yielded a few berries this fall, which were much more than average size. The plants are thriving splendidly, and have almost completely covered the ground—an acre and a half—where they are being cultivated. Mr. McFarland does not expect these plants to bear well for two years yet, but hopes to get half a crop next year. He is more than satisfied with the result of his experiment, and anticipates ample return for his outlay. He has two acres more nearly ready for planting.

The Lick Telescope.

Cleveland, Oct. 17.—The great telescope for the Lick observatory of California, which was being manufactured in this city, has been completed, and will be shipped in a few days. R. S. Floyd, of San Francisco, who is one of the trustees of the Lick fund, Professor S. Newcomb, of Washington, an eminent astronomer, and Professor S. W. Burnham, of Chicago, are here examining the telescope, which is the largest in the world.

Quarterly Meeting.

Our 2nd quarterly meeting for the Coquille Circuit will be held at Coquille City, commencing with a sermon Saturday at 2 p. m., immediately after which the conference will be held. All the official members are earnestly requested, so far as possible, to be in attendance.

J. W. CRAIG, P. E.

H. B. SWAFFORD, Pastor.

Mrs. M. Way, of this place is quite sick at present.

Fred Kronenberg sailed on the schooner Antelope for San Francisco, where he expects to remain.

The members of Co. H., O. N. G., are requested to attend their regular meeting on Nov. 5th, without fail.

All friends of Prohibition are requested to meet at the church in this place, on Thursday Nov. 3th, at 7:30 p. m.

Engene Robinson, of the Mat Rink creek, starts to-day for Humboldt, where he goes to spend a good share of the winter. Don't know what the attraction is.

Ed Boyrie returned yesterday from Nevada, where he has been engaged in a saw-mill. He resumed his position as head sawyer in Lyons' mill in this place, this morning.

An entertainment will be given by the Sunday school of this place on Friday evening, November 4th the proceeds of which will be used to buy an organ, which is so badly needed.
