How to Cook a Husband.

This valuable receipt is furnished by Miss Corson, of cooking fame, who, many of you will remember, paid this coast a visit some two or three years ago, and agitated the stomachs of good livers with her methods of fine cookery. Miss Corson at her cooking school in Baltimore gave her scholars the following receipt, which she said was written by a lady of that city: "A good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as if their husbands were bladders, and blow them up. Others keep them constantly in hot water. Others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by irritating ways and words. Others roast them. Some keep them in pickle all their lives. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good managed in this was: but they are really delicious when properly treated. In selecting your husband you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as in buying mackerel, nor by the golden tint, as if you wanted salmon. Be sure to select him yourself, tastes differ. Do not go to market for him, as the best are always brought to your door. It is far better none, unless you will patiently learn how to cook him. A preserving kettle of the finest porcelain is best, but if you have nothing but an earthen pipkin, it will do, with care. See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with the required number of buttons and strings nicely sewed on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong silk cord called comfort, as the one called duty is apt to be weak. They are apt to fly out of the kettle, and be burned and crusty on the edges, since, like crab and lobsters, you have to cook them while alive. Make a clear, steady fire out of love, neatness, and cheerfulness. Set him as near this as it seems to agree with him. If he sputters and fizzes, do not be anxious; some husbands do this until quite done. Add a little sugar, in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves them, but it must be used with judgment. Do not stick any sharp instruments into him to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently, watch the while, lest he lie too flat and close to the kettle, and so become useless. You cannot fail to know when he is done. When thus treated, you will find him very digestible, agreeing nicely with you and the children, and he will keep as long as you want unless you become careless and set him in too cold a place."—Home Circle.

WATCH.—If the night of the 28th of this month happens to be one of those clear and cold October nights which Oregon is frequently blessed with, star gazers who keep their eyes open will witness a vision of rare beauty. The new Moon for this month will appear on the 24th instant, and make her first quarter on the 31st. On the 28th there will be a conjunction with Jupiter, and the New York Times of the 6th inst., in its article on "The Planets of October," says that the conjunction is extremely close and the picture of the star and crescent will be one of rare beauty. The conjunctions for the rest of this month will be with Neptune on the 19th, Mars on the 21st, with Venus on the 22d and on the 23d with Mercury. The watchers of the skies, providing the weather is clear, can enjoy twese celestial phenomena free of charge. If they have no telescopes, powerful field, or what is better, night glasses, will aid them greatly in their observations.

Blown From the Track.

Salt Kake City, Oct. 13.—A train of eight cars of the Rio Grande Western Railroad, bound from Salt Lake City to Ogden, was completely capsized by the wind twenty miles north of here this morning. Many passengers were severely injured, but there have been no fatal results as yet.

Libel Suits Against Newspapers.

Every newspaper in the country which is, as the phrase goes, "worth a libel suit," knows by long experience that as the laws now stands in most of the State no matter how carefully a journal is edited it will have libel suits brought against it. The Herald tries its best to draw the line between exposure of public wrongs, which is the highest duty of a newspaper, and attacts in private character, which are inexcusable; and yet there is no year in which we are not threatened with ten or a dozen libel suits. There is a class of "shyster" lawyers who make it their business to annoy respectable newspapers in this way. They read the journals and where they imagine that a suit for libel will lie they run to the person concerned, magnify his wrong and urge his suit, offering to prosecute it for a share of plunder. Of course in a great majority of cases such suits comes to nothing. They have no justifying cause. But the shyster lawyers gets some money from his client, he annoys the newspaper and makes his living.—N. Y. Herald.

New York, Oct. 14.—At 3:10 o'clock yesterday morning a bright light was seen at Brooklyn, and it was soon discovered that DeWitt Talmage's tabernacle was on fire. How the fire originated is not known.

The entire fire department was called out, but the flames had such headway they could not be stopped. The building is expected to be a total loss.

The Brooklyn tabernacle was the largest protestant church in America. When Talmage first came to Brooklyn in 1869 he preached in a small church, but this was soon found too small, and the next year a tabernacle of sheet iron was built by the congregation for the better accomodation of the large audiences which assembled to hear Dr. Talmage. He spent most of the time in which the building was being erected in a trip to Europe and back. The tabernacle was opened by the pastor three months after the building had began. All seats were free. In December, 1872, it was consumed by fire, and the congregation assembled in the acadamy of music until February, 1874, when the new tabernacle was opened.

There were seats for 6000 persons, and each of those sittings cost $30.

A Triple Murder.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 4.—The old Hatsfield-McCoy feud in Pike county has broke out again, and at least three more lives have been sacrificed in the bloody vendette which has lasted over seven years.

The shooting occurred at a marriage at the farm house of Peter McCoy. His daughter was to become the wife of John Hand, a relative of the Hatfield gang, and members of both factions had sworn to prevent the union. Hand had never been connected with the disputes of the factions and refusee to recognize the leaders.

Tuesday night the bridal party assembled in McCoy's house, and just as young Hand and Miss McCoy stood before the minister a volley was poured through a window which killed both of them and fatally wounded the clergyman.

Reports say that the farmers and mountaineers of the locality are hunting for the murderers, but no trace of them has been found.

Independence, (Oregon,) Oct. 12.—The West Side, published at this place, this week contained an article which, if true, and the authority is in every way reliable, disputes a very important fact recorded in the pages of history. The article referred to was written by Stephen Staats a pioneer of this coast, and the subject deals with the discovery of gold in California. Mr. Staats claims that Sames W. Marshall was not the first discoverer of gold in California, and declared that one Charles Bennett wes the man to whom that honor is due.

Empire City.

Empire City, the county seat of this county, to the close observer presents to view a place of great promise. Its maritime commerce will make it. While it has had a few live men in the past, most of its people, Micanber-like, have been waiting for something to turn up, and as in the case of old their toes and live men will be trumps sure. It is situated at anchorage of one of the best harbors on the Pacific coast, and interior from it is a part second to none on the coast in point natural resources. It is only a question of time—and certainly a short time—when it will be the shipping port of a trans-continental railroad, with branch lines up and down the coast. The fine fleet of vessels runing there now, and especially those splendid ocean steamers give a person a foretaste of what is coming. There are resources that must of necessity require immense factories to develope them, thus giving employment to a large number of persons. The coal mines will be opened and that commodity largely shipped, being hundreds of miles nearer than any other fields of any note to San Francisco, the center of Pacific coast commerce. The immense timber fields will also contribute largely to the general prosperity. Empire is destined to be a city of no mean proportions.

ED. HERALD:—I wish to announce through the columns of your paper, that I had the pleasure of meeting with the people at the remote school house, near the remote post office on middle Coquille. There was preaching Saturday evening, Sabbath morning and Sabbath evening. Not withstanding the inclemency of the weather, the people came together in numbers that surprised us and listened with great earnestness. After the morning service the ladies placed the seats the backs of them together, and made a very convenient table. Then came the roast chicken and baked ham, pies, and cakes and fruit and food of every kind, to suit the most delicate taste. The U. B. have a class of 13 members at this place. I was surprised as I went over the road to find it in such a practical condition. There are some slides which have occurred since the rain, that will have to be removed before we can haul heavy loads. This road is a credit to the builder, and to the community, and will greatly help to develop our county and state. There are fine farms along this stream, and fine grazing for stock.

The plan of this charge of the U. B. church will be as follows: Myrtle Point the evening of the 3rd Sabbath at half past 7 o'clock. The morning of the 3rd Sabbath at the M. E. church South near Brown's school house, also at Myrtly Point the 4th Sabbath. Morning and evening. The first Sabbath of each month on Catchen creek, at the Marstêrs school house. The 2nd Saturday and Sabbath of each month at Remote school house; near Remote postoffice. These are regular appointments for the ensuing year. M. W. HAMPTON, Pastor in cearge of Myrtle Point work of the U. B. church.

A Valuable Discovery.

Mr. Frank Randall of this place has discovered a process for ridding piling or other timber and keeping it free from the toredo, the sea worm that is so destructive in the coast ports hereabout. He has proved his invention and applied for a patent. During the past week he has been on Coos bay and has demonstrated that for a nominal figure he can preserve piles that are already full of the troublesome pests. It will prove of hundreds of thousands of dollars to this coast.

It is said that a Corvallis woman cured her husband from staying out late at nights by going to the door when he came, and whispering through the key hole: Is that you, Willie?" Her husband's name is John, and he stays at home every night now, and sleeps with one eye open and a gun under his pillow.—Ex.

Without Food.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 13.—Owing to the extreme drought, there was a failure of the crops in Ramsey county, D. T., and in consequence over 100 families are reported to be without any means of substance during the coming winter.

To-day too lady delegates of the Ramsey county Relief Committee arrived in St. Paul to personally urge the cause of the sufferers. The ladies brought with them a letter signed by about sixty of the business firms of Grand Fork and vicinity.

In an interview to-night Mrs. Kelner says half has not been told of the suffering of the farmers living in the drouth belt of Ramsey county There have been three successive failures of crops and over 100 families are on the verge of starvation and without sufficient clothing to protect them from the weather even at this season.

Dozens of men, women and children are without shoes and many of the little ones have no other clothing than an ordinary gunny sack with holes cut for the head and arms.

Denison, Tex., Oct. 6th.—The supreme court of the Chickasaw Indian nation has given a decision sustaining the legislative amendment to the constitution in regard white men, and the rights they have acquired by marrying Indian women. The whites claim that under the constitution they have the same right to hold property or office or vote as the Indians. This decision will operate directly against the white men, and will cause trouble, and will prove the prime factor in a movement to throw open to settlement all of the land of the Chickasaw and Choctaw nation west of the ninety-six parallel of latitude. Fully 80 per cent. of the inhabitants of the Chickasaw country are white, and they will petition congress to allot the lands in severalty, which means the completed disruption of Indian government.

Flossie is six years old.—"Mama," she asked, one day, "if I get married will I have a husband like pa?"

"Yes," replied the mother, with an amused smile.

"And if I don't get married will I have to be an old maid like Aunt Kate?"

Yes, Flossie."

Mama"—after a pause—"it's a tough wourld for us women, ain't it?"

"WHAT MEDICINES ARE MOST CALLED FOR?"

asked the reporter of an old druggist.

"Dr. Pierce's preparations," he replied. "They are sold under a positive guarantee that they will, in every case, give satisfaction, or the money is promptly refunded. His 'Favorite Prescription,' for all those chronic weaknesses, nervous and other derangements peculiar to women, is used with unfailing success. It cures weak back, bearing-down sensations, irregularities and weaknesses common to the sex, and being the most perfect of tonic medicines builds up and strengthens the entire system. The demand for it is constant, and I am conversant with scores of cases cured by it."

Returning after a few moments' absence, the venerable wielder of the pestle remarked, "the number of sarsaparillas and other, so-called, 'blood medicines' is legion; but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery outsells them all and it is the only blood-purifier out of the many which I am obliged to keep upon my shelves, that is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all cases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it is refunded."

"In the line of Pills," remarked the old gentleman, "the little Sugar-coated 'Pellets' put up by Dr. Pierce lead all others, both in amount of sales and the general satisfaction they give my customers."
