Oregon Exhibits Abroad.

The following is from the Sioux City Journal of Thursday, Oct. 1, and refers to the exhibit of Oregon Land company at the Corn Palace festival, at Sioux City, under the charge of Dr. Minthorn:

One of the features of the Corn Palace this week is the Oregon exhibit from Salem, the capital of the far-off western state. This exhibit, while sent here by the Oregon land company, and presumably in the interest of real estate, is of the most creditable character. It comprises seventy-five different varieties of wheat, the quality of which it is safe to say cannot be excelled in the world. The fruit industry, which is the leading one of the Willamette valley, is represented by a superior collection of apples and pears, which, like most all the products of Oregon, where the climate is mild and the season of growth proportionately long, are superior in size and flavor to the same varieties raised in any other country.

But what is the most surprising to one unacquainted with the soil and climate of Oregon is the display of dried prunes, which are simply unapproachable in point of size and flavor. Samples of prunes and wheat are distributed to all applicants. The Journal is the recipient of a box of dried Bartlett pears and Silver prunes, which are as sweet as honey of Hymettus.

The exhibition was delayed en route and was put in position Sunday afternoon and yesterday. The exhibition occupies a booth near the right entrance to the palace, and is well worth a visit.

Natural Gas.

Bradford, Pa., Oct. 12.—At Davis' Switch, a small village thirteen miles from this place, the dwelling of Patrick Daily was burned and his wife and three sons, aged 13, 11 and 9 respectively roasted in the flames last night. While the family were at supper the father stepped to the cook stove to turn off part of the natural gas. He unintentionally shut the throttle tight, and on reversing it again the house was filled with gas. An explosion followed, and in an instant the entire house was in flames. The three boys and the mother fell prostrate on the floor, overcome by the heat and flames. Daily rushed out of the house to call assistance, but all efforts to save the unfortunate inmates were futile. Daily was severely but not fatally burned, and is almost crazed with grief.

Ever since Mayor Wheelwright gave Tacoma such rosy prominence in the eyes of matrimonially inclined maidens of the feminine-surfeited east, there has been much inquiry as to whether such a state of lorn batchelordom actually exists in the west. In one place it certainly does. At Wallula, an important railroad junction in Washington, the hotel proprietor finds it impossible to keep help for his dining room and chamber work. During the last two years twelve girls have married conductors and engineers, and both of the girls he now has are engaged and will soon be married. Tacoma advertises but Wallula does the business it seems. The Wallula hotel is not a matrimonial agency, but any industrious girl who wants a husband may consider this both a nod and a wink if she chooses.—West shore.

DeWitt Clinton was in town Thursday, and told us of a little experience he had with a limb. It seemed that he was chopping down a tree, when the limb fell, the big end striking him between one eye and his nose, inflicting an ugly wound, but luckily, of not a permanent nature. It was a close call for the eye. The blow rendered him insensible for a time, but two of his boys were present and took him home.

After reading the item in last week's HERALD on mustaches, Fred Garrison remarked that he was going to send his to the bay, and a young lady present wanted to know if he was going to first have it enlarged.

Coos Bay Notes.

Coos county has sold its fastest race horses, Billy Berry and Sam Tilden. We will have to develope some more if we expect to stand our hands against Douglas and Curry.

The Ajax arrived Friday and sailed on Saturday. The Arago sailed on Friday.

The cannery at Empire is canning abcut 1000 fish a day—all they can get. The run has been light this season there.

The Gilman case is creating a great deal of excitement. Mrs. G. is out on bail of $3000 with W. A. Luse and Alex. Stauff on the bond. The motion for continuance was promptly denied and the case opened this (Monday) morning.

The Oregon Southern company is being sued for $25,000 for the loss of a leg of an employes. We do not believe in this mode of procedure, generally, but do not know the merits of the case. We have been through the company's mill and find it is admirably arranged with regard to the safety and comfort of employe; besides a man has eyes to direct him against danger. There are men that would give up a limb for less than the sum sought in the case referred to. If the Coquille City mill had had to pay for such accidents it would have been closed years ago. A good paying business should donate liberally to injured employes, but this damage business is carried on to the extent of robbery.

River Side Items.

New post office.

New justice of the peace.

New houses and more coming.

New road from Riverside to Fishtrap—lacking one mile which will be completed ere long, making the time of a drive from Riverside, to the fair grounds but two hours.

W. T. Kight will soon commence the construction of a commodious residence.

N. Thrush will move back to his farm in January.

Felix Hull has moved into his new house.

Two more houses to rent. A good chance for anyone desiring to send to school.

The school building is ready for the paint and school will begin on on the first of November. Four months term. The management intends to have the school run ten months in the year.

DIED.—The many of friends Johnny Hale will be pained to learn of his sudden death, which occurred on the 5th inst., at Denver, Colo.

Notice.

C. E. Edwards is agent for the Coquille river for the Whitley steel and ball joint mowers and Champion self-binders, and sulky hay rakes. Also the Lausing steel-skein wagon which is warranted in every respect. All persons wanting wagons and machines will please call on John Kronenberg & Son at Coquille City, or myself at Myrtle Point for prices and terms.

C. E. EDWARDS,
no40tf Myrtle Point, Or.

Mr. Jones, lately from California commenced building on his lots back of the HERALD office last week. The building he is now putting up will be occupied but for the winter as a residence. He will build more extensively in the spring, after his lumber is thoroughly seasoned.
