Lower River Items.

On account of the recent heavy rains most of the camps on the lower river have been compelled to close down for the season. Mr. Ed Taylor's camp, after a successful season's run, closed on the 21st inst. The plank railroad with myrtle rails, which was built as an experiment at the beginning of the season, has proved an unqualified success, and more than realized the expectations of its projectors. The myrtle timber proves to be admirably adapted to the track, the railings not softening by exposure to rains, nor breaking down under the heaviest loads that go over it. The only effect that the action of the wheels seem to have on it is to give it so smooth a polish that the friction is actually no greater in running over it, than it would be in running over a steel rail. So slight is the friction that a man can push a truck, loaded with several tons of freight, the entire length of the track, either way, without difficulty. It is safe to predict that this style of railroad, so cheap, and yet meeting all the requirements of logging, will be extensively adopted by loggers throughout the county.

Mr. Taylor intends to make several improvements during the winter, and has determined that nothing shall be left undone which can add to the comfort or convenience of the employes, or to the general completeness of the camp. Among the many improvements in contemplation is the laying of a galvanized pipe from the cook-house to a spring of water, one-quarter of a mile distant. This spring is on the hillside, and at such an elevation as to give pressure sufficient to send the water into the upper as well as the lower part of the building. A branch pipe will convey the water to the stable for the use of the stock. This pure liquid, fresh from the bosom of mother earth, will strongly tend to promote and preserve the health of both men and stock. Other improvements will be the raising, leveling and balasting of the track already built, the building of half a mile of new track, and the construction of landings, etc.; in fact no improvements will be neglected which promises to facilitate next season's work. The work done this season has been mostly preparatory; but with the preparations already made, the improvements to be made during the winter, and the large size and fine quality of the timber to be taken out, we may expect to hear of Mr. Taylor making a record next season that will excite not only the admiration but the envy of veteran loggers throughout the county.

The last night of camp life was celebrated by a dance, in which employer and employes, their wives, sweethearts and lady friends took part; all threw reserve aside, and each vied with the other in contributing to the general pleasure. Wine and temperance beverages were freely dispensed, and when midnight brought the hour of parting, all united in voting it one of the pleasantest occasions of their lives.

It is pleasant to record that during the season no accident occurred to any of the men, and no incident occurred to mar the good fellowship which existed between the men, nor the feeling which existed between men and employer. All part with regret: some to return to wives and families, others to friends, and still others to wander wherever necessity impels, or fancy suggests.

WANDERER.

On last Friday evening Wm. Ward met with quite a misfortune while returning from the cannery. He was driving his Oregon horse, and while passing along the narrow strip of road on the bank of Eel river near the John Dungan place, the animal took fright at a fish seine which had been thoughtlessly left along side the road, and backed off the bank into the river. Mr. George Rumrill, who was with Mr. Ward at the time of the accident, attempted to get the horse by the head and prevent him from running back, but did not succeed, and as he went over the bank Mr. Ward jumped to the ground, but his little son, who was in the back of the vehicle, went over the embankment with the horse and wagon. Mr. Rumrill immediately jumped into the river after the boy whom he got out uninjured, but the horse was drowned. Mr. Ward's loss is considerable, but it is very fortunate that no one was hurt in the accident. The wagon and harness were saved.—Ferndale Enterprise. [It was one of the Gant horses that was purchased at the ranch on South Coquille last spring by Mr. Devenish. We are glad Billy and his son escaped.

A Waverly, Michigan, woman goes on a crutch now because her husband saw her foot sticking up at the lower end of the bed and shot it for a burglar. When a wife has a foot as large as an average sized burglar the husband cannot be greatly blamed under our free institutions for shooting off a portion of it, though it would look much better to have it amputated by a buzz-saw.

A man wearing a woman's clothes was arrested at Berthoud, Colorado, on October 27. He resembles Tascott the Chicago murderer and will be held until the authorities can be heard from.

Yaquina N. G.

If the Oregon Pacific had started its road from Coos bay, eastward, there would have been some sense in it. Now it seems as if its people will at last have to seek a good harbor. Hear the Astoria Pioneer: "The reported rumor in Portland that the United States board of engineers will not reccommend any further appropriation for the improvement of Yaquina bay, is founded upon the fact that Col. Hogg has himself stated that the Oregon Pacific railway company will not insist upon any further appropriation by the general government in the attempt to make a seaport out of a spoonful of salt water. All previous appropriations and work done at Yaquina bay to establish that port as an available one for vessels of a capacity sufficient to do business commensurate with the terminus of a trans-continental line of railway, will therefore be abandoned. There is not, and cannot be secured, water sufficient for this purpose at that place. This is the conclusion of the wise councils of those engaged in the undertaking. Stated in brief, the Oregon Pacific railway company have learned that they must seek Astoria as their Pacific coast terminus. And no matter from what source the contradiction of this statement may arise, it will still sustain itself as a veritable fact. Deep water for ships, to carry on a traffic such as railway connection with a wide scope of country demands, is far more essential than fuel for the locomotives—there can be no substitute."

[Gold Beach Gazette.]

Hon. A. H. Crook last week received a pair of the celebrated Mongolian pheasants. A shipment of nine of these beautiful birds were forwarded to him, but only one pair came through alive.

Mr. Doyle informs us that Dame Rumor is in error in stating that a tannery is to be built on his premises. However, Mr. George Merriman, the authorized agent of a San Francisco firm, has been here for sometime, looking over the timber prospects, with a view to engaging extensively in the business of shipping tanbark, and it may be if a suitable site is found, that his firm will establish a tannery and store. There is also a rumor, which we have reason to believe is well founded, that negotiations are pending looking to the establishment of a salmon cannery at some point on, or in the vicinity of the mouth of the river. As it is impossible to gain any definite information at present in relation to the various enterprises contemplated we will be satisfied with waiting further developments.

[Coos Bay News]

John Shean, who had the contract for raising the machinery of the wrecked Julia H. Ray has the boiler and engine above the high-water line, but owing to rough weather has not been able to get scows to the beach to bring them to Empire. He has discharged his crew and nothing farther will be attempted till spring.

Fred Schetter has a gang of men at work on the the telegraph line connecting the bay with Roseburg, and he intends keeping it in first-class order all the time. He now has full management of the line, having taken a contract for two years to run it. Money was raised in Empire for necessary repairs, but the amount was insufficient and it is probable that the business men of Marshfield will be asked to contribute.

It is said that Harvey Scott's retiring from the editorial staff of the Oregonian, is to enable himself to become a candidate for United States senator against John H. Mitchell. It is certainly the proper thing to give up his place on the paper if he wishes to become a candidate, but that would not save him: the people can't so soon forget him and will snow him under by their representatives if he should be put up instead of the choice of his party—J. H. Mitchell. In the triangular fight the democrats might be successful. Scott could never receive a decent vote.

"AGE CANNOT WITHER HER," remarked an old gentleman, as he gazed fondly upon the comely little woman by his side; "but frankly," he continued, "at one time I was afraid cosmetics would. The silly little woman, in order to appear youthful, plastered her face with different varieties of whitewash, yclept 'balms,' 'creams,' 'lotions,' etc." "Yes," interrupted the little woman, "I did, until my skin became like parchment and so pimply and coarse." "Well," said the listener, "What do you use now?" "Use," was the reply, "nothing but common sense and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Common sense told me that if my blood was pure, liver active, appetite and digestion good, that the outward woman would take on the hue of health. The 'Discovery' did all those things and actually rejuvenated me." If you would possess a clear, beautiful complexion, free from blotches, pimples, eruptions, yellow spots and roughness, use the "Golden Medical Discovery." It is guaranteed to do all that it is claimed for or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.
