Coquille City Herald.

UP-RIVER DEPARTMENT,

ORVIL DODGE, EDITOR,

Myrtle Point, Coos County Oregon.

TUESDAY, FEB. 11, 1890.

Dr. Flentge is in poor health.

What an excellent chicken dinner at the Lehnherr house Sunday.

Capt. W. H. Harris was busy with men repairing the bridge. It is now passable.

An extended obituary notice of Mrs. Pugh will appear as soon as the proper data can be procured.

E. Bender celebrated his 49th birthday on the 5th. His many friends wish him many more such happy days.

The Middle fork road has some fearful slides. Travelers are obliged to come over the Sugarloaf mountain at present.

Some of the boarders who were sick at the Lehnherr hotel were well taken care of by Mrs. J. C. Brown at her private residence.

This department was sorry to be cut off from our press last week as this branch of the HERALD is supported and encouraged more every day.

Great anxiety to get the HERALD last week and the same exists now in regard to the news from the interior. There are fears of terrible disasters.

Town election Monday with two tickets in the field. More excitement than at a presidential election. Ere this goes to press the victory will be declared.

Lamb and Chandler of the North fork lost a fine lot of hardwood logs by the freshet. This is hard on the boys as it cost them much hard labor to cut and haul the timber.

The mill here was the only exposed place of the town during the freshet and the citizens were on hand to help Edwards & Dalmas save their lumber as they are hard working men and deserved assistance.

Morris Bennett and George Martin were down from Floras creek Saturday and they report slight loss of stock in their neighborhood. Dod Buell and J. K. P. Elliott were also in from Catching creek and their report is the same.

"Mr. Fred Schroeder's field of eighty acres is nearly covered with driftwood which is piled up in some places to the height of several feet."—West Oregonian.

Mr. F. Schroeder informs us that about sixteen acres of his land has got drift on it.

The West Oregonian asserts that Mr. Edwards said the damage done to the mill and the lumber which is lost could not be replaced for $2000. It is asserted by Will Oddy who has charge of the lumber yard and by Mr. Edwards that three hundred dollars will cover all losses.

R. C. Dement is in quite a dilema. He seen it reported in the West Oregonian that he had lost 800 sheep. He says he only had 400, and now he wishes to know whether he must make the stock good by paying for the extra 400. Mr. Dement states that it is possible that he has lost one hundred head.

This department has been offered the "skeleton" for a new and original story for these columns entitled "The Silver Cup." It is a Christmas story and is a thrilling narrative about a beautiful and petted child receiving a silver cup on the Christmas tree and how he lost it. When the floods subside and there is less to write about the story will commence. The scene is on the upper Coquille and it will end at Bandon.

Steve Reed the Eckley mail carrier came down Saturday and reports that he has seen nearly all the stock raisers in that direction who say there has been but little stock lost as yet. Jack Sears has pulled his excellent herd through with no more than the usual loss. J. W. Caldwell has also had good luck in saving his and in fact all of the stockmen as far as we can learn have reasons to be glad. This proves that Coos and Curry counties are excellent for that branch of industry. Steve reports that there are many slides along the trail that in magnitude eclipse anything that has ever took place in that line in this county. The Bald hill near Rowland prairie is cracked in many places on the surface and at other places whole sides of the mountains have slipped down thus changing the appearance of the country considerably. Eckley had no news from Salmon mountain and it is feared that heavy slides have done much damage in that vicinity. Our informant is a very reliable carrier of the U. S. mails for which the people of Eckley should rejoice.
