The Kid Nine of Coquille City can beat any nine in the county a game of base ball and we are certain of it. If any other place has any aspirations in this direction we should like to hear from its people.

Joe Johnson and Johnny McCulloch came in from Roseburg Saturday evening. They are interested in the stage line to Roseburg. They are both jolly good fellows, and we trust will get a liberal patronage.

Charley Post died on the steamer Truckee at Port Orford last week. He had been to California for his health but failed to regain it, and returned to his old home to expire after his first greeting with his wife and friends, and before he got off the steamer.

We are in receipt of a specimen of the ore from Hennesy & Co's mine on Salmon mountain. The ore certainly looks very fine, and it is reported to be immensely rich in silver and chrome, though we have not had time to examine it thoroughly. The boys have got out upwards of one hundred tons of the ore, and there are thousands more in sight. We shall have more to say of it hereafter.

CARD OF THANKS.—The Kid base ball nine of this place return grateful thanks to the ladies of this place for their beautiful suits; to Johnny Jenkins and Will Tension of the Banner saloon for an excellent dinner at the Robinson House Sunday afternoon for themselves and opposing nine, and to Mrs. Lorenz, Mrs. J. L. Kronenberg, Miss Ida Kronenberg and Mrs. M. M. Goodman for a splendid oyster supper at Mrs. Lorenz's residence in the evening.

The mail routes hereabout are at last straightened out and moving along all right. When the winter rains set in the trouble will begin again, and we will get our mail semi-occasionally in a damaged condition at that. Will we stand it? We always have, but to show old Pease, the contractor, that he can't sit in his office in Denver and out bid our own people and hold his own by rendering poor and inefficient service let us see that the mail is carried on time according to contract.

Mr. Day, the coal expert, was in town Saturday.

Major Brown was a passenger on Saturday's stage.

Will Kennedy of Sumner was at the Olive Saturday.

W. Sinclair is prepared to negotiate loans on good real estate security.

Envy not the store of the greatest man who grinds the poor.—Dryden.

According to the report of President Oaks the gross earnings of the Northern Pacific railroad for last year was $22,600,000, and he expects it to be $3,000,000 more for this year than last. He expects the road will haul 10,000,000 bushels of wheat to Tacoma and 20,000,000 bushels to Chicago. And yet we are told that railroad-ing don't pay.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.—Elijah Smith, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, and largely interested in the Southern Oregon Improvement company, accompanied by Manager Loggie, is visiting the river and went below yesterday. It is the intention of the company to build a railroad from Empire City, on Coos Bay, to this river, and this is the cause of the present visit. They are looking at the terminal point at Beaver slough.

It is the bounden duty of every citizen in Coos and Douglas counties to see that the mails between Roseburg and Coos bay are carried according to contract. It has come to this, that a local, legitimate bidder has no show at all. Colorado contractors for years have secured these contracts and as the prices were unreasonably low the service was cut short because "it won't pay." "The road is impassable," etc. Let us see that the mail is delivered on time and on time. It will be a lesson.
