DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE LABORER.

wrongs perpetrated upon the people, resulting in a revolution which gave a sisterhood of states under a republican form of government, guaranteeing to its people "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," and equal rights under the law, to be ruled over by statesmen elected for a term of years, from and by the voice of its people.

What statesmen have done for this country and for the welfare of its people is the object of this inquiry. More particularly with that period of time covering the last thirty years.

Instead of applying wisely the great rules of political economy to the affairs of this country, they purposely misapplied them for the enrichment of the few and the impoverishment of many. Of our whole national wealth seven-tenths is possessed by railroad managers, manufacturers, bankers, oil and sugar refiners, mine owners, lumber barons and land speculators, who constitute about one-nineteenth part of our population. In other words, 182,000 families are possessed of $44,000,000,000 of wealth, while 15,820,000 families are possessed of only $18,300,000,000—our present wealth being estimated at $65,000,000,000. $2,500,000,000 are invested in public buildings, churches, colleges, charitable institutions, etc.

Come Together!

HOW THE SHARERS OF CIVILIZATION DEVOUR THE PEOPLE.

The following article by James Winnie of Grand Ledge, Mich., is worthy of serious consideration:

All governments are but a reflex of the intelligence of the people, as governments are made by the people; from the fact that it takes people to make governments, whether they be Empires, Kingdoms or Republics. The Czar of Russia is admitted by all intelligent men to be the greatest despot of the nineteenth century; but were all his subjects Nihilists, would it be possible for the Empire to exist with its restrictions upon the rights of the people?

If there be in these propositions the elements of truth, the student of history, either ancient or modern, can arrive at but one conclusion—namely, that mankind in all ages are peculiarly constituted, a shallow-minded lot of fools; wholly lacking in ideas and force; ever ready to follow some bellweather; willing to maintain emperors and empresses, kings and queens, dukes and lords, Generals and dishonorable—permit those who never added a dollar to the world's wealth, to accumulate and fatten on fabulous sums, not through or by honorable toil, but by preying upon the producers.

In spite of all the laws that man has made, in spite of all the advance in science, literature and art, the strong, the cunning, the heartless, still live upon the weak, the unfortunate and foolish. True, they do not eat their flesh, they do not drink their blood, but they live on their labor, on their self-denial, their weariness and want. The poor man who deforms himself by toil, who labors for wife and children through all his anxious, barren life, who goes to the grave without ever having had one luxury, has been devoured by his fellow-men.

The miners of Ohio and Pennsylvania, who during the past winter have subsisted on mush alone; the farmer, the laborer, all those who toil to-day that they may live to-morrow, are but choice morsels for the sharks of our civilization.

Time and time again have the people under the lead of a Gracchus rebelled against such conditions, yet history would again repeat itself, for when the excitement and surprise that had attended the inauguration of all great social and political revolutions had subsided, the people would permit some knave or robber, "chosen by the Grace of God and the Will of the People," to rule over them and freely consent to pay tribute and taxation of every kind until they were again impoverished; enabling the "royal" and "noble" few, and their heirs, forever to live in regal luxury and splendor upon the labor of the toiling many, instead of reserving to themselves the right to life, liberty and the profits of their labor.

The Declaration of Independence is a full recitation of the Omitting to tell the laborer that since 1800 10,000,000 of these "pauper laborers" have landed in the United States to compete with him for an existence.

If he be a democrat he will resurrect the spirits of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson and offer them to you as the exponents of the defunct democratic principles of that party. His voice is pitched to the tune of revenue reform; "a reduction of the revenues to the expenditures of the government" (reducing taxation $1 per capita, how much relief would that give the people!) And his honesty of purpose is best illustrated from the fact that the democrats had possession of the house of representatives for a period of fourteen years (1874 to 1888) and that no measure looking toward that result could ever pass that body.

The senate of the United States is under the immediate supervision of the capitalist himself. Forty-seven millionaire "Senators" enact all the laws required for their purposes.

To these men you have intrusted the control of your government, looking to them to protect your interests; you elevated them to positions of honor and trust by your votes. You, the people! How have they repaid you?

You have enacted laws on finance that have robbed the people at every turn; that have given to national banks alone 6,000,000,000 in 25 years. They have given to railroads more than 2,000,000,000 acres of the public domain, and over $100,000,000 in money.

They have increased federal and state taxation six-fold since 1860, and enacted a system of laws that takes only from 3 to 5 per cent of the annual savings of the rich, while taking from the poor their all. Of the whole $65,000,000,000 of wealth, only about 17,000,000,000 was assessed for taxation in 1889.

They have allowed men a monopoly of the natural means of production, transportation, communication and exchange; and have declared trusts, combinations and pools that control the prices of all classes of merchandise as "private affairs of the citizen with which government has no right to interfere."

They permit corporations to create hundreds of millions of wealth by watering their stock and then taking its value out of the people by increased rates of service.

They have given away $47,000,000 as premiums on bonds, and deposited your money in national banks to be loaned at from 8 to 12 per cent interest.

They have contracted the currency of the nation from $52.10 in 1866 to $5.07 per capita, the amount now actually in circulation, shrinking the value of your homes and farms and the products of your labor; increasing the burdens of debt and taxation.

They created gold for the bondholder, and purposely depreciated greenbacks for the musket-bearer and the plow-holder.

They have given you the public credit-strengthening act, demoralized silver, put through salary grabs, land steals, credit mobilities, increased the premium on United States bonds 29 per cent and decreased the values of all your property in that proportion.

All this in the enlightened nineteenth century, that boasts of the greatest advances ever made in history. Just think of it! Your free-republic that builds up a few thousand millionaires and makes paupers of millions, ruled over by intelligent people exercising the right of suffrage. Electing your servants to do your bidding in the halls of legislation, then consider with all your knowledge you are but repeating history; that the political corruption, the social rotteness, moral degeneracy, the industrial depression and impending ruin that now threaten the United States, are the elements that destroyed Greece and Rome.

If you desire to destroy the republic, make freemen serfs and slaves, you have but to continue giving the republican and democratic parties further leases of power. There is no difference between them; the money power dominates, owns and controls them. The Vanderbilts, Sages and Goulds, are equally intent upon destroying republican equality.

Have not the people been fools and idiots? Is it not time to turn the tide in favor of good government? Has not the time come when the farmer, the mechanic and laborer can dispense with the "statesman"? Is it not time for all labor organizations to lay aside caste, throw their aristocracy to the winds, and unite to obtain their portion of wealth created by their labor?

Has not the time arrived when the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, Patrons of Husbandry, Patrons of Industry, Nationalists, Knights of Labor, the Federation of Labor and Union Labor party, can come together and elect men to office who will enact into statute law their demands?

Capitalist—What surplus value?
Worker—The difference between the wages you pay me, and the value of the products I give you.

Capitalist—To whom does this capital, or "surplus value," as you term it, belong?
Worker—To the producer—to me.

Capitalist—If it belongs to you, why do you give it to me?
Worker—Because, alone, I cannot help myself; you have me "cornered."

Capitalist—"Cornered!" What do you mean?
Worker—You've shut the door of Nature's storehouse in my face. Enter I must, or die, and "capital" is the price I pay—it's "hands up" on my part!

Capitalist (indignantly)—Sir! Worker (submissively)—Master. If you want a good, light, spring wagon call on D. E. Dean, this office.

Pinkerton's men while guarding the New York Central at the Albany strike on the 17th shot several innocent parties. The police were amply sufficient to keep the peace and they say Pinkerton's needless assault on the people who happened to come near. A riot finally occurred between the police and Pinkerton's men and several men wounded.

The tendency of all the times is toward the amelioration of the condition of the working masses. Edward Bellamy's book, "Looking Backward," is found in the workshop on both sides of the Atlantic. It awakens responsive echoes in the hearts of millions of toilers. The spirit of revolt against corporate influences and political power is stirring far and near.—Frank Leslie's Newspaper.
