Madam Ruskin.

The mother of John Ruskin was a woman who, though she lived to the age of ninety years and was nearly blind, ruled her household and her son, with severe kindliness, to the last. Her old servant Anne, who had lived with the family almost from the time since it had become a family, sometimes proved a troublous dispensation to her, a fact which Mrs. Ruskin was not slow in acknowledging. John Ruskin writes of her:

"She had a very creditable and republican aversion to doing immediately, or in set terms, as she was bid; so that when my mother and she got old together, and my mother got very imperative and particular about having her tea-cup set on one side of the little round table, Anne would observantly and punctiliously put it on the other; which caused my mother to state to me every morning after breakfast, gravely, that if ever a woman in this world was possessed by a devil, Anne was that woman!"

Mrs. Ruskin had never any hesitation in speaking her mind. A certain clever young man was in the habit of regaling the company with extravagant tales, after dinner, but the old lady would throw down her knitting and exclaim:

"How can you two sit there and listen to such a pack of lies?"

When this lady "of the old school" died her son was left "with a surprising sense of loneliness." He had loved her truly, obeyed her strictly, and tended her faithfully. He buried her in his father's grave, and wrote upon it:

"Here beside my father's body I have laid my mother's; nor was dearer earth ever returned to earth, nor purer life recorded in heaven."

What Whisky Fetches.

"What is whisky bringing?" asked a dealer in that article one day. He meant to ask, how much is it selling for? A gentleman who heard the remark took it in an entirely different sense from that. "What is whisky bringing, do you ask? I will tell you. It is bringing men to prison and to the gallows, and it is bringing women and children to poverty and want." There never was a truer answer than this.

It is estimated that it sends to prison every year 100,000 men and women. 20,000 children are sent to the workhouse annually by drink. Three hundred murders are caused by intemperance every year. 200,000 children are made orphans every year by this dreadful evil, and 65,000 are killed by intemperance every year in this country. Does it seem possible that man will deal out to his brother such poisonous stuff when he knows that it will prove his ruin?—Exchange.

A seven-year-old Boston lad, "building better than he knew," invented the other day a new and exceedingly appropriate name for the ordinary run of city saloons. The little fellow knew that we bought tea at a tea-store, and boots at a boot-store. So this kind of unconscious analogy guided his speech. At the table the other day he broke out with the news: "I seed two men coming out of a drunk-store; ond one of 'em was oxticated." "Drunk store," the Boston Traveller recommends for general use as the more appropriate term for the regular business of such places.

Canon Wilberforce says regarding compensation to the liquor dealers for their vested interests: "I would as soon admit vested interests in smallpox. I would as soon compensate a cancer." Concerning the position of the Conservative party of England on the temperance question, he declared it reminded him of the Irishman who said of his wife, "When I took her she had not a rag to her back, and now she is covered with them."

The Grand Opera House in Paris has a large annual deficit, although it pays no rent. The loss on every Sunday performance is $1500.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Co. G, O. N. G., at Marshfield, is mustered out.

Wild geese have been going south for some days past.

Look out for Prof. Rork, and come and hear him whether you are friendly or not.

Don't fail to attend the F. A. & I. U. campmeeting at this place next Friday and Saturday.

The bay papers make the statement that Rev. Mr. Horsfall will continue to reside in that place.

Rev. C. R. Blackwell of Portland is the new minister appointed on this circuit by the M. E. conference.

The Methodist parsonage has been put in repair for the family of the new minister. J. S. Lawrence did the work.

Mrs. C. E. Bullard, of San Rafael, Cal., arrived on the Arago last week and will reside with her son, Clark Bullard, at Arago.

The floor-managers at the F. A. & I. U. ball next Saturday night, at Masonic hall, will be: C, Harrington, C. Strang, Nelse Lammy and W. H. Nosler.

A new form of postal money-order is to be issued at this date, but will not go into use at this office till the present supply of old ones are used.

Our fellow citizen, D. P. Strang, was taken down suddenly last week with cholera morbus and for two or three days suffered much. He has started on duty again, however.

A handsome residence is about being erected at Bandon for Mr. Clark, the president of the Woollen Mill company, and another for Mr. Palmer, the vice-president.

Mr. Dill, a banker from Idaho, spent several days in Bandon lately. He likes the realities and prospects of the county, and it is very probable he will locate there and commence business.

Frank Poore, formerly on this river and well known here, came from the bay and spent several days last week. He is looking well as ever—nothing poor about him except he is racked with rhumatism, poor fellow.

Judge Stewart, Mrs. Stewart and their daughter and two sons left Bandon on the Bandorille Friday, Sept. 22d, for Portland. They were greatly pleased with their visit, and say they will make our beach their great summer and health resort for the future.

An agent is wanted for the sale of "Bancroft's Book of the Fair" in Coos county. We are sure that for the right man there is money in handling this magnificent work. Any one desiring to do so may write to the publishers, The Bancroft Company, 723 Market street, San Francisco, Cal.

Coal—well we should say so. It is not only abundant, but the best on the Pacific coast and as good as the best in the city markets. This is what our co-operative mining company has struck less than a half a mile from our town limits. A tramway is being constructed to bring the coal down into town.

The government engineers, who have charge of the river and harbor improvements on our Oregon coast, say that in will require from $170,000 to $200,000 to complete the necessary improvements at the mouth of our river. It is intended to extend the present jetties out to deep water and thereby confine the outflow of our river between them. This will concentrate the volume of water that now spreads out on flowing past the present jetties, and it will possess such volume and force that the bar will be washed out by it into deep water, and we will then be rid of it forever. With this object in view a petition to congress will soon be circulated for signatures among the towns on the Coquille and we have no doubt but that the influential parties who have now taken this matter into hand will meet with a success that has not been previously expressed.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

The Women's Relief Corps Surprises Gen. Lytle Post, G. A. R.

Last Wednesday evening our Gen. Lytle Post, No. 27, G. A. R., comprising a handful of veterans who have survived the late war, met as usual to peaceably enjoy each other's presence, perform their routine business and then retire to their homes, but such was not their luck. There were times in their service they might have meditated the possibility of capture and being held under an unfriendly flag, exposed to suffering, starvation, disease and death, but the whirligig of time has wrought a change in their lives, and while they are still liable to being scooped, as suddenly, unexpectedly and completely as ever, the sting of chagrin, contempt and danger is removed, the flag of their love floats over them and they rather like it. The comrades had about proceeded to the point of adjournment, when a signal from the outside was given to the watchful sentinel Waltermier, who, on recognizing the same, was overpowered—by the gallantry and numbers of the enemy—and made no resistance. The camp of veterans surrendered, Comrade Sinclair being the first to throw up his hands, followed successively by Comrades Norton, Drane, Hill, Ed and Henry Nichols, Wickham, Goodman, Quick and Harrington, in turn, including a guest in the person of Comrade Russell of Oregon City, and lastly Post Commander W. H. Nosler—not one would rally to assert the privacy of the camp against the invading column.

THE WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS

Advanced victoriously—the wives, daughters, sisters and friends of the post—bearing aloft a new and beautiful banner, a present from the corps. The flag is a splendid pattern, of the latest design. The corps advanced to the post commander's stand, saluted and then ranged themselves to the left, facing the members. Here Comrade J. S. McEwen, who had been selected by the corps for the purpose and had accompanied that body, took the colors, addressed the post commander and then the comrades and made a brief presentation speech. The flag was taken by Post Commander Nosler, who briefly replied, thanking the ladies of the corps for their thoughtfulness, patriotism, fervor and faithfulness to the cause, and then the comrades, complimenting them upon receiving so needed and acceptable a present, concluding with an apostrophe to Old Glory. Hon. W. Sinclair complimented the corps and expressed his being surprised; other comrades also, G. W. Norton, H.H. Nichols and S. W. Harrington, greeted the gift and willingly surrendered to the stratagem of the corps.

At this juncture the commander dropped the gavel and dismissed the post for social communion. Then came a further surprise, a number of ladies going to the anteroom and putting on the coffee and tea, while others hauled out the tables and covers, loaded them down with sandwiches, pickles, pies, cakes, nuts, apples, candies, etc., and still others gathered about the organ, and with several comrades, sons and daughters of veterans, joined in "Tramp, tramp, tramp," "Marching through Georgia," and other of the old camp songs.

The "old boys," even while enjoying the songs, did not fail to "rally on the table" at the proper time.

The ladies of the corps who were present were: Mrs. W. Drane, Mrs. H. H. Nichols, Mrs. Geo. Wickham, Mrs. G. W. Norton, Mrs. D. P. Strang, Mrs. Charley Wickham, Mrs. Sheppard, Miss Edith Nichols, Miss Lucy Nichols, Miss Ray Collier, Miss Ora Sheppard, Miss Mary Nosler and Miss Lizzie Bergin.

After the lunch more songs and social chat were in order, as also an inspection and criticisms of the beautiful flag by the veterans. The evening passed most enjoyably, and the members of Gen. Lytle post will long remember their surprise and capture on the night of October 4, 1893.

An Important Invention.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Star says: In an office window on Howard street, opposite the end of New Montgomery, is a new marine propeller. Accompanying it is the following description. "Elford Propeller—Will propel a boat one-third faster than old style propeller of same diameter, with one-third less revolutions. No churning, no vibration, no vortex, no racing, creates no vacuum. New York to Liverpool in four days; San Francisco to New York via Cape Horn, in twenty days."

It is evident, from the whole design and construction of this machine that it is the work of a master in mechanics. Instead of the usual fish-tail pattern, it consists of eight flanges placed on the periphery of a broad wheel, at an angle of about 45 degrees with the line of motion. It is a working model, made in brass or bronze. It has been patented.

The question arises, why has not so important an invention been tested on a sufficiently large scale to ensure its adoption, if it is what it appears to be?

The answer to this may be, "vested interests." Like similar inventions in telegraphy, railroading, and other lines, those already interested in things as they are would rather pay for suppressing an invention than patronizing it.

A Medical Firm Gives Away Cash.

J. F. Smith & Co. of No. 255 Greenwich St., New York, the manufacturers of that favorite cathartic known as Smith's Bile Beans, have adopted a novel plan. They ask the individual buyers of Bile Beans to send their full name and address, with an outside wrapper from a bottle of Bile Beans (either size) to their office, and they give $5 for the first wrapper received in each morning's mail, and $1 for the 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th. Every day $10 in cash is thus sent to their correspondents. Ask for SMALL size

S. F. Star: There is a feature of the Dr. West case that, while it tallies well with all that is known about the man, is so indescribably revolting as to deserve special mention and special excoriation. This refers to his purpose of attempting to prove, probably by perjury, that the poor girl he murdered was a common prostitute. This he will do, not that it can serve him as a defense, but he hopes that if he can thus besmirch her character, there will be less public sympathy for the memory of the dead girl and less execration of him. It is too utterly horrible to contemplate; and the parties who engage in it and the judge who permits it ought to be dealt with without mercy. The earth ought to be rid of their presence.

The increase of Roseburg's indebtedness during the time from October 1, 1892, to September 8, 1893, was $5550.91, an average of nearly $550 per month.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
