W. PHILLIPS, Secretary, Empire City.

Before the law was written down with parchment or with pen; Before the law made citizens, the moral law made men.
Law stands for human rights, but when it fails those rights to give, Then let law die, my brother, but let human beings live.
—Rev. Miller Hageman.

The Mortgage.
Did you ever see a mortgage big?
It eats the farm, the cow and pig.
It eats the butter and the cheese, It eats the hives of honey bees, It eats the peach and apple trees,
The apple trees.

It eats the handsome two-year-old,
The two-year old;
The pretty golding must be sold,
He must be sold.
It eats the wheat, the oats and corn,
The farmer's heart with grief is worn,
His overalls are tattered and torn,
His overalls are tattered and torn,
Are tattered and torn.

It eats the duck and it eats the hen,
It eats the hen;
It comes in the dark, you know not when,
You know not when.
The farmer's wife is filled with sighs, It puts the teardrop in her eyes,
It steals her plums and apple pies, Her apple pies.

It makes her wear an old print dress,
An old print dress,
It fills her soul with great distress,
With great distress,
It hurts and injures every arm, She knows down in her bosom warm That's why the boys all leave the farm, They leave the farm.

Did you ever see a mortgage big?
A mortgage big;
It eats the goose, the colt, the pig,
The colt and pig.
It eats the haystack and the hen,
It makes a wreck of perch and pen,
And oh! it makes a wreck of men, A wreck of men!
—Toronto Globe.

Then and Now.
In 1870 the average size of a farm in the United States was 153 acres.

Sheep, hogs, cattle and horses have depreciated in the same proportion, while neither your notes nor interest, your tax nor the salary of your officials has decreased a particle. So, you see, it takes double the amount of the products of your labor to liquidate your obligations.
If you can't get this through your head, just keep studying until you learn it, or keep on voting with your "grand old party" till you are in the "poorhouse.—National Watchman.

Twentieth Century: The Brooklyn bridge is just ten years old.
The cities were allowed to build it for themselves, as capitalists saw no money in it. Fifteen thousand people crossed in one day ten years ago. One hundred and fifty thousand people crossed in one day last week. Its cable fare, reduced to two and one-half cents, provides a surplus revenue of half a million dollars. The bridge will last a thousand years and cost the people nothing. It is paying for itself as fast as its bonds can be redeemed.
Capitalists are now ready to build two more costly ones. They see money in it now. Do the people see anything?

Ralph Waldo Emerson: A man coins himself into labor; turns his day, his strength, his thought, his affections into some product which remains as the visible sign of his power; and to protect that, to secure his past self to his future self, is the object of all government. There is no interest in any country so imperative as that of labor.

"Watchman, What of the Night?"

Chairman Taubeneck, of the Populist national campaign committee, expects the Populists to cut a great figure in the approaching elections. He said to a newspaper correspondent recently that they have 309 candidates for congress in the field, which, he said, was a greater number than either of the old parties had yet nominated.
They have state tickets in every state where state elections are to be held, except in Rhode Island and South Carolina, the Tillman movement in the Democratic party in the latter state making the nomination of the Populist ticket there unnecessary.

"Our greatest gains," he said, "will be in the west and south. We will elect representatives from states in which we never succeeded before, notably Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. In thirty-seven of the fourteen states west of the Mississippi river, which have heretofore been Republican, the Populists will come out either in the first or the second place, and in most of these states the Democratic party will be in the position of a very insignificant third party."

Among states that Mr. Taubeneck is counting as certain to be carried by the Populists is Texas.

The Initiative and Referendum.
James O. Broadhead of Saint Louis, minister to Switzerland, recently said in an interview that he believed in the Initiative and the Referendum. He was very enthusiastic in his praise of Switzerland and declared that the country had the best system of government in the world.

"Better than our own?" he was asked.
"Well," was the emphatic reply,
"I should think so."
When a Cleveland appointee makes such a confession it seems high time everybody admitted it—The (Denver) Road.

The Road: The men who fought the war of the Revolution were Englishmen—English on both sides; but the English who fought on the American side were Americans, just as much so—and more so—than the native born of this age who condone the presence of English exploiters who live, thrive and progress on the ruins of American finances and industry.

The solicitor of the treasury has just decided that county bonds bearing interest may be issued to circulate as currency without becoming liable to the prohibitory tax of 10 per cent.

PATENTS
NOTICE TO INVENTORS.
There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the apparatus and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of the government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent.
Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially in this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at immense risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade-marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents.
Write for instructions and advice.

John Calvin was a cooper's apprentice.
The Corvallis Times says: When it comes to "hoofing it" Corvallis-maiden are strictly there. Just for exercise yesterday two of them, Mary Vaasberg and Ora Wells, measured out to Philomath and back. The distance covered is fifteen miles and the ramble occurred between two and half past six.
As a matter of diversion they wheeled J. H. Harris' infant through the round trip in his baby carriage. Rambles like this are nothing for Corvallis girls.

One of the principal campaign events of late might be noted the following: Thurston, Republican, and Bryn, Populist, rival candidates for U. S. senator in Nebraska, held a joint discussion at Lincoln.
Seven thousand people listened to them, and both speakers were at their best. Bryan contended for free silver, the income tax and the foreclosure of the mortgage on the Pacific railroads. Thurston opposed all these ideas. Both speakers were liberally applauded.

disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances, WIDOWS of such soldiers and sailors are entitled, if not remarried, whether soldier's death was due to army or navy service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled if the soldier's death was due to service.
CHILDREN are entitled (if under 16 years) in almost all cases where there was no widow, or she has since died or remarried.
PARENTS are entitled if soldier left neither widow nor child, provided soldier labored for service, or from effects of service, and they are now dependent upon their own labor for support. It makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy.
Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights.
Thousands of soldiers drawing from $2 to $10 per month under the old law are entitled to higher rates under new law, not only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but also for others, whether due to service or not.
Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not.
Survivors, and their widows, of the Black Hawk, Creek, Cherokee, and Seminole or Florida Indian wars of 1832 to 1842, are entitled under a recent net.
MEXICAN WAR SOLDIERS and their widows also entitled, if 62 years of age or disabled or dependent.
Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under later laws or not.
Rejected claim re-considered and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal.
Certification of service and discharge obtained for soldiers and sailors of the late war who have lost their original papers.
