Before the law was written down with parchment or with pen; Before the law made citizens, the moral law made men.
Law stands for human rights, but when it fails those rights to give, Then let law die, my brother, but let human beings live.—Rev. Miller Hageman.

Legislation for England.
Henri Waterson's paper, seconded by a Chicago paper, is mourning the disposition of congress to legislate for England and the inclination of the government to look to Great Britain for precedents. Here is a marvelous awakening from a Rip Van Winkle sleep. The government of the United States dare not sneez unless it knows that Queen Victoria has taken snuff. It dare not enter into a financial obligation, not even to the extent of signing a dollar bill, until it is sure that the people of Lombard street approve of it. In its relations to Great Britain there is not much difference between India and America. The principal point of difference is that if India does not consent to be raped financially, the British lion will chew her up, while on the other hand, if the United States resists, Great Britain will buy congress, or in some other way allure our honorable innocents into making infernal fools of themselves. In either case the old lady gets what she wants. She has taken from us millions of dollars to which she had no honest right and is taking millions more. What were once her thirteen American colonies are a soft snap for Great Britain. She no longer has any trouble in their government; they take care of themselves and pay their own expenses, while they are still tied to the apron strings of their mother, who draws a handsome revenue from them. It is taxation without representation now as never before. The English bought our bonds and then manipulated legislation concerning them until the profit was colossal; they buy up our industries and the laws are fixed so that they can get their profits in gold, and our brethren across the pond have had a rollicking time with us for 30 years. It has been fun for them but death to us; and with 30 years' record of legislation for great Britain by the Americans the distinguished Kentucky editor has just become indignant. It is another case of locking the door after the horse is stolen.—Farmers' Voice.

Judge Trumbull a Crusher.
Judge Trumbull did not stop to consider the fact that for every day in the last ten years there has been outstanding an average of at least $5,000,000,000 in notes or other evidences of indebtedness on real estate. He ignored the important circumstance that about half of this represents money remaining due on land which was purchased for a much larger aggregate, and that the other half represents money borrowed for the purpose of making different kinds of improvements—building houses in the cities, and fencing, stocking, draining, etc., on the farm. At the beginning of 1890 the total of these mortgage indebtedness was about $6,000,000,000.
Now the effect of the free coinage which Judge Trumbull asks for simply would be to enable the people who have borrowed this $6,000, 000,000 which they have promised to pay to keep possession of the land and all the improvements thereon, and yet pay only half as much as they had agreed to pay. Is that equitable?—Chicago Tribune.

It is not equitable. And it is not true. The effect of the free coinage which Judge Trumbull asks would be to prevent these borrowers from paying twice $6,000,000,000 to their creditors. Under the present gold standard the purchasing power of a gold dollar has been nearly doubled, and therefore it requires almost twice the amount of every commodity to obtain a dollar that it did at the time these debts were contracted.
Is that equitable?—Chicago Times.

No Bank There.

There was an eastern man with us in the stage as we were making a route in Kansas, and at noon as we stopped at a new town for dinner, he said to the landlord of the board shanty tavern:
"This seems to be a brisk sort of a town."
"Yes, she's gaining right along."
"Is there a bank here?"
"Regular bank?"
"Yes."
"Regular bank with president, cashier, and so on, where they receive deposits, give drafts on Chicago and so forth?"
"Yes."
"No, there isn't any such bank here now."
"Then there was one?"
"Yes, but it closed up. The president and cashier are here though."
"Then perhaps I could have a little talk with them before dinner?"
"Hardly. They are lying underground out here in my back lot."
"What! Dead?"
"As coffin nails."
"Sickness or accident?"
"Well, sort of betwixt. The bank tried to fail and pay 50 cents on the dollar, and boys turned out and hung 'em to that telegraph pole there, and divided the cash so that we got $1.10 apiece on our deposits.
If you want to start a bank, however, I'll—"
"Oh! no! no! I had no idea of it. I'm going on to Emporia to go into business."—Ex.

Crushed to Death.

Terrell, Tex., Nov. 3.—The most disastrous accident in the history of Terrell occurred here this morning. As the result of the collapse of an awning on a street which had assembled to witness Sells Bro's circus parade, four persons were fatally crushed and 100 others more or less seriously injured. On the awning of the Mississippi store an unusual large number of people had congregated to get a good view of the parade, 500 or more being on the awning and the sidewalk beneath was jammed.
The names of those injured, as far as can be obtained at this hour, are as follows:
Mrs. Lucinda Wright, injured

GENERAL NEWS.

KILLED HIS MOTHER AND FATHER.
Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Without any provocation, William Gipps, a railway car inspector, shot his mother to death and fatally wounded his father today. He escaped.

CREW OF THE LUCAS SAVED.
San Francisco, Nov. 5.—The steamer Homer has arrived from Yaquina with the crew of the wrecked brig, T. W. Lucas. The crew of the steamer saw distress signals flying at the masthead of the brig early on the morning of October 24, and the steamer was headed for the vessel. The men of the brig were then lowering a boat, and a few minutes later the crew of the Lucas was taken on board, almost dead from exposure and exhaustion. They had been on the deck of their vessel for six days and six nights, working at the pumps in their efforts to save the ship, but failed when port was almost within reach.

A Marriage Bureau Victim Sentenced to the Penitentiary.
Eugene, Or., Nov. 1.—In the Lane county circuit court, the state of Oregon vs. Duncan Scott, for adultery, Scott has been found guilty and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Defendant's attorneys have perfected an appeal and Scott is at liberty, pending the decision of the supreme court, on $500 bonds. This case is a most revolting one and involved Mrs.
Louisa Boff, the 20-year-old bride of one month and her 80-year-old husband, and is the result of a match made by one Horn and his wife who conducted a marriage bureau in Eugene.

Boff paid Horn $100 for his service and Horn and Scott were implicated in inducing Mrs. Boff, the young wife, to leave her spouse, when Scott and Mrs. Boff are alleged to have committed adultery.
Mrs. Boff was not indicted and was the state's principal witness, and it is upon the accomplice's testimony that Scott was convicted. Defendant's attorneys maintain that an undetected accomplice cannot testify against her paramour, and it is upon the admissibility of her testimony that the supreme court will be called to pass.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Weilston, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief.
It can always be depended upon.
When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by S. L. Len-ove, druggist.

Roseburg Review: The Coos bay stages are now running winter time and are allowed twenty-four hours in which to make the distance between Roseburg and Myrtle Point. They will not need so much time until the roads are worse than they are now.

A new Grand Army post is to be organized at Junction City.
