Before the law was written down with parchment or with pen;
Before the law made citizens, the moral law made men.
Law stands for human rights, but when it fails those rights to give,
Then let law die, my brother, but let human beings live.
—Rev. Miller Hageman.

Ambassadors' Strike.

The Western Laborer, published at Omaha, Neb., contains a rich article on the embassadors' strike recently inaugurated by Bayard, Eustis, Runyson, MacVeagh and Breckenridge:

Mr. Bayard, embassador to the court of St. James, is heading a strike of embassadors.

They receive salaries of $17,500 each per year—but they claim that it is impossible to maintain their dignity on this beggarly stipend and think that congress should increase their salaries to at least $50,000 each per year.

They threaten to resign and leave American dignity floundering in the mud.

They have been living riotously at their own expense, and now they want the government to pay the bills.

Mr. Bayard has organized the embassadors and held conferences, and presented their demands to congress.

The whole plea is from a social standpoint, an effort to sustain a royal dignity in the presence of royalty. We are inclined to refer to these princely strikers in words such as plutocratic papers have used toward striking American workmen, just to see how such words sound when the other fellow's ox is gored.

NOTES OF THE EMBASSADORS' STRIKE.

The embassadors be d—d. The salaries paid embassadors are already too large.

There is too much dignity in this country rather than too little.

The embassadores might be more amenable to the hard times if they had to earn their salaries.

The time is approaching when the people will find it necessary to abolish the whole embassadorial farce.

If a rifle diet is good for strikers, why not give the striking embassadors a dose or two?

Call out the army, the embassadors are on strike.

Bread and water is good enough for embassadors.

Now that the embassadors are on a strike, it is in order for the court to issue an injunction to stop the conspiracy to upset American dignity.

Lock up those embassadors who are not satisfied with their wages of $17,500 a year.

Wonder if they will save their money to buy guns?

We must get rid of salary gamblers.

There seems to be but one remedy—a change of ownership of government, and the establishment of an American government at home, without asking favors from any foreign power on earth.

We need an American common-people's government.

The dignity of labor at home is just as important as the prating of plutocracy in the court of St. James.

The old New England system of imprisonment for extravagance would be better than the present spoils system.

The best thing to do with an embassador who is stuck up is to throw them into a sewer.

Embassadors who are striving for an increase of wages should be firmly hit in the neck with a wet elm club that other spoil hunters might take warning.

Probably the simplest method of dealing with professional office-hunters would be to put a bulldog on guard at every door.

It would be a relief to the public mind if a few agitators of foreign dignity were taken out and carefully buried from human gaze forever.

A dollar a day is enough for an embassador.

Dictator Bayard should be imprisoned for conspiracy.

Start a soup-house for embassadors.

Put 'em on a rock pile with ball and chain.

Try them for interfering with foreign commerce.

They could get board in any of the capitals at $5 a week.

Let them drink cheaper whisky.

Let them wear everalls and save their Sunday clothes.

There is no sense in an embassadors living in Oriental magnificence, while 4,000,000 of the people whom he represents are homeless and hungry.

There are plenty of unemployed men to take their places. This is no time to strike.

There is an overproduction of embassadors.

Lack of confidence is what is the matter.

Put a tariff on foreign embassadors to protect American diplomats.

Let them go into the banking business on the Baltimore plan.—K. of L. Journal.

What Is An Injunction?

An injunction is a law which is found on no statute book.

A law which has never been voted on by any set of legislators.

A law which has never been signed by any governor or president.

A law which exists without the consent of the people.

A law which came into being as the will of one man.

An injunction is a law made by a judge;

And its penalties are fixed by the same judge;

And the offenders are tried before the same judge.

And the verdict is rendered by a jury of one man—the same judge.

And the sentence is pronounced by the same judge.

Now, dear reader, we hope you will take time to think whether there is not more in this trial and sentence of Mr. Debs than you ever dreamed of before.—Nevada Director.

North Fork Items.

March 11—Sunshine and warmth. Coos county can boast of fine weather and early gardens this year.

Vie Carter and Bertha Wood visited Coquille City last Tuesday, making the round trip in one day. They found the roads quite good for this time of year.

A host of young folks and friends gathered at Mr. Ingram's last Sunday and a good time was had. Mr. Ingram has not forgot how to tune the violin.

James Cotton and family of Curry county are over visiting relatives and friends and will reside with their brother Perry Hatcher awhile.

Miss Dollie Hatcher is among us once more, after an absence of several months to Curry county. We are happy to welcome you back, Dollie.

David Johnson has left this neighborhood for the lower river, where he goes to work in a logging camp. We will miss you, Dave.

Mr. Hammerlof intends making Empire City another visit soon. He is receiving medical treatment from Dr. Cook at that place.

Miss Corda Gordon is residing at the residence of K. H. Hansen at present.

A school meeting was held at the North Fork schoolhouse Monday, 4th inst., and we understand that Miss Lucy Black of Sumner was engaged to teach our school.

David and Sam Johnson of Coquille City started for said place Wednesday morning with a couple of beef cattle, but evening found the cattle at home. "There's no place like home." Don't know where the boys took up at.

With best wishes and success to the HERALD,

NOBODY'S DARLING.

Reports from New York fashionable society are not encouraging. A woman was arraigned in Jefferson market the other day charged with intoxication. A policeman had picked her up on West Twenty-fifth street, and deposed that she was unable to take care of herself. She was fined $5 which she promptly paid, and left the court in a swell private carriage under the care of a maid. She was recognized in the courtroom by several persons as the wife of a millionaire and prominent in society.

GENERAL NEWS.

HOW THE BRETHREN LOVE EACH OTHER.

Indianapolis, Mar. 11.—Lieutenant Governor Nye ruled today that the senate could not pass any bills as it was the last day of the session. Governor Matthews protested, saying that he had three bills before the senate which ought to be acted upon. Nye replied, "I don't care a d——for your bills."

THE OTHER ONE ALSO.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 11.—In the legislature today a resolution to give the Grand Army a room in the state house gave the opportunity for Senator Parker (Democrat) to denounce Secretary Hoke Smith as the "most universally despised and contemptible man in the Democratic party."

THE ARMOR OF THE OREGON.

Washington, Mar. 11.—The navy department accepted 315 tons of Harveyized nickel-steel armor, nearly half of the side armor for the battleship Oregon, made by the Carnegie Steel company, as the result of a trial of an 18-inch plate at Indian Head today. The plate received two shots from a 12-ton gun. The first was sent at a velocity of 1046 feet per second and smashed to pieces on the face of the plate, which was scaled a little at the point of contact, but was not cracked. The second shot had a velocity of 1926 feet. This penetrated nine inches and then broke up, but it cracked the plate from top to bottom. The plate, however, was pronounced to be of good quality.

(Coos Bay News.)

The school bonds have not yet been floated. The first and second most favorable bids refused to make good their offers. This will cause a delay in building.

Engineer Nicholson returned from the Coquille, Saturday, having located a 1500-foot spur at Gilman's for Dean & Co's logging camp. He left for Myrtle Point on Monday, to do the necessary surveying for a turntable.

The tug Katie Cook, of Rogue River, arrived Sunday en route to Yaquina, where she goes to be inspected. C. E. Edwards formerly of the bay, is engineer on her, and many friends here were glad to meet him.

The Marshfield postoffice, owing to increase of business, has been designated an international office, to take effect in April. This gives the office a better rating, but whether or not it increases clerk hire we are unable to say.

Oregon's Governors.

Following is a list of Oregon's governors of all kinds: Provisional governor, George Abernethy; 1st territorial governor, Joseph Lane; 2d territorial governor, John P. Gaines; 3d, Joseph Lane, who qualified and resigned; 4th, Geo. L. Curry, by virtue of office as secretary; 5th, John W. Davis, qualified and resigned; 6th, Geo. L. Curry, as secretary, and later appointed; 1st governor of state, John Whittaker; 2d, Addison C. Gibbs; 3d, Geo. L. Woods; 4th, L. F. Grover; 5th, S. F. Chadwick, as secretary of state; 6th, W. W. Thayer; 7th, Z. F. Moody; 8th, S. Pennoyer; 9th, W. P. Lord.

The taxes to be paid in Douglas county this year for all purposes amount to $121,000. Taking out the special school and city taxes, the amount is about $108,000, some $7000 more than last year. The levy is 23 mills against 20 for last year.

In all districts in the state of Oregon with a population of 1000, any citizen of this state shall be entitled to vote at a school meeting who is 21 years of age, and has resided in the district thirty days immediately preceding the meeting, and who has property in the district upon which he or she pays tax.

Fish and Game Protector McGuire is in receipt of a number of letters from people living along Rogue river, complaining that R. D. Hume, who conducts an extensive salmon-packing establishment near the mouth of the river, at Gold Beach, has again completely obstructed the mouth of the river by putting in fish racks.

Corvallis Times: Prof. J. B. Horner, of the O. A. C., is in receipt of a diploma of "honorable mention," from the managers of the World's Columbian exposition. The award is in acknowledgement of assistance rendered by Prof. Horner in arranging the school exhibit at the world's fair, and in years to come, will be a prize memento of a most extraordinary event.

The tall girl mused aloud. "What," said she "can I do to bring the count to his knees at my feet?" The short girl laughed a hollow, wan little laugh, with a dash of bitterness in it. "Suppose," said the short girl, "you drop a dime on the floor."

PATENTS

NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the appurtenances and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of the government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade-marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives especial attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents.
