SUCCESSFUL CO-OPERATION.

How the Work Progressed in Kansas—Summary of Fifteen Years' Business.

The most notable success in cooperation in Kansas is the Johnson County Co-Operative Association, located at Olathe. It was organized June 14, 1876, at the height of the wave of enthusiasm for co-operation created by the Patrons of Husbandry. Unlike most efforts of the kind, the prime mover in this society was a man thoroughly imbued with the true principles of co-operation, and who was also experienced in business matters as well as in farming—W. H. Toothaker, then master of the Kansas State Grange, who was president of the association for nearly ten years.
He was succeeded in the management by H. C.
Livermore who is still retained. These cooperators also operate the Patrons' Co-Operative bank at the same place.

From the outset the Rochdale plan was followed in its purity, including actual cash transactions to the fullest possible extent. Credit was allowed not to exceed $30, and never in excess of the member's share of capital, against which such credit was a lien.
The only exception was on farm machinery, for which when necessary short time notes were taken from those in whose credit the management has perfect confidence. The store was opened July 27, 1877, with $800 of cash capital paid in by the 60 members, which has since grown to $100,000 held by 700 members.
From the start full retail prices were maintained with very little cutting, and the same price was charged to all customers. Purchases were kept account of by issuing metallic checks to purchasers at the time purchases are paid for. These checks are in denominations of 5, 10, 25 and 50 cents and $1, $2, $5 and $25.
The dividend is based on the $5 and $25 check issued during the quarter.

It will be seen that progress has been steady, notwithstanding the recent agricultural depression which has brought down a partial falling off in business. The dividends have ranged from 6 to 10 per cent on the cash sales for the whole fifteen years, besides a large surplus has been accumulated.
The sinking fund is $29,000. The association has a stock of goods valued at $60,000, has six branches at other points in the county, and is about to start the seventh. There are three branch stores in the county covering a stock of goods of about $7000 each—Edgerton, Stanley and Gardner. The sales in fifteen years have been $3,000,000 and now average $1000 a day.

Whereas the main store occupied only a small rented room at first, it now occupies a magnificent building which was built and equipped at a cost of $50,000. It is three stories high, 118x126 feet. The business requires all the four stores on the first floor—one for hardware and agricultural implements, another for groceries and meats both fresh and salted, a third for gentlemen's furnishing goods both custom made and in the cloth, and the fourth the ladies' furnishing department. In the second story some offices are rented. There is also storage room for goods and the printing and publishing house of the Kansas Patron, the official organ of the State Grange, which is owned and published by the association. To its editor, Geo. Black, we are indebted for much information, who states that the association owns all the real estate in which it does business. Seventeen clerks are em-

Improvement of Coos River.

Capt. T. W. Simmons, United States engineer, has submitted a report upon the survey of Coos river. In his report he says that the obstructions to navigation were found to consist of snags and boulders.
In making the survey, every snag observed was located, and it was found that there were 800 of them. This number of snags necessarily varies, some being washed away and others being brought in. There were found to be five boulder shoals, the boulders having been brought down by slides in the steep tributary ravines. The plan of improvement proposed consists in removing all snags which are troublesome or liable to soon become so, and to clear the boulders from the channel through the shoals 50 feet in width. For doing this it is proposed to borrow from the plant used in the improvement of the entrance to Coos bay such as can be used to advantage in the work of snagging, or boulder removal, at such times as it can be spared. It may also be found advantageous to use the dredge to be built for improving the upper harbor of Coos bay. In making this estimate of cost, therefore, no provision is made for the purchase of a new plant. It simply covers the adapting of plant on hand to the end in view, and the actual expense of doing the work. Captain Simmons estimates that $5000 will be necessary for the work.

We regret not having been able to visit this institution, but Edwin Snyder, in a paper before the Kansas Board of Agriculture, speaks of its effects upon the members as follows:
"In my travels among the farmers I have not met a community where there was so much evidence of thrift, intelligence and enterprise, as among the members of the Johnson Co-Operative Association. The habits of thrift, economy, foresight and calculation, which the successful conduct of a co-operative store involves and requires, cannot fail to be of signal advantage to its members. If this association has $150,000, which it jointly owns, doubtless the members have individually, outside the company, more property than they would have had in the absence of this enterprise. This single concern has increased the wealth of the state $150,000, and at the same time assigned this wealth to a worthy and deserving class of people."

A recent visitor remarks: "I confess that I was surprised at the amount of business done by this institution. Never, in any town of 3500 inhabitants, have I witnessed so complete a system of trade. Everything was in perfect order, and everybody, from clerk to manager, was busily employed, and the whirl of the cash carriers was convincing proof, even though one was blind and could not see the throng of customers, that an immense amount of business was being transacted. Most of the employees are farmers' sons and daughters, who were taken from the farm and given employment as the business of the association increased or demanded extra help. That this cooperative enterprise is a credit to the energy and intelligence of the members of the grange in Johnson county, no one who visits it for a moment doubts. Those 700 granges are today worth $150,000 more than they would have been had they never undertaken this co-operative work. Yet by it no one has been wronged in the least, just as many people have been given employment, and the profits of trade have been fairly divided among those who made it."

Mr. Livermore, the manager, suggests that sixty shareholders are enough to start with. They should be men who will work for the good of the society—not political tricksters with axes to grind, not dishonest men, not men who do not get along peacefully with their neighbors, or who have a disposition to rule or ruin. He also warns shareholders who think they "know it all" and only know but little, who will not peaceably abide by the will of the majority, who will not trade with the society and encourage others to trade with it."—Herbert Myrick's "How to Co-Operate."

Signal Triumphs Won By Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

Two signal triumphs have been achieved by Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. First it received highest awards and diploma at the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893. Next it secured highest award and gold medal at the California Midwinter Fair of 1894. At both fairs it surpassed all competitors in every respect. The reward in every instance, was for strongest leavening power, perfect purity and general excellence. It was sustained by the unanimous vote of the judges. The victory at Chicago establishes the supremacy of Dr. Price's as "The Foremost Baking Powder in the World." The triumph at San Francisco confirms and emphasizes it.

William Hunter, 85, and Mrs. McIntyre, 59, were married at Brownsville Thursday.

New York is about to have another census of her citizens. She seems to enjoy that performance as hugely as "California Jack," one of the most famous miners and scouts of the Pacific coast and Rocky mountain country, was convicted last Saturday, at Deadwood, S. D., in the United States court for perjury in a Mexican pension claim. When the verdict was read the old man broke down, but still insisted on his innocence.

Captain Charles Gale, now a resident of Sombre, Ontario, was born in old Fort Dearborn, Chicago's historical fort, in 1817, and spent several years of his boyhood there.
"There was only one log store at the settlement in those days," he says. "Sugar was 20 cents a pound, nails 30 cents, raisins 50 cents, and calico 60 cents a yard."

Sam Jones believes in the Keeley cure. "Whenever I meet a fellow," says Sam, "who wants to be cured of something, I send him to Christ; when I meet one who doesn't want to be cured of anything but whisky, I send him to Keeley. Christ is not a specific doctor. He does not cure a fellow of anything else. So when a man comes to me and says he wants to be cured of everything, I tell him he wants Christ; if he only wants to get rid of whisky, I say 'Keeley is your man.'"

West Oregonian: Chas. Thomas, of Sandy creek, was in town Wednesday on business at the commissioner's office relative to a land contest he is having with the California & Oregon Railroad Co. over a place that was settled upon before that railroad was built. Mr. Pigeon, who has been living on a place three miles east of town for about three years, and one that W. H. Bunch had filed a homestead on several years ago, has just found out that the company received a patent to his land in 1893. This is downright robbery, as the locators of the railroad land visited Mr. Pigeon's place and told him at that time that the railroad company did not claim his land, and he felt perfectly safe until he offered his filing at the land office two weeks since and he was refused a filing. The matter will be investigated.

Residing near Spencer, Ind., is "Uncle" Jimmy Calver. He was born near Baltimore on March 4, 1789, and is therefore 106 years old. He has been married four times and is the father of 14 children. Eleven of them are dead. Every one died of consumption, as have eight of his grandchildren.

Lewistown (Pa.) Free Press: The discrepancy in sentences imposed upon criminals is very noticeable sometimes. For instance, at Norristown a poor colored man was last week convicted in court of stealing several chickens, value not over $10, and was sent to the penitentiary for four years, while in Perry county recently bankers Spousler and Junkin, whose bank collapsed after being insolvent for 18 years, the creditors losing $112,000, were sentenced to the penitentiary for one year each. We recall similar cases here, where poor Billy O'Brien was sent to the penitentiary for three years for stealing into a drugstore cellar and putting himself in a stupor with liquor and perhaps carrying some off, while other sentences show a wide contrast to his.

General Cockrell is the tallest man in the United States senate, unless Senator Lindsay of Kentucky beats him in attitude.

Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days, or over, in the late war are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances, to pensions. Widows of such soldiers and sailors are entitled (if not remarried) whether soldier's death was due to army service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled if the soldier's death was due to service.

MEXICAN WAR SOLDIERS and their widows also entitled, if 62 years of age or disabled or dependent. Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under later laws or not. Rejected claims reopened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal. Certificates of service and discharge obtained for soldiers and sailors of the late war who have lost their original papers. Send for law and information. No charge for advice. No fee unless successful. THE PRESS CLAIMS CO., JOHN WEDDERBURN, Managing Attorney, Washington, D. C.
