WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The celebration of the 4th at San Francisco was very brilliant, but it was made up largely of military display instead of civic, industrial and literary progress. The U. S. military stationed at that post, the state militia — national guard — school cadets, Roman Catholic church military organizations, uniformed civic societies, fire department, etc., made the bulk of the procession. We observe a peculiarity, especially in the make up of the 10th division, which not only magnifies the trend of the times toward militairism, but exposes a feature that, Judas like, is "denied with an oath"—that of the trained soldiers of the church. We copy from the S. F. Call of July 5th this account of the make up of the

This is 5 per cent better than the other fellows. He never shut down during those piping times of high "protection;" never locked-out his employes; never threw boiling water on them; never enclosed his works with wires charged with electricity; never shot them down like dogs with gatling guns—but has always treated them well and speaks a good word for them on all occasions. ### Terrible Accident.

Wednesday of last week Miss Ella Schroeder and her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Schroeder, of Arago, drove to Myrtle Point to do some shopping. Mrs. George Schroeder had her baby with her. They had returned in the evening as far as Alex Stauff's, about half a mile from their home, when their horse began kicking and started on a runaway. Miss Ella was driving, but had no control of the horse, and the roughness of the road caused her to be thrown out, taking the lines with her. The horse continued to kick and dashed along at a furious rate. Mrs. Schroeder was helpless and was looking for a spot in which to pitch her baby, when the buggy struck a stump and broke the wheels; at which moment Mrs. Schroeder pitched her child and was herself thrown from the vehicle to the side of the road. The horse dashed along the road, leaving pieces of the buggy strewn all along, arriving at home with but a bit of the harness on him. Miss Ella was found to have her right ankle fractured and some bruises on her person, while Mrs. Schroeder had suffered a fracture of both wrists, a dislocation of one shoulder, a severe bruise on one hip and on one side of her face. The baby, almost forgotten in the excitement, escaped miraculously, having a slight cut above one eye, but no other hurt of any importance.

The family physician, Dr. Reader, was absent; Dr. Leep was summoned, but refused to respond; when Dr. Ransom was called and ministered to the present needs of the injured parties. The regular physician attended later.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Laird, parents of Mrs. Schroeder, were at Myrtle Point attending the festivities of the Eastern Star when the accident occurred, but soon came home on learning of the accident. Judge Schroeder was at the bay at county court and was duly notified by telephone.

The accident was a very serious one and caused much anxiety among the many friends of the injured parties in this locality. The latest information is to the effect that the wounded persons are resting as well as could be expected.

DEATH ON THE RAILROAD.

Andrew Swansen the First Man Killed on Our C. B. Railroad.

Last night—Monday, July 15, 1895—an accident occurred on the track of the C. B. R. railroad, about a mile below this city, at the McQuigg switch. The person killed was a brakeman, named Andrew Swansen. It occurred about 10 o'clock at night, while some flat-cars were being sidetracked at the place named above.

The body was picked up and brought to this place, and this morning an inquest was held, Justice J. H. Cecil conducted the inquest, and swore in the following persons as jurymen: N. Lorenz, Robert McCleary, John W. Koon, M. McDonald, D. S. Johnson, C. M. Wickham. The jury viewed the body, and found upon his person, an open-faced, silver Waltham watch, which stopped at seven minutes to 10 o'clock. There was also $18.80 in money—three gold $5 pieces, two $1 silver pieces, three half dollars and three 10 cent pieces. There was also a memorandum book, a pocketknife, a bunch of small keys, badly broken up, a bunch of door keys, four cigars, etc. He was a large man, and had on dark clothes.

Witnesses W. H. Bowlsby, conductor on the train, H. B. Ring, fireman, Alexander Wilson, engineer, Alfred Morras (of Morras Bro's) and G. T. Robinson of Arago, the two latter having been passengers on the train, and Dr. Walter Culin of this city were examined. The facts as stated above were made known, and the fact of the man's age being about 24 years. Dr. Culin's testimany was to the effect that Swanson's back had been broken; he was badly crushed about the abdomen, his feet were badly crushed, and that these injuries were sufficient to cause his death.

The jury returned the following verdict:

"That the name of the person killed is Swansen, a native of Sweden, aged about 24 years. That he came to his death on Monday, the 15th day of July, 1895, at or near a switch on the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern Railway & Navigation Co's track at or near McQuigg's place, in the county of Coos, state of Oregon. That the deceased, Swansen, came to his death by means of being run over by the cars on the track of said railroad. That the death of said Andrew Swansen was accidental, and no person is guilty of any crime thereby.

Developing Coast Trade.

It is the intention of the owners of the Bandorille to establish and maintain regular monthly sailing dates for the steamer and to make a determined effort to build up trade between Portland and the coast ports. To this end, the Bandorille on its present trip down, stopped at Tillamook, Yaquina bay, Olsen, Florence, Gardiner, Coos bay and the Coquille. She goes on to San Francisco, and will return the last of the month, returning again about August 1. Another systematic effort is thus to be made to enable Portland jobbers to furnish goods regularly and at stated times to these ports. With proper co-operation, the venture could undoubtedly be made to succeed. What the outcome will be, can only be surmised and will depend, of course, upon the interest shown by the commercial element.—Oregonian.

Notice to Dairymen.

"I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by Dr. S. Crop and farming utensils go with the place; some hogs, cattle and sheep also—if sold soon.

Extensive arrangements are being made by the G. A. R. post at Marshfield to have the district encampment a success. As one of the days for encampment included a Sunday, there was a disposition on the part of some to have nothing to do with it, but the committee in charge propose to do no violence to the religious opinions of the christian professing veterans, and have that day set apart for religious services and addresses rehearsing the charitable and humane work of the churches, the christian commission, the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations during the war. Governor Lord, Chief Justice Bean and other prominent citizens are expected to be present. The grounds will be nicely arranged and lit up with electric lights at night.

WARNING TO FARMERS—There is on the ranch of M. J. Krantz a weed of new variety for this country. One Mr. Ketch says it is the "dog daisy." It resembles the dog fennel blossom, but is about three times as large as that of the fennel and three feet tall. They blossomed but a small bunch on Mr. Krantz's place two years ago, and there are about two acres covered now. It takes everything where it grows. On Joe Radabaugh's place is more of the same pest, and below your city we saw more. Mr. Ketch informs us if it gets a good start here it will be the worst pest the farmers ever had in the shape of vegetation. We think the seed is scattered by birds. "A stitch in time saves nine," therefore it would be well to destroy this pest before it gets too big a start. DON REX.

How to Cure Yourself While Using Tobacco.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want, while taking Baco-Curo; it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guaranty to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke.
